Much Interested In Quincy's Points of Historical Interest

There were a large number of Old Home Week pilgrims in town Wednesday, but not nearly as many as the day before. Neither were there as many Quincy people about as on Tuesday. Quite a few strangers tried the door of the First church and seemed disappointed that they could not get in.

The Dorothy Q house and the birthplaces of President John Adams and President John Quincy Adams were open as on Tuesday, and while they had a number of visitors there was no such a jam as on Tuesday.

The rooms of the Board of Trade were opened but there were but few callers. A committee was at hand to receive those who called.

Although the offices in City Hall were closed the bureau of information in the hall was open, and City Messenger Tirrell was on duty to give information. At the Quincy depot from 9.50 until after 3 o'clock were several young ladies, wearing guide badges, ready to pilot sightseers about the city. These young ladies were: Miss Hannah Litchfield, Miss Maude Dyer, Miss Mildred Rogers, Miss Ella Packard, Miss Minnie Packard and Miss Nina Bates. They were as charming a group of young ladies as would be seen in a day's travel, but most of the visitors were not looking for guides. The majority of them wanted to see the First church and felt disappointed that it was not open. Still the young ladies were there, and gave information, and acted as guide for all who desire their ser-

Famous Englishman Coming.

Announcement has been made that Rev. J. Stewart Holden, of London, is to be a speaker at Northfield during August. This is his first visit to the conference, and as he is prominent in all religious, circles in England, he will be a decided addition to the platform here.

Mr. Holden is pastor of St. Paul's chapel, Portman square, London, and has preached in the famous St. Paul's cathedral. His predecessor, Dr. Griffith Thomas, was well known at Northfield. He is a leader in all the evangelical work of the Church of England, and of special prominence at the great interdenominational conventions at Keswick. As a representative of that body he has visited the mission fields of China, Japan and India, and has also been active in preaching on the continent. He is closely allied with the Young Men's Christian Association work, and aided in developing the associations of Palestine and Egypt. In educational circles he has also been prominent, so that he has been invited to preach at

PARADE THE GREAT EVENT

"NEW ENGLAND DAY"

Ten Thousand Persons In Line Representing the Army, the Navy and Trades--Elaborate Fireworks Display at Dedication of Bridge

Boston, Aug. 1.-When Boston's Old Home week officials selected the name "New England day" for yesterday's features they showed considerable foresight, for it was certainly New England's day. Advertised as the "big" day of the week, thousands poured into the city by trolley and steam cars from early morn until the noon hour, for the purpose of witnessing the biggest attraction of the week-the civic and 538 Tremont Building, Boston trades parade. With that veteran fighter and soldier, Lieutenant Genera Miles, as its commanding officer, it was an incentive to crowd the streets, and it is doubtful if there have been many processions in Boston ever witnessed by more people.

To most people, especially those from a distance, the greatest attraction was the marines and bluejackets and their swinging step evoked much enthusiasm. The military bodies also came in for much applause. Vice Presdent Fairbanks, who rode in a carriage with Boston's mayor, was not forgotten, neither was the mayor himself. Both were kept howing from the time the parade started until they left their carriage at the reviewing stand in Tremont street.

It is many years since Boston has had a civic and trades parade and the novelty was greatly enjoyed by Bos tonians as well as the visitors.

The city's features were in the second division, and most of the exhibits were came in the fifth-the last divisionand they were elaborate in conception. It is estimated that fully 10,000 were

The new $3,000,000 bridge connect ing Boston and Cambridge was dedi cated last night with an elaborate dis play of fireworks, a boating carnival on the river, band concerts at both the Boston and Cambridge ends of the bridge and the extensive illumination of the new structure.

The dedicatory exercises on the bridge were participated in by Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston, Mayor Wardwell of Cambridge, the bridge commission and many other officials. The fireworks were then set off from two floating is two rival manufacturers of fireworks for a prize ensuring an unusual display. The new bridge was a solid mass of in terested humanity, while both shores of the river for a mile above the bridge were densely packed with thousands of people watching the display. On the river were craft of all descriptions bearing parties, many of the vessels being beautifully decorated.

The new bridge, which stands on the former one made famous by the poet Longfellow, and for whom it is sug gested it be named, was begun July 23, 1900. The extreme length is 3700 feet. The centre arch is 26 feet above high water, allowing the passage of coa barges and small craft. The structure is unusually well lighted, and one of its features which contribute to its reputation as one of the most beautiful bridges in the world are immense seals of both cities, which adorn the upper side of the middle of the bridge.

Alleged Slayer of His Child New York, Aug. 1.-Anton Lange, 56 years old, who is charged with the murder of his 10-year-old daughter, Maria, at their home in Brooklyn, was brought here last night from Pittsfield, Mass., where he was arrested. Lange disappeared on April 1 last. On the same day the child's body was found with the throat cut. Before death the gir had been horribly mistreated.

STABBED IN SHOULDER

Shrewsbury, Mass., Aug. 1 .- Henry T. Harrington, a farmer of this town was stabbed last night by one of three men in an automobile which collided with a team owned by Harrington

The farmer was wounded in the shoul der, but his condition is not serious. Three unknown men in an automobile said to belong to the schoolhouse de partment of the city of Boston collided with a wagon driven by a farmhand is Harrington's employ, near the farmer's house. The automobile was badly damaged and was abandoned.

During an argument between the men in the car and the farmhand, Harrington left his house and went to the assistance of his employe. The discussion led to an encounter, one of the strangers drawing a knife and stabbing Harrington. Harrington's son went to the assistance of his father and saved him from further injury. The three unknown men escaped on foot.

Interesting Mimic War

Boston, Aug. 1 .- After three hours of rapid fire work on the part of a hostile fleet and heavy cannonading from harbors last night, honors were declared practically even between the Writing Paper, 5c. per box, land and sea forces in the mimic war being waged. Two battleships were theoretically sunk with all on board, Fort Andrew was surprised by landing parties in the rear and captured, a landing party was successful in reach ing the shores of Winthrop and evading three companies sent to capture it. and the bombardment from Fort Strong was declared insufficient to withstand the approach of two battleships which entered Nantasket roads.

Temperance People Pleased Old Orchard, Me., Aug. 1 .- During Temperance society a telegram anlegislature of a prohibitory liquor law. The prayer and praise service was changed into a meeting of general conthe announcement with tears and handclapping, while the leaders on the platform clasped hands enthusiastically.

Appeal to Supreme Court appeal has been taken to the supreme court of Rhode Island in the case of Dust Pans, 4c. Chief Yeoman Buenzle of the United Amusement association. The appeal is from decisions of the district court and superior court adverse to the sailor, who brought suit because while wear ing the naval uniform he was ejected from a dance hall.

Valuable Find In Gutter Boston, Aug. 1 .- Chief Inspector Watts of the Boston police department while inspecting the work of his detectives among the crowds attendant upon Old Home week, discovered a long envelope in the gutter on Tremont street which was being trampled upon and kicked about. Picking it up and examining the contents, he found two gold negotiable coupon bonds, valued at $3000.

Fire Caused Three Deaths Cambridge, Mass., Aug. 1.-David McGlashen, the father of the two children who were killed in a fire in their home Tuesday night, died yesterday as the result of his injuries received at the same time. Euphemia, an 8-year old daughter, who was also badly burned, is still in a dangerous condition The cause of the fire was the accidental overturning of a lamp.

Neighbor Asked to Chip In Salem, Mass., Aug. 1 .- The city gov ernment passed a resolve last night making a formal demand upon the town of Peabody for $150,000 as Peabody's share of the cost of construction of the Salem trunk sewer. This action marks the completion of the sewer which runs from Peabody to Salem, emptying at a point about two miles

Trains Blocked by Boulder Crawford Notch, N. H., Aug. 1 .- A monster rock, the size of a freight car tumbled down onto the tracks of the Fabyan railroad. A train had gone down the track but half an hour before. The big boulder fell squarely across the rails. Traffic on the road was delayed during most of the day.

Fifty-Two Prostrated by Heat Boston, Aug. 1.-There was a total of 52 heat prostrations throughout the city yesterday, the record for the summer to date. This includes 30 cases of prostrations during the Old Home week parade.

Provincetown's Celebration

Washington, Aug. 1.-The second and third divisions of Admiral Evans' fleet are to be present at Provincetown, Mass., on Aug. 20, when the anni versary of the signing of the compact on board the Mayflower and the founding of Provincetown is to be celebrated. President Roosevelt will leave Oyster Bay on the yacht Mayflower for Provincetown Aug. 19.

SERVICEABLE BAGS.

How They May Be Made Out of Remnants For Home Use.

After the sewing season there are always odd scraps left that are seemingly worthless, yet can be inexpenlively made up into dainty and useful articles for decorating the home, if one only knows how.

Take a square of white elderdown, a material likely to be on hand in any house where there is a baby. It is the very thing to make finto a carriage robe for spring and early summer use. The corners should be rounded off and then all four sides bound with strips of wash silk, fine printed organdy or any other washable fabric. Featherstitching in a dainty color may be added to this binding. A second square of wash goods lin-

Quince Juice For the Skin. Society girls in one of the smartest for beauty purposes. One of them heard recently that the juice of that comparatively rare fruit was excellent for the complexion, and she communicated the information to her chums without loss of time. As a natural consequence a demand for quinces instantly became apparent in that part of the city where the experimental young persons live, and now their relatives are awaiting anxiously the results of the tests. It is not divulged how the juice is to be taken, whether internally or externally. Almost any fruit is good for the complexion when eaten, but it's a question how far quince juice will benefit the skin hue and texture when applied from outside. To the credit of the experimenters, be it said they are not attempt ing to spread the idea without waiting to try its effects on themselves. experimenting, precisely as the selfish to have her shoes broken in by needy indeed to resort to them for help. FIVE OTHERS ARE ARRESTED

Merchants Who Gave Police Infor mation Agree to Appear Against Alleged Blackmailers--Sequel to Murder of Wealthy Rug Merchant

New York, July 30 .- Father Levont Martgoossian, the Armenian pries whose name has been associated with the Hunchakist society, was arrested

Father Martgoossian is charged with attempted robbery, it being alleged that a year ago he attempted to blackmail several Armenian merchants of New York out of sums ranging from $1000 to Long term rates furnished on applica-$20,000. Others arrested last night and tion. held are Nicholas Malick, Sourain Souranian, Tapgoos Tappasian, Aotiak Ashjian and Sarkis Asseppian. These five were charged with being suspiciou characters. Tappasian is the proprie tor of the Ararat cafe, where Martgoossian made his headquarters. Souranian is the editor of an Armenian of Tavshanjian by Hampartzoomian in Union square, following the merchant's refusal to contribute to Armenian revolutionary funds. After considerable trouble the authorities succeeded in securing from several well known Armenian mer chants the names of men who, the merchants say, have attempted to blackmail them. The merchants at first refused to divulge the facts, fearing that they would suffer the same fate as overtook Tavshanjian, but when A concrete building is being erected they were promised full protection by the police they finally told the name: of the alleged blackmailers, it being agreed that the men wanted should be arrested before the names of the complainants were made known. It is said Lexington, Kentnoky.

Address WILLIAM ADAMS & SON, July 29-6t that the Armenians who gave the police the information have agreed to appear against the alleged blackmailers. The men, as soon as arrested, were taken to police headquarters, where they were closely questioned by Deputy Police Commissioner Wood and Assistant District Attorney Manley. At this time three other, Armenians who were arrested were discharged. Martposed excursions of the steamer Comet goossian was represented by an attor ney, who stated that the arrest of the priest was absurd. A search of the priest's room was made by the police.

The police still have several other Franklin and Pearl streets that is a de- more arrests soon. In the meantime nev's office will state what evidence they have against the men arrested.

Several parties of detectives were menians for arms and to find all possible about the Hunchakist society. It is said that these detectives also have orders to arrest certain other Armenians who are suspected of knowing more have refused to contribute to the revolutionary committee.

Father Martgoossian was examined in the district attorney's office last particular. Box 199, Quincy. Friday, and at that time said he knew nothing of Bedros Hampartzoomian, the man who killed Tavshanjian. The priest said that he was once a member of the Hunchakist society, but that he retired from it some time ago and of late has had nothing to do with it.

The best guide to Boston which has come to our notice for Old Home Week is that issued by the Macullar Parker Company. There are 46 pages of convenient size, which seem to cover space is devoted to Quincy, than any of the other historic suburbs, and the Ledger is pleased to reprint the arti-

Quincy is reached by train from South station at frequent intervals or by through electric cars run every fifteen minutes via Fields Corner and Neponset bridge. "The City of Presidents," so called from being the hirthplace of the two Presidents John Adams and John Quincy Adams, who lid so much for the Commonwealth

In the central square we find the church under whose portico are the tombs of the two Presidents and their gifted wives. The Adams' Academy, founded by John Adams, stands on the site of the house where John Hancock was born. The birthplace of John Adams, built in 1681, is now in charge of the Adams Chapter of the D. R. A. cheese-ctrainer belong ing to Abigail Adams and a slipper which she wore at the Court of France are shown, and the wide boards or the floor and a hiding-place in the fireplace are of interest. The home of John and Abigail Adams and the birthplace of John Quincy Adams is cared for by the Quincy Historical Society. Among things which are shown are hand-made nails and hinges, the deed of land from the Indians, and Josiah Quincy's spectacles. A short walk brings us to the cairn on Penn's Hill, where Abigail Adams fit helpmeet to a patriot, looked across with her little son to see the smoke from the battle in Charlestown, and 25c. quality prayed, "Almighty God to cover the neads of her countrymen." Eight=Year=Old Girl His Latest Victim In New York

Body Stumbled Upon In a Basement, Where No Attempt Was Made at Concealment--Arrest of a Suspect Almost Causes a Riot

New York, Aug. 2 .- "The Graveyard," as the foreign populated neighborhood on First avenue, between Thirteeuth and Fourteenth streets, is known locally, gave up yesterday a fresh crime, rivalling in atrocity the mysterious butcheries of last week. The latest discovered victim was an 8year-old girl, and, like the two young women murdered, she had been shockingly mistreated before death and the body fiendishly mutilated when life was extinct.

The three murders apparently were committed within 24 hours and by strikingly similar means. Last Thurs day night a weman was strangled in a Twenty-second street boarding house; the next morning the body of a still unidentified woman, who had been choked to death, was found in an area way in East Ninetieth street. Katie Pritschler, daughter of a restaurant waiter, disappeared a week ago yesland street was also decorated with flags terday and was killed that night. The girl's body was stumbled upon The Heart Can't Stand by a woman who visited the basement of the house at 203 First avenue. It lay upon a berry crate, with seemingly no effort at concealment.

"You can say for me," Coroner Harburger declared, "that the crimes in Berlin of which the newspapers have told have not been one-thousandth part as bad as the murder of this little girl." The coroner would not permit the body to be photographed.

At the coroner's directions Gaetano Rippolano, whose cobbler shop adjoins the girl's home, was arrested and asked sure a thorough discussion of the subto explain his absence from his shop on last Friday. DAY OF VARIED EVENTS

Official Luncheon and Fishermen's Race In Boston's Celebration

Boston, Aug. 2.-Yesterday was "Massachusetts day" in the Old Home week celebration. The chief event was the official luncheon given at Hote Somerset by the city in honor of the visiting governors of the New England states, the mayors of New England and Canadian cities, and other invited guests. There were about 200 in at tendance.

Yesterday's parade feature was of automobiles, and as the handsome cars, some gayly decorated, passed through the down-town streets they attracted much attention.

One of the things on the program was the much heralded fishermen's race for the beautiful trophy donated by Sir Thomas Lipton. The race started off Boston light and the course was one of 40 miles.

The Rose Dorothea, owned by Marica Perry of Provincetown and sailed by John Watson of Duxbury, won the race for the cup. The Dorothea led all the way from the start and finished one eighth of a mile ahead of the nearest competitor, notwithstanding she lost her topmast off Eastern point on next to the last leg of the race.

HOLY WAR BEING PREACHED

Composite Force of French, Italian and Spanish Troops to Aid In Restoring Order--Algeciras Signatories Are Preparing to Act

Tangler, Aug. 2.—The French cruiser Galillee has arrived at Casablanca to protect Europeans who are in danger from the uprising of natives and a threatened holy war to drive out all foreigners. With the arrival of the cruiser the situation at Casablanca is somewhat improved. It is believed she can protect all Europeans there. With 20,000 Mussulmans encamped about the town and agitators preaching the holy war throughout the country the general situation, however, is critical. It is feared only a great display of force can prevent the threatened religious conflict and a general attack on all Europeans in Morocco.

To Act With Sultan's Forces

Paris, Aug. 2 .- A well known diplomat states that Italy will send a warship, as well as Spain, to Moroeco, and that a composite force of French, Italian and Spanish troops will be landed at Casablanca to restore order in co-operation with the sultan's forces. All the signatories of the Algeciras convention will be informed as to the steps which it is deemed necessary to take to exact satisfaction.

Germany Watching Events

Berlin, Aug. 2.—The disturbances in Morocco are being watched here with the closest attention. Lengthy dispatches are published, and the hope is expressed that the Algeeiras con vention will be fully earried out.

Premier Clemenceau of France, who is at Karlsbad, declares, according to one of the dispatches published here, that his government will endeavor to the utmost to secure a peaceable solution of the difficulty and will act in Morocco with a complete understandin with the Algeciras signatories.

Spain Will Act With France Madrid, Aug. 2.-The Spanish gov ernment is drawing up a plan for con certed action with France to obtain reparation for the murders in Casablanca. As a first step a Spanish warship has been ordered to proceed im mediately to Morocco.

American Minister's Report Washington, Aug. 2.-The state department has received from United States Minister Gummere, at Tangier, brief cablegram stating that sever foreigners had been murdered at Casablanca, and that "a foreign vessel has been dispatched to Morocco." The minister asked for no instructions from the state department concerning the trouble and none were sent him. It is believed at the state department that there are no native-born Americans in Casablanca.

Must Explain Loss of Steamship Norfolk, Aug. 2.—As a result of the investigation in the matter of the destruction by fire at sea of the Savannah-Baltimore line steamship Allegheny, July 17, when the lives of 54 persons were endangered, Captain Freeman. master of the Allegheny, has been summoned to appear at Savannah, Ga., for trial Aug. 13 to show cause why his license should not be suspended or revoked for alleged negligence, unskillfulness and endangering life.

"Flareback" Theory Endorsed Washington, Aug. 2 .- Acting Secre partment is now convinced that the cause of the accident was beyond question a "flareback."

Mother's Cuticle Grafted on Son Greenwich, Conn., Aug. 2.-A very numbered one on plan of land in difficult skin grafting operation has Quincy made by Alexander Wadsworth, been performed here by Dr. Burke of Surveyor, recorded with Norfolk this place. Korean Troops Mutiny Against the Disarmament Order

TACKLE JAPANESE SOLDIERS

Number of Killed and Wounded Is Placed at 120 Among Koreans, While Japanese Victims Number 40 -- Ito Assures Emperor of His Safety

Seoul, Aug. 2.-The Korean battalion mutinied yesterday morning against the disarmament order and engaged in a fight for several hours with the Japanese troops near the consulate quarter with rifles and a machine

According to official reports received by General Hazegawa, there were 120 casualties among the Koreans and 40 Japanese killed and wounded as a result of the riots growing out of the disbandment of the Korean troops.

Marquis Ito, in his audience with the emperor yesterday afternoon, assured the emperor of his complete safety Ito provided the foreign consulates with guards last night as a precaution for safety.

The imprisonment of fugitives from the Shiwa regiments continues. The remainder of the Korean army, dis tributed throughout the country, will be disbanded as fast as the imperial re script reaches the different stations The residency general regards the argent question, that relating to abdication, settled, and believes that an army of several thousand Japanese is sufficient to maintain order.

At 8 o'clock yesterday morning the minister of war read the rescript of disbandment to the higher Korean of ficers at the house of General Hase

Major Huam, commander of th first battalion of the First Shiawa regi ment, returned to the barracks and committed sucide. This excited his subordinates and also a battalion of the Second Shiawa, who attacked two Japanese officers and their orderlies.

One battalion marched on the south gate, where a clash occurred, in which Captain Kajiwara and two others were killed. Over 100 Koreans escaped with their rifles and divided into two bands. They are still abroad.

The rescript of disbandment begin by saying that the existing army of hirelings is unfit for the native defense and orders them to disband and receive a gratuity and not to commit any reprehensible acts.

Washington Not Posted

Washington, Aug. 2 .- No details of the disarmament of the Koreans and of the trouble which resulted from it has been received at the Japanese embass in this city. Affairs in Korea not hav ing a direct bearing on the United States, the foreign office at Tokio is no keeping the embassy here informed of what is going on there every day.

Final End of Damage Suits

New York, Aug. 2.-The score or more of damage suits instituted against Klaw & Erlanger, the theatrical managers, as an outgrowth of the Iroquois theatre fire in Chicago, were finally ended in the federal court by the refusal of Judge Hough to reopen the cases. The claims previously had been formally dismissed because the claim ants had failed to properly prosecut the actions. Yesterday's decision de prives the plaintiffs from the right of appeal from the court's former finding.

Kidnappers Got $75,000 Ransom Salonika, Aug. 2.—The ringleaders of the band which kidnapped Robert Abbott on March 24 last have been cap tured and confessed their guilt. A ran som of $75,000 was paid to the kidnappers for the young man's release, and a large part of this ransom has been recovered. The British government insists that the ransom be repaid by the Turkish government.

Postponement of Balloon Trip Pittsfield, Mass., Aug. 2.-Leo Stevens and William F. Whitehouse were obliged to postpone their contemplated ascension in the new balloon Stevens yesterday until next Wednesday, on account of an unsuitable supply of gas. An attempt was made to take the balloon up, but after it had reached a height of 100 feet it sank to the ground.

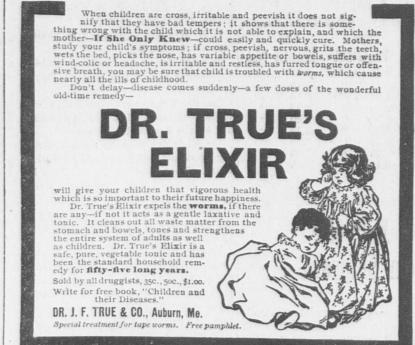

Heading Off Coal Strike

Pittsburg, Aug. 2.-The flag of peace has been unfurled in connection with the differences of the 14,000 miners employed in the Pittsburg district and the Pittsburg Coal company. On the initiative of the Pittsburg Coal company a conference will be held today, at which it is thought very probable the trouble will be adjusted.

Cities by American Company Worcester, Mass., Aug. 2.-The Telegram says: In an upheaval of express systems operating in New England and the east, the American Express company has gained exclusive control of the cities and towns reached only by the New York Central lines. In this movement the Adams Express company has been forced from the Boston and Albany division of the New York Central lines between Worcester and DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN Boston and on the Webster branch. Twenty-one Massachusetts offices of the Adams company were closed yes-

The American Express company has opened 31 new offices in stations formerly reached by the competing Adams Express company, has inaugurated a complete traffic system between Worcester and Boston and sent express trains over the western branch of the Boston and Albany division. Six trains between Boston and Worcester which had been operated by the Adams Express company were taken off yesterday, and in order to accommodate the Worcester business the Adams Express company began a traffic business to and from Boston to Blackstone by way of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad.

Children Poisoned In Woods

Wakefield, Mass., Aug. 2 .- One little child of Mr. and Mrs. Perley I. Cummings is dead and two other of their children are critically ill as the result of eating some kind of poison while berrying in the woods. The dead boy's pame is Arthur and he was but 18 months old. The other two children are Harriet, aged 5 years, and Irving, aged 4 years. It is thought that the children either swallowed some of the poison which is being placed upon trees by the gypsy moth commission, or that they are some dogberries, thinking that they were blueberries.

GREAT MURDER RAID

New York Chinamen Descend Up-Ion Hated Rivals at Boston

THREE ARE SHOT TO DEATH

Bullets Left In Bodies of Seven Others, Three of Whom Will Die-Victims Were Enjoying Evening Siesta, Unconscious of Danger

Boston, Aug. 3 .- Burning with hatred for their deadly enemies belonging to the rival On Leong Tong, a band of New York Chinamen, numbering a dozen or more, and belonging to the notorious Hep Sing Tong, entered a narrow alley in Boston's Chinatown last night and, drawing brand new 44calibre revolvers, opened fire with deadly aim upon half a hundred Chinamen seated in easy chairs up and down the alley, smoking their pipes and conwersing.

At the sound of the first volley the Chinamen rushed for their quarters, stumbling over one another in their haste to reach shelter behind closed doors. Fearless and daring, the Hep pects has brought out liberal fall or-Sing Tong men chased their victims into their own doorways and shot them cown as they rushed up stairways or into side rooms. Then, casting away their guns, the strange visitors rushed from the quarter, seeking safety for themselves.

Three Chinamen were left dead in the alley, three were dying as they lay across the steps of their little shops, and four more carried the bullets of their rival tongsmen. The dead are Wong Su Jung, aged 50, restaurant proprietor; Chin Let, aged 35, laundry proprietor; Chin Mon Quin, aged 48, merchant.

Immediately after the shooting one of the Hep Sing Tong men was captured by Officer Linton as he was running away. At the station the man gave the name of Nim Sing, aged 29, of New York. He was dressed in American clothes.

As it was believed at the outset that Chinamen from out of town did the shooting, a squad of plain clothes men were sent to the stations to intercept all departing Chinamen. Officers Ford and Brooks at the South station took into custody Hong Woon, aged 34, of New York, whose hands were powderstained and who bore evidence of having run all the way from Chinatown to the South station, as he was nearly exbausted when arrested. Both men Arrested were charged with manslaughter in causing the death of the three Chinamen and placed in cells at station 4. The police also placed under arrest on suspicion seven other Chinamen who are strangers to the local colony.

The police were notified of the fact by Boston Chinamen, who feared trouble. Special details of police were at once placed on duty in the Chinese quarter and the strangers suddenly disappeared. Last night they as suddenly reappeared and entered the parrow passageway which leads to Oxford place. The shooting followed.

aged 32, who are believed to have been concerned in the murders of the China men at Boston last night, were arrested at the Union station early this morning by Officer Fyrberg as they were buying tickets for New York.

Hang broke away from the officer and started to run. He was surrounded by a number of people who were in the station and seeing that he could not escape, the Chinaman pulled out a 44-calibre revolver. Before he could fire, however, he was overpowered and thrown to the ground.

When taken to the station the China men gave long names, professed not to know each other and said they had only just come up from New York to spend a few days.

Investigation by the police disclosed the fact that the two Chinamen arrested had arrived in Worcester on the 11 o'clock trolley car from Boston and had been seen together in a drug store buying soda water. When they went to buy tickets the men were careful to go up to the ticket office separately and at a considerable interval apart, as if to make it apparent that they were not acquainted. The two Chinamen are held at the police station awaiting Boston officers.

Business Confidence Restored

New York, Aug. 3.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says that trade reports from the leading cities are singularly uniform in making favorable comparisons with the corresponding week in any previous year. At most western and southern points the improvement in crop pros ders, and there is evidently more confidence in the future than at any time since it was found that many of the principal farm products had made a bad start.

Murray Gives Himself Up

Boston, Aug. 3 .- Patrick J. Murray of Watertown gave himself up to the state police last night and was held on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon on Henry S. Harrington, the wealthy Shrewsbury farmer who was stabbed by one of a party who occupied the Boston schoolhouse commission's automobile after it had collided with a milk wagon near his farm in Shrewsbury Wednesday night.

Verdict In Pere Marquette Disaster Northville, Mich., Aug. 3.-The coroner's jury in the inquest into the Pere Marquette wreck, in which 32 persons were killed and many injured, returned a verdict blaming the freight crew which collided with the excursion train the two operators at Plymouth who copied and delivered the orders to the freight crew, and the Pere Marquette railroad for operating under defective looked down into some exceedingly blue eyes, surrounded by a fluff of yellow hair, surmounted by a still fluffier blue bow.

"Hello!" he said, looking down from his six foot height. "Where did you come from?"

"I've been here often and peeped through," she confided. "Lift me over," she commanded in the tone of one accustomed to being obeyed, holding out her arms.

He lifted her over to his side of the hedge, and she ran directly to his rustic seat. "I'm not prepared to entertain ladies." He stood with his hands in his pockets and smiled into her upturned face. "What can I offer you, madam?"

"I'll take chocolate, please." She set- audaciously. tled her skirts over her chubby little legs and smiled back ingratiatingly. Drayton looked dubious.

A slender girl in the other garden ran to the dividing hedge.

"Oh, Louise, mamma has been so very uneasy about you! Where have you been, dearie?

"I'm afraid it's my fault," Drayton said contritely. "I took her to look at some pictures, and we forgot the time.'

That is, he was surprised to awake in the morning and find himself still alive: he was surprised to find in; he was surprised that others could fed as they were and still not mutiny and murder the officers. He was an object of pity. He was starved and worked and maltreated until he became a woman in spirit and only the shadow of a man. And in the midst of it all he had to remember that the Brotherly Love was his best ship, the one of the trio least complained of in > regard to food and treatment. It got about at home that "the sudden and mysterious disappearance of Mr. John Hart" was owing to the fact that he had been shanghaied on one of his own vessels. She was to touch at Bahia, and when the Brotherly Love reached that port men came aboard and identified the owner and took him ashore. Captain and mates were fired instanter, three or four of the crew arrested for assault and battery on the high seas and the ship de tained a week. Then Mr. John Hart returned home. He had seen things and felt things. He no longer took an interest in sailors and bethels. In fact, he was tired of being a shipowner, and not three months had passed when he sold out everything and bought a farm and went to raising chickens.

For the Very Best

In the sailors' bethels and other places Mr. John Hart was spoken of as one of the kindest and most liberal

CAMPAIGN BECOMING WARM

There Is No Discord Between Senators Lodge and Crane, Nor Has

The campaign on the Democratic side will begin in dead earnest in August, so far as General Bartlett or Henry M. Whitney are concerned.

It has been an active campaign for a month at least on the part of Mr. Whitney, and the Bartlett forces have been laying out the campaign for two or three weeks, but have not been nearly so energetic as the men behind the Whitney movement.

When General Bartlett makes a tour of the state, which he is already doing, ne will get a very definite idea of the way in which his candidacy is received by the Democrats of the common-

Meanwhile there are other elements liable to enter into the campaign. Former Congressman John R. Thayer of Worcester is being groomed by his friends for the nomination, and James B. Carroll of Springfield is a hopeful candidate, although, so far as one can see, they are fully as liable to weaken General Bartlett as they are to injure the candidacy of Mr. Whitney.

It is well known that Congressman Thayer is not very much of a Whitney man. He was one of those who deprecated last year the nomination of Whitney and urged Governor Douglas of Brockton to .come into the field against im. It was this move which forced Whitney out of the fight and resulted in the nomination of John B. Moran.

Thayer Is Against Whitney

Mr. Thayer does not regard Mr. Whitney as a proper man to be elected governor of Massachusetts, or to receive the Democratic nomination for that Joe Haines was kicked out of the 15c. per package, Try it. high office. He has said so repeatedly and he believes, as do many others, that the nomination of the Brookline man would put the party immediately upon the defensive and result in a disastrous defeat. It is said that he is of the opinion that the nomination of a Democrat against whom no charges could be brought and who stands well with his party would be ratified by the people by his election at the polls. He believes Mr. Whitney, if nominated, is predestined to defeat.

> Mr. Thayer is not anxious for the nomination. His friends say his only Interest is that the Democratic party should not make a false move. Mr.

secures the largest number of delegates to the Democratic state convenion will be the man to lead the party

It is well known that Governor Douglas himself is enthusiastically in favor of the nomination of General Bartlett. He believes he is a man thoroughly well fitted for the position; that having received it once and making a good run, he should have an opportunity to make another try at it, and that his prospects of election would be much better than when he ran two years ago.

It is equally well known that Govrnor Douglas has no use for Henry M. Whitney. He does not regard him as entitled to the nomination or even worthy of it. He is behind Bartlett morally and financially for that reason. It will be remembered that two years ago he made a heavy contribution to Bartlett's campaign fund, but there is no record that he contributed one penny to the election of Mr. Whitney for lieutenant governor.

Hot Air Political Yarns

In the summer time people naturally look for stories of the sea serpent and other mythical monsters. The summer time is also the season when political fairy tales blossom abundantly by the wayside. The recent fairy story in a Boston newspaper in which it was detailed with much circumstance that a bloody feud was on between President Roosevelt and Senator Lodge on one side, and Senator Crane on the other, has taxed the credulity of predulous mortals much too far. If can be said upon the highest at thority that Senator Lodge and Senator Erane are upon the best of terms; that neither is thirsting for the blood of the other, either politically or physically. It is well known to those conversant with the situation that Senator Lodge is for Taft for president, while Senator Crane has not yet declared himself in favor of anybody upon the presidential issue. BRAINTREE.

Congratulations to the Board of As sessors. They should be complimented by every tax payer for reducing the tax rate $3.80, from $22.40 in 1906 to $18.60 in 1907. We believe the assessors are on the right track and if their suggestions are adopted we shall have a lower tax rate in 1908. Braintree's personal row morning at the First Parish church, tax has increased during the year $436,994 and the real estate $209,248, a Sergeant Hanson and Officers Cahill, a gain of $646,242. With the tax rate Doran and Broberg begin their annual at $18.60, there is more encouragement for the building of good houses in the town of Braintree.

There is, and always will be, dissatisfaction on the part of some people with the selections made by any committee, and Town Committee have occasionally been instructed not to prepare any ticket, but under such conditions the result is confusion and delay, much valuable time is taken up in balloting for individual offices, and the caucus is prolonged until an uneasonably late hour.

The Republican Town Committee has, therefore, decided this year to avoid, if possible, both these evils,the tendency to make the caucus a "cut-and-dried" affair, which it necessarily is when tickets are quietly prepared by one or two small coteries of a caucus for which no tickets have been prepared.

The exact date of this public meeting will be announced through the columns of the Observer in another

Public Spirit of Lieut. Gov. Draper Benefits His Native Town

Milford Journal series.

It is a true axiom that every individual exerts an influence upon his associates. It is equally true that every town exerts an influence upon Back Bay 209 neighboring towns. No individual can live absolutely for himself, neither can a town live exclusively for itself. For that reason, the towns of Milford and Hopedale illustrate the influence that one has upon the Dried Beef, other. Twenty-two years ago, what Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point is now the Town of Hopedale was a part of our own town. Milford regretted very much the proposed sep- Sardines, aration. This feeling, however, was not based upon sinister motives, but rather from a feeling of affection for our friends and neighbors. The Draper Lime Juice. Companies were small then, as compared with their great interests of today, but they were none the less influential. But the separation came, and, notwithstanding the regretful attitude of our people, their business and social relations have been most 538 Tremont Building, Boston. intimate. The reasons for this are obvious. The Drapers have always been closely allied with our people and the influence of Hopedale upon her neighbors has been for the good of all.

The public spirit and philanthropic work of the Draper family have not been confined to the limits of their home town. At least 1000 of our citizens find renumerative employment in the Hopedale works and the interests of the Draper Company in their employees is not confined to Hopedale. Hardly less comfortably housed are some of the employees who make their homes in Milford. When the employees of the Hopedale works began to settle in our town, rents naturally went up. To protect them against the advance, the Draper Company bought a tract of land and erected a large number of brickhouses of which the rent is from $1.75 to $2.25 per week. While thus engaged in providing comfortable homes for employees, they became substantial tax payers in the Real Estate and Insurance Town of Milford. They are now en-AUCTIONEER. The Town of Milford has ever been the recipient of their most generous treatment. One of the latest gifts is the Milford Hospital, presented by Lieut.-Gov. and Mrs. Eben S. Draper, unconditionally to the town. In construction and appointment, this is as fine a hospital as can be found anywhere in the United States. The pride of the beneficiaries as well as the benefactors. The hospital stands im-Insurance, mediately over the line from Hopedale in a most beautiful locality, with expansive prospects in all directions and is easily reached from the populated centres of both towns. With such evidence of mutual regard for the care and comfort of their fellow men, the Draper family have won the esteem of all who appreciate their magnificent gifts for the public good. Our people have had few opportun. ities to show their appreciation, but it can be recalled that when Gen. William F. Draper was a candidate for Congress in 1892-94 that notwithstanding that Milford was democratic by large pluralities, the general received handsome majorities over his opponent, and at a more recent date when Eben S. Draper became the Republican candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, the people gave him substantial majorities even though the Democratic ticket was generally successful by a large vote. These incidents show the high regard of our people for the men who have been most active in the upbuilding of our community.

THE SCRAMBLE FOR VEHICLES

Disadvantages of Interior Arrange. ments Would Not Be Tolerated In This Country-Young Women as Ushers Exact Tips For Programmes.

The fact that only two or three of the fashionable theaters in the west end of London have adopted the electric earriage call or number system, common now even at playhouses of the second grade in most American cities, is only one of the many evidences of how backward London managers are in looking after the convenience and comfort of their patrons.

The wild scramble for private and public vehicles which is the finale of every evening spent at the theater is sure to make one of the strongest impressions upon an American playgoer in the English capital. Unlike in New York, where the street cars furnish a quick and easy conveyance to any part of the city, London audiences are compelled to rely mainly upon cabs. Even owners of private carriages and motor cars seem to prefer the cheap and always ready hansom. Scores of these hover in the neighborhood of every playhouse at the fall of the curtain Out on the sidewalk is the theater's carriage man, called the "linkman" and a few commissioners who work for tips. But they are wholly inade quate to handle the rush for vehicles when a play lets out. So the odd spectacle is presented of men and women in evening dress, often in the rain, scurrying about the sidewalks and street, gesticulating and whistling and scrambling for a means to get to the after the theater supper or home. Only the splendid discipline of the London police keeps the Strand and Shaftesbury avenue from a state of absolute impassability during the rush hour when the plays are letting out.

In their interior arrangements and service even the newest of the London theaters have disadvantages that American audiences would not tolerate, The cost of admission at the first class houses is more than in New York, but the conveniences, without reference to the play itself, are far from commensurate with the increased expense. The scale of prices in the west end theaters for each person, reduced to American currency, is about as follows: Stalls or orchestra seats, $2.52; front seats in the circle, $1.80; back rows of the circle, $1.44; upper circle, 96 cents; pit, 60 cents; gallery, 24 cents. Thus the best seats cost more than in corresponding New York theaters, while the rate for the cheapest seats is a little less.

The audience enters the top gallery on a level with or one flight above the street. To get to the stalls, the circle or the pit several flights of stairs must be descended. Owing to the rail which divides the pit from the orchestra seats only two or three theaters are provided with aisles running lengthwise of the auditorium, so ingress or egress must be had through one door on each side and by climbing over other people who happen to have reached their places first. The result is that most of the theaters are filled with constant drafts, as the doors are located exactly opposite each other.

Men ushers are not yet known to London. The duty of seating the audiences still falls to young women, survivals of the orange women of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. These take the reserved seat coupons as best they can from the aisles. They are not averse to taking a tip, and they always exact a sixpence (12 cents) for each programme. The number of these girls is ridiculously inadequate. No stated number is employed at any theater, but instead the force is increased or cut down in accordance with the volume of the patronage. There are no head ushers.

The New York Americans had just taken a game from the Philadelphias, and it happened on the Highlanders' grass plot. The spectators were well pleased with the result, and pretty near every man who was leaving the ground had a smile of satisfaction overspreading his countenance, which caused the pitcher, Al Orth, to remark to the umpire, Tim Hurst:

"The smile is the same, Tim, in all languages."

"Yes, and so is the grunt," replied | the cynical Mr. Hurst, who in his experience on the ball field has had every chance to acquire wisdom concerning the foibles of human nature.

Do YOU DO for Quincy? The Adjustable Pocket to Match

A New Aid Fable.

This is not a George Ade fable, though it may sling some slang. It is a Home Aid fable.

Once there was a Geezer, who sat around and cut Kindling too small for Cook Stove purposes. He Whittled against Time and Flabbergasted against his Town. The town was No Good, he said-strictly on the Blink. Yes, it was N. G. Why, hadn't he lived Here since '84 and found that the Place was Punky? Sure, Mike!

Look at that town over in the next County. Grown like Jonah's Gourd. Must be a Jonah here. We've grown some, but I don't see that we're knocking any particularly Big Persimmons. That's the way this Gazaboo knocked his town. One day a Sarcastic Stranger floated into the Town that was Knocked from the burg that had Blossom > and Dropped to the sit-"Look here, you," he remarked to the citizen who was Handing Out the Knocks, "What do you do for this town? you do for this town?

> Are you doing your part

> Upgrade? What's that > hefty Bunch of literature sticking out of your Clothes?"
>
> "That's a Mail Order Catalogue from Chi-cago—a town that is a town," replied the Gee-

Gourd. He Heard some of the Flabbergasting

"So I thought," said the Impertinent Arriv-al. "Now let me hand you out a nice little Wad of common sense. For the past ten years you have been sending your money to the Chicago Mail Order houses instead of spending it among your home merchants, What would have happened to Chicago fifty years ago if all the First Settlers had shipped their Loose Coin to New York on catalogue inducements? Why, you'd have to use a sand dredger now to find the Original Site of Chicago. Now, in the Burg from which I have just Blown in we got over all this Burn Business years ago. We passed Resolutions that we would trade at home and help our own town to Spread out so that you could Sight it on the map without using Opera Glasses. But you and a Bunch of other folks in this town have wasted your Substance in Riotous Expenditures in Chicago by mail and let the sheriff hang out the 'Nothing Doing' sign in front of some of your own town's mercantile Emporiums. Look at our Town and then look at yours. What makes the Difference?"

Whereupon the Whittling Gazaboo threw a few well chosen Thoughts into his mental makeup and went down to the village store to Annex a linen collar in place of the Paper Circles which he had bought from Chicago at Two Bits a Box.

> MORAL: If you want your town to grow, patronize home enterprises.

The readers of this paper will be leased to learn that there is at least pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and trying the patient strength ease, and trying the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Water Bills A Mystery

There seems to be a manifest injustice in the charges made by the Water depart ment in Quincy. The writer, who has been placed upon a meter, has been charged with an excess, above the minimum rate, of eight dollars, for the past six months. There are no leaks in the plumbing, the hose is used but very little, and the family is a small one, so that the logical consumption of water hould not exceed the minimum.

There are several smaller families the writer knows of, where the hose is not used at all, and water has been used Mrs. Harriet Bemis Ferrie, former- but sparingly, where the excess rates

Some of us, who possess ambitious meters that seem to register "while you night, aged 100 years and 8 months. sleep" cannot view with complacency Mrs. Ferrie was born in Quincy, the fact that our neighbors upon the same street where meters have not been of Josiah and Johanna F. > Several friends of the writer who use double the quantity of water he uses are paying only minimum rates.

I understand that the appropriation is not large enough to place meters in all houses, but why are some houses in the same section and upon same stree placed upon meters while other houses a few feet away, can use all the water desired, baving no meter to register any excess? Who makes this unfair selection? It seems to me that until all houses are equipped with meters, and all are placed upon the same basis, that moderate users of water, having a meter, ought not to be charged an excess, above the minimum rate as formerly charged.

The writer has been told by friends living in other cities that they use all the water they desire without any danwas found unconscious on the railroad ger of exceeding their minimum rate for

Whites and Negroes In Serious Race Riot In New York

WAGER ON BASEBALL GAME

Quarrel Over Settlement Led to Row In Which Five Thousand Took Far -- Alleged Assailants of Children Are Almost Killed In Other Riots

New York, Aug. 5 .- The fighting ele ment among the whites and blacks in the vicinity of 136th street and Fifth avenue lined up according to their racial prejudices again yesterday, this time to settle a baseball dispute, and when the argument was ended 50 persons required medical treatment and of that number two may die. Probably 5000 persons took part in the fight, but the 300 policemen who dispersed the mob after everyone was fought out got only nine prisoners and of these two on Fez. were women

The trouble started at a ball game where a white man and a negro had made a wager and subsequently quarreled over the settlement. It was two hours before the police controlled the situation and then patrol wagons and ambulances picked up those who were too seriously worn out to get away. Those most harmed were taken to hospitals and the prisoners were locked up, charged with inciting a riot. Last night several hundred officers patrolled the disturbed neighbor-

The boy escaped and Conconela, who had outfooted the other pursuers, was mistaken by the mob for the girl's assailant. Overtaken at last Conconela was set upon, knocked down and kicked until nearly dead. The police rescued him after he was dangerously injured.

Another murderous assault was added last night to the police record of recent crimes against defenseless women and girls. Last night's victim was Miss Ellen Bulger, a woman of age, who was attacked in her apartments in the Bronx, cruelly beaten and left in a helpless state. Standard Company Has Used Its Power to Raise It

TRUST'S CLAIMS DISPROVED

Net Earnings From 1882 to 1906 Were at Least $790,000,000--Domination Acquired by Unjustifiable Methods, Says Commissioner Smith

Washington, Aug. 5.—Significant revelations are made public in a report previous report the means and methods of the Standard were explained The present report sets forth the re sults of those methods and the effect they have had on the consumer of oil and on the profits of the Standard Oil company. It deals with profits and prices, showing how the manipulation of the oil industry by the Standard ha affected the pocketbooks of the Amer ican people. Commissioner Smith says "The Standard Oil company is re sponsible for the course of prices o petroleum and its products during th ost of crude oil."

The Standard has claimed that has reduced the price of oil, that it ha been a benefit to the consumer, an that only a great combination like the Standard could have furnished oil at the prices that have prevailed. "Each of these claims," says Smith, "is dis roved by this report."

The increase in annual profits of the $27,000,000. The report says: "The total dividends paid by the Standard from 1882 to 1906 were $551,922,904, averaging thus 24.15 percent per year. The dividends, however, were much less than the total earnings. It is substantially certain that the entire net earnings of the Standard from 1882 to 1906 were at least $790,000,000, and possibly much more. These enormou profits have been based on an invest ments worth at the time of its origina acquisition not more than $75,000,000. In his letter to President Roosevelt ransmitting the report, Smith says The following facts are proven: The Standard has not reduced margins dur ing the period in which it has been re sponsible for the prices of oil. During the last eight years covered by this report (1898 to 1905) it has raised both prices and margins. Its domination has not been acquired or maintained y its superior efficiency, but rather by nomically and morally unjustifiable.

"The Standard has superior efficiency in running its own business; it has an equal efficiency in destroying the bus ness of competitors. It keeps for itsel the profits of the first and adds to these the monopoly profits secured by the second. Its profits are far above the highest possible standard of a reasonable commercial return, and have been steadily increasing.

"Finally, the history of this great industry is a history of the persistent use of the worst industrial methods, the exaction of exorbitant prices from the consumer, and the securing of excessive profits for the small group of men who, over a long series of years,

In a few days another section of the report will be made public, setting forth the importance of price discrimination in restraining the business of competitors and augmenting the profits of the Standard.

Will Rest at Sagamore Hill Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 5 .- Two positive statements have emanated from some of the fashionable summer colonies of New England to the effect that President and Mrs. Roosevel have accepted invitations which would place them for a brief space in the centre of the summer social whirl. It is stated here with much positiveness to Provincetown, Mass., on Aug. 20, the president will remain at Sagamore Hill throughout the summer.

Fined in Court For Taking Milk

The frequent disappearance of milk Federick W. Bates of Walnut street. who took them could be obtained. Sunday morning about 4 o'clock Officer Donovan was informed by a housekeeper, who had arisen early, that some one had taken her jar of milk. Shortly after the officer saw a young man riding a bicycle through the rain on Squantum street and he held him up. Strapped to the wheel he found two quart and one pint bottle of milk which seemed more than one usually carries in this manner. In response to questions by the officer the man gave his name as Frederick W. Bates and said that he lived at Walnut street. The reason he gave for having so much milk was that he was hungry. He was sent to the police station. Makarias Lose To Wollastons

At Merrymount Park on Saturday, the Makarias were defeated by the Wollaston by the score of 7 to 1. The Wollastons put up a great game, and Gram was in fine form. The Makarias were crippled by the loss of Smith. Two weeks ago the Makaria defeated the Wollastons 8 to 1, and the final game will be played on Saturday. The full score.

Terrible Deed of a Baltimore Woman

KILLED HER TWO BABIES

Who Knew Not What She Did Baltimore, Aug. 6 .- Madness which has twice caused her to be confined in an asylum again took possession of Mrs. Christine Nenadal, aged 26 years. the wife of a wood worker, yesterday. With the coming of a mind deranged she laid her plans to put her little ones to sleep-for that is what she believes he has done, and no more.

Leaving her little daughter, Mary aged 3, playing in the street, she put the younger of her children, Yarosalov, 15 months old, in its carriage and took it to a nearby park. Just what happened there is not known. When the mother returned the little one in the small branches, but a neighbor noticed that its face was strangely pale. Mrs. Nenadal took both children into the house and carefully closed all the doors and windows. A little later she went for a friend, Mrs. Vala, and asked her to come and assist in dressing the Returning, the two women entered the dining room of the Nenadal home and there, lying upon the table, Mrs. Vala was horrified to find the naked bodies of the children, both of them having been strangled by their-mother. The latter, when the police were summoned, fondled the little bodies and gave them up only when forced to do so. Her one concern now seems to be lest the children be awakened.

Sudden Deaths, Heart Failure and Paralysis Are Caused By Poisonous Uric and Rheumatic Acids

Uric-O Is Used

Rheumatism

The Rheumatic person is skeptical egarding the claims of almost any remedy adertised as a cure for Rheumatism and one can scarcely blame him for being so. All the plasters and liniments combined never actually cured a case of Rheumatism. They may relieve it in one quarter, but i carriage was covered with leaves and is sure to break out somewhere else. The only true way to cure Rheuma tism is to drive it from the system for as long as the Uric and Rheumatic Acid remains in the blood, one is never entirely free from the trouble. This where the value of Uric-O as a permanent cure for Rheumatism comes in. It seeks out the Rheumatic poison in the blood, muscles and kidneys renders it inert and harmless and drives it out of the system. That is why Uric-O is such an admirable and effective cure for Rheumatism. The chief reason that Uric-O is such wonderful cure for Rheumatism is, that it is designed and prepared to Rheumatism and Rheumatism It is composed of perfect antidotes for the rheumatic acid poison its wonderful success. Rheumatism attacking the child. simply cannot exist in a person's system if Uric-O is used.

Deputy Commissioner O'Keefe, who is in charge of the police departmen during the absence of Commissione Bingham, has asked the mayor and th board of estimate and appropriation for funds to employ an additional 500 policemen. The request will be acte on on Wednesday.

The police are making every effor possible to stop the crimes which are being daily reported, but seem help less. Most of the crimes are commit ted in little frequented places, in cel lars and dark hallways, and it seems a most impossible to prevent then Mothers throughout the city are terro stricken, and incidents which unde ordinary circumstances would b passed over without a second though are magnified hysterically, and score of reports are made daily to the police which have practically no foundation in fact. But with all this the situation is serious, and this fact is realized by the police as much as by anyone else.

[Original.] It was about 1$30 that Alphonse Nor mindin came to New Orleans from Paris. He had fought sixteen duels and had killed nine of his antagonists. ·Friends or relatives of his victims had several times sought to take a life for a life, but they had all been wounded or killed. The truth was that Normindin was so skilled in all weapons, so especially fitted with eyes, delicacy of touch and nerve, that he was invinci-

"You shall do so now or I will kil you where you sit."

"And if I fight?" "I will kill you anyway." Those sitting about noticed that Normindin was not his usual self. Attempting to look unconcerned, he put his thumb and finger on the stem of a wineglass and raised it to his lips.

His hand trembled. "When and where can my seconds find you?" he asked of his enemy.

"Now and here." Turning to two gentlemen in evening dress who had entered with him, he added, "These will accommodate you." Then he went and sat down at a table in a corner of the room while the arrangements were being made. Normindin wished delay, but the stranger said "Now." Normindin, however, though the challenger, was allowed the choice of weapons, for his enemy said that since he was going to kill him it made no difference with what weapon tended to choose a short sword, with which few persons were practiced and with which he was an expert, but he had never before known a case where the challenger had been given the indifference.

Within an hour after the insult had been given the principals were fighting in a large unfurnished room forming the whole top story of a dwelling house, lighted by lamps. The stranger still wore his devil's dress and was masked. Short swords were in the hands of both adversaries. They fenced for some time without either getting the advantage. But there was a certain spring in the stranger which increased while Normindin was heavy and grow. ing heavier. There was something uncanny in the devil's costume. The mouth of the mask was cut to reprelicious triumph. "You can't kill me, nor I you," said Normindin presently. "It is a draw." Normindin's seconds looked at each other in surprise.

"I shall kill you," replied the other confidently.

"When?" "Now." Gathering his strength, he made a lunge and shoved his sword up to the hilt in Normindin's breast. As Normindin fell the stranger took off his "I am the friend," he said, "of young Alphonse Mercier, the last of your vic tims. In killing him you broke the heart of the young girl to whom he was engaged. I determined to avenge her. I knew you to be only vulnerabl through your nerve. I have attacked your nerve and have beaten you. I am but a fair swordsman." Normindin made no reply, for he was dying. He continued to stare at the speaker till his eyes became glazed. Then the latter, handing his weapon to his second, got into a car-

This was neither the first nor the last act in a drama of which it was a part. The first is this: Alphonse Mercier, a young man who had just come of age, wooed and won Eugenie Lefevre, the daughter of a wealthy cotton broker of New Orleans Another suitor was Captain Roswell Tracy of the United States engineers, on duty in the Crescent City and fif-Tracy heard that his successful rival had fallen a victim that Normindin might keep up in New Orleans the role he had played in Paris, he began a series of investigations, with a view to punishing the murderer. He found that Normindin was a wonder with every weapon. Proceeding, however, on the theory that such men are dependent on their nerve, he resolved to make an effort in that direction.

All New Orleans rejoiced that the Frenchman had been put out of the way from doing any more harm, and one of the first to hear of the duel was Eugenie Lefevre. Of the meeting after it occurred between her and Captain Tracy there is no mention, but it must have been one to stir the deepest emotions in the young girl head of a squaw, frequently mentioned Certain it is that at the expiration a year Miss Lefevre became Mrs. Captain Tracy. City of Presidents In Pilgrim Shaft At Provincetown

It is surprising that a movement was not inaugurated some weeks ago to secure a Quincy stone for the Pilgrim shaft to be erected at Provincetown. On the 20th of this month the corner stone will be laid by President Roose velt with imposing ceremonies, and Quincy should not be content unless it is announced at that time that the City of Presidents will be in the list of towns contributing stones.

Very few stones can date as far back ummer Outing Goods. at Plymouth. The stone would read:

All of the Cape towns will provide tablets, and as new places are being listed daily a complete list is impossible, but long before the shaft is completed it is expected hundreds more will furnish stones. They will be inserted in the stone work of the interior and be in full view of of the interior and be in full view of those ascending or descending the shaft and will greatly enhance the inner

The face where the inscription is placed will be polished. The idea is similar to that of the States in the Washington monument at Washington, and the idea was conceived by Sergeant Edwin E. Snow of Boston, who is bringing the matter to a successful end. The Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts, Harvard College and the Scots Charitable Society, the organizations which practically ruled the government of affairs in Colonial days, will have tablets in conspic ious positions.

The corner stone of the monument is also of Quincy granite, and Cavanaugh Bros. have it nearly completed. The laying of the corner stone will be a gala day, and several of Uncle Sam's battleships will be in the harbor.

It was George H. Wilson, the excouncilman, who suggested to the Daily Ledger that Quincy have a stone, and Must Be Represented he has already contributed $1 to a popular subscription. MANY MOORS KILLED

Started Fight at Casablanca by Firing on Frenchmen

A RESPONSE WITH BAYONETS

Followed by Bombardment of Native Quarter by Cruiser Galilee--No Europeans Among the Dead, Which Will Run Into the Hundreds

Tangier, Aug. 7 .- Casablanca, on the Moroccan coast, has been bombarded by French cruisers, the Moors are reported to have been shot down in large numbers and the town, since last Sunday night, has been practically in the possession of landing parties from French and Spanish cruisers.

The first shots were fired by the Moors. The Frenchmen responded with a bayonet charge and the bombardment of the native quarter with 11.45 millinite shells. The Frenchmen had 12.00 12.00 six men wounded, but no men killed. 12.15 12.45 No European residents were hurt.

The occupation of Casablanca is direct outcome of the native uprising which resulted in the killing last week of eight Europeans at Casablanca. Both France and Spain are hurrying other warships, with troops and marines on board, to various points on the Moroccan coast, for the protection of foreigners. Under the terms of the Algeciras convention these two powers are charged with the policing of the seaports of Morocco, and their action at Casabianca has brought no protest from any power. The states of Europe have expressed their willingness that France and Spain restore order in Morocco. No other countries are involved.

News of the fighting at Casablanca was brought here by the steamer Anatole. On Saturday night the French naval officer in command informed the Moorish authorities that he was going to land, a force for the protection of the French consul. Authorization to do so was given. The force went ashore Sunday morning at daybreak.

The Frenchmen were no sooner or the beach than they were fired upon by Moorish soldiers, and in this first encounter the French force sustained all its casualties. The Frenchmen fought their way to their consultte, and then signalled the cruiser Galilee to bombard the native quarter. The Galilee at once opened up on the Moors. She was joined at 11 o'clock by the French cruiser Du Chayla, and both vessels fired until 2000 rounds of ammuni tion had been expended. This fire is said to have been disastrous to the cruisers, but it was quickly silenced departure. and reduced.

A second French landing party went ashore and joined the first party at the Spanish cruiser Don Alvaro de Bazan was landed and occupied the Spanish consulate. The European quarter of Casablanca was not damaged.

The remainder of the European resi dents of Casablanca are either at their respective consulates or have taken refuge on board a German and an English vessel in the harbor.

France and Spain have agreed on the terms of a Franco-Spanish note informing the powers signatory of the Alge ciras convention, including the United States, of their intention to keep the terms of the convention in dealing with the situation in Morocco. The next measures to be adopted depend largely upon what develops at Casablanca as a result of the occupation of that town.

Frenchmen Showed Great Bravery London, Aug. 7 .- In a dispatch from Tangier the correspondent of The Times says congratulations are due the French government for the prominent measures it has taken at Casablanca and the French seamen who, in the face of overwhelming numbers, showed splendid courage and undoubtedly blanca from massacre.

According to the latest reports, shots were fired Sunday on the French consulate and when the French consul demanded protection from the governor State board within 24 hours after dis- and military commander of the town these officials replied that they were powerless to guarantee safety, and in vited the commander of the Galilee to disembark troops. It appears that first French landing party. The men consequently found themselves in a trap and their way barred by uniformed Moorish troops, who immediately opened fire. The seamen cleared their way by a bayonet charge, literally forcing their passage over the dead bodies of the Moorish soldiers.

Hundreds of Moorish Dead Paris, Aug. 7.-A special dispatch received here from Tangier says the street fighting in and the bombardment of Casablanca, according to a refugee who arrived from there on the steamer Anatole, continued throughout Sunday and was still in progress when the Anatole left at 6 o'clock Sunday evening. The French ships fired a total of about 2000 shells. The number of Moorish dead will run into the hundreds. A single party of marines killed 150 Moors. The French wounded num- clines to negotiate until Caid MacLean, 1 m. | killed.

BOMB FOR EVANGELIST

Tactics of Conversion Objected to by Connecticut Farmers

Greenwich, Conn., Aug. 7 .- Raising the cry of "witchcraft," as did their ancestors when they burned Ann Hutchinson at the stake 300 years ago, a mob of farmers stormed a house at Pemberwick hamlet. They threw a bomb at an itinerant evangelist within. They accused him of mesmerizing the neighborhood.

Henry Spilkins, the preacher, escaped death by a miracle, as did the little flock of "Pentecostals" he had gathered about him. The countryside alleges they were saved by black art hypnotism.

Three weeks ago Spilkins, swarth thick set and eloquent, found his way into Pemberwick and announced that he would hold Pentecostal revivals un til he had converted the "godless com munity."

The farmers for miles about, all pros perous, all orthodox and most of them igorous Baptists, Methodists or Presbyterians, laughed at the "Salvation ist," as they called him, and warned him to leave at once.

Youth Killed by Excitement Uxbridge, Mass., Aug. 7.-Grace Vance was standing in front of her home late at night when her father came to the door and ordered Perry Goldthwaite, who was talking with his daughter, to leave his yard. Goldthwaite, it is said, refused to move, and blows were about to be struck when Edward Vance, aged 20, came running out of the house. He rushed up to the trio and in another instant he had thrown his arms into the air and sank backwards upon the grass, dead, the excitement having killed him.

Leominster, Mass., Aug. 7.-Herber E. Fletcher, aged 27 and unmarried, fired four shots at close range from a revolver at Oscar Bessey, 29, and Miss Della Edgerly, 26, while they were scated on the piazza at Fletcher's home. One of the bullets struck Bessey in the left cheek and caused an ugly, but not a dangerous wound. Fletcher when placed under arrest, refused to talk about the affair.

More Delay In Eddy Case Concord, N. H., Aug. 7 .- The caption before Magistrate Cook for the taking of the New Hampshire depositions in connection with the equity proceedings brought by "next friends" to secure an accounting of the property of Mrs. Mary B. G. Eddy, which was continued from last week, was again postponed yesterday until Thursday. George W Glover, Mrs. Eddy's son, was in court.

Father to Claim That Amount For Death of His Son

CLAIMS HE WAS SCALDED

Said to Have Been Kept Forty Minutes In Water of IIO Degrees For Treatment of Disease Caught In State Reformatory

Boston, Aug. 7 .- The Post says: It is likely that some very startling dis closures as to the state of affairs at the Concord reformatory will be made when the $100,000 suit of Vinal H. Brown of Cambridge against the state comes up for trial. Brown claims that amount in damages for the death of his 17-year-old son, Frank, who died at the nstitution July 25 while in a hot bath. When seen last night Brown gave out this statement: my former wife for some time, but I was his legal guardian. He was com mitted to the Concord reformatory for the theft of five sticks of chewing gum I was not notified of the offense or of the subsequent commitment. My first awakening to the way that matters stood I received on July 27, when was informed that my boy was dead This was two days after the occurrence. I went to the undertaker's rooms, and after some delay, was permitted to view the body.

"I once worked in a bath, and while there saw a boy scalded to death in water of 125 degrees, after a three minute immersion; and my son, they told me, was kept 40 minutes in water of 110 degrees. What disease it was that required such treatment I was not able to learn at the reformatory. The body of my son was covered with blisters, and he was black in the face, and bore every indication of a death by scalding. I have retained a firm of the best lawyers in the state, and I will spend my all in my endeavor to get sat-

Mr. Brown says that the doctor at the reformatory said that the boy had caught the disease while at the institution, and "that it was a common occurrence, too '

A prominent official in East Boston, one in a position to know what goes on at the place, is quoted as saying "that he would shoot any one who attempted to commit a son of his to that place.' Just what these statements may mean. Brown says, will come out at the trial. and meanwhile he will get evidence for

Mr. Brown is an employe at Coleman Bros.' yards, where he is engineer. He has a son in the navy on the battleship Missouri.

War Implements Keep Peace Liverpool, Aug. 7.-The British channel fleet, consisting of 17 battleships and cruisers, commanded by Admiral Beresford, are here to participate in the celebration of the foundation of Liverpool. In an address, Beresford said that if armaments were reduced it was absolutely certain that this country would soon be involved in war. All implements of war were deplorable, but they kept peace, and the British fleet should be so strong that anybody violating peace should be immediately annihilated. Clergyman and Friend Drowned Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 7 .- Rev. Edward McConnell and Claude Friendship were out in a small sailboat in company with two other men. While the boat was making a tack the boom knocked Friendship overboard. He could not swim and McConnell, who could swim, leaped after the sinking man. Friendship grabbed him about the neck and both sank from view. They never came up.

Germany Wants the "Big End" London, Aug. 7 .- The St. Petersburg correspondent of The Tribune declares that Emperor William and Emperor Nicholas discussed, during their meeting at Swinemunde, a proposal that Russia should negotiate a loan of $62, 500,000 in Germany on condition that this sum be expended exclusively for the rebuilding of the Russian navy, and that orders for warships be placed only in Germany.

Big Gun Explosion Explained Toulon, Aug. 7.—The official inquiry into the explosion here of one of the 100-millimetre guns of the French training ship Couronne, as a result of which three men were killed and seven wounded, has found that a shell exploded in the gun before the breach was closed, but whether the explosion was an accident or was due to negli gence has not yet been determined.

Operating Without a Charter Marion, Ata., Aug. 7 .- A grand jury returned an indictment against the Southern railway for doing business in Alabama as a foreign company without license. This action was taken as a result of Secretary of State Julian's action in revoking the charter of the company because the railway removed a case from a state to a federal court.

Suicide of Husband and Wife Naples, Aug. 7.-Mr. and Mrs. Buck ingham, who came from New York, committed suicide by taking poison at Castellamar. The reason for the act was that they had sustained serious

OF QUINCY, MASS. (Legal Title - Incorporated 1892.)

The Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an Endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class or classes, the Boys Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor.

Young Men's Christian Association

The Treasurer, WILLIAM F. CUMMINGS, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, Ernest G. Gav, will be happy to answer inquiries.

OUR HOSPITAL

(Legal Title: City Hospital of Quincy) INCORPORATED 1889

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy easily appeal for donations and bequests for the faowment fund. This now amounts to over $60.00 but a fund of at least $100.000 is urgently needed. Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) will endow a Free Bed to which such name may be given as the Donor may desire, but any sum for this noble institution which stands ready to serve us all in the hour of need will be most gratefully received. The Secretary, Timothy Reed, Adams Stating, or the Treasurer, Richard D. Chasa avings Bank Building, Quincy, will be very glade confer with any one or to anywer any inquiries.

Over 4000 Tons Of Armor Plate Required for New Battleship

President Bowles of the Fore River hipbuilding Company has telegraphed from Washington, that he has signed the contract with the U.S. Governent for the construction of one of the 0,000 ton battleships, authorized by the last Congress. The Fore River Company was awarded one of these ships to build sometime ago, but cerain details as to time and other matters held up the signing of the actual ontract until now.

This great vessel has no name at the present time, being known as "No. 29" and the question of her name is one which is receiving considerable attention. It is likely that the sister ship will be named Delaware and there has been quite a deal of talk about naming been quite a deal of talk about naming William B. Weston, 1907."

and on the face of the second base will appear the inscription "Presented by Brigade will take a prominent part in Iris, F. F. Crane, battleships the New York. There is in the navy at the present time a cruiser empire state to be given as the official lesignation of this new battleship.

These two battleships just contracted to as the American Dreadnaughts but is ten feet. this appellation does not properly belong to them because they differ from the Dreadnaught type in many ways. Since the name of Delaware bas been given to one of the two vessels they are alluded to as of the Delaware type. Their dimen-Navy Department are:

0.000 tons. Mean draft to bottom of keel at tria lisplacement, 27 ft.

Total coal banker capacity, (about) Coal carried on trial, 1000 tons. Feed water carried on trial, 66 tons.

Speed on trial, 21 knots. The tremendously powerful armament of these new battleships is clearly shown by this official statement of the uns she is to carry: Main Battery,-Ten 12-inch breech oading rifles.

Secondary Battery, -Fourteen 5-inch rapid fire guns, four 3-pounder saluting guns, four 1-pounder semi-automatic guns, two 3-inch field pieces, two machine guns, caliber 30 and two suberged torpedo tubes.

The cost of battleship No. 29 to be built at Quincy is $4,480,000, and the two vessels together will use up 8377 tons of armor plate.

The work of preparing additional equipment in the Fore River Company's yard, needed to meet the requirements of this contract for the 20,000 ton battleship, is well under way and now that the contract has been formally signed the work of preparing patterns, models and other necessary preliminaries will be pushed forward. It will be perhaps three months from now before the keel of the new battleship can be laid. The time alloted for the completing of the battleship is 34 1-2 months, and an interesting point about this great vessel is that she will be propelled by Curtis turbines.

The exact spot in the yard at Fore River where the No. 29 will be built has already been determined upon. It will be built in the slip from which the steam collier Everett was recently launched, but between the present date and the time for laying the keel of the big ship the company will build and launch from that same slip the freight steamer Altamaha for the Brunswick Civil Engineer and Surveyor, Steamship company. This freighter will be a sister vessel of the Satilla, Ogeechee and Ossabaw, built by the Fore River Company for the Brunswick Steamship Company. The Altamaha will be a vessel of 5,000 tons displacement and a length of 313 feet and made especially adapted to carry a large

Appoint a Committee to Consider the House Problem

A regular meeting of the Board of Trade was held Wednesday evening. President Williams presided.

After the routine business, during which several were admitted to membership, the topic of the evening was taken up. This was the subject of providing tenements for the employes of the Fore River Shipbuilding Co. There was quite a lengthy discussion on the subject, during which the need of more tenements in the Ward Two district was set forth.

It was brought out that at the present time there was a decided lack of tenements, and as a result many who would become residents of Quincy are 2 12 34 2 12 34 obliged to seek homes elsewhere, and 2 14 21 2 14 21 that it was also a detriment to the busi-2 14 52 2 14 52 ness of the Fore River Company.

TRIAL BOARD WELL PLEASED

First Battleship of Her Class Built by Government--Practically Free From Vibration During High Speed -- Fireman Killed During Test

Rockland, Me., Aug. 8 .- In a series of 14 runs over a measured mile course outside of the harbor, the first-class bat-Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock tleship Connecticut, the first battleship of the class built by the government, made a showing which was highly satisfactory to Rear Admiral Evans and the trial board. The average speed of the best five runs was 18.73 knots. The number of propellor revolutions required to make that speed was 127.7. In her five best runs, the Louisiana, a sister ship of the Connecticut, which was built by the Newport News Shipbuilding company, attained an averag speed of 18.59, showing that the government-built boat was faster than the Louisiana in the name number of runs

The number of revolutions neces sary to make 18 knots an hour, the speed required, has not yet been figured. The maximum number of screw revolutions was 128.84 a minute. The number made by the Louisiana was 125 The weather conditions were perfect. The Connecticut had a draft five inches greater than that of the Louisiana at days to get the cash. Consisting of all kinds of the time of her trial, and the Connecti cut's displacement was about 350 tone greater than that of her sister ship.

The trial was marred by a fatal acci dent. L. M. Turner, a fireman, who was borrowed from the battleship Ohio for the test, was killed by a bucket of ashes falling on him. The bucket, which weighed about 200 pounds, fell while being hoisted from the fireroom best chance ever offered. striking Turner on the head. He died an hour later.

The members of the naval trial board say that the ship was particularly free from vibration during her highest speed and they are very much pleased over her behavior. The battleship left the harbor at 10 o'clock yesterday fore noon and started over the course jusafter 11 o'clock. She returned to the harbor last evening to await instruc tions regarding the disposition of Tur ner's body. Rear Admiral Evans was anxious to reach New York as soon as possible and it had been planned to have the Connecticut start immediately after the trial on her four hours' endurance run to sea and continue d rect to that .city. A heavy rain and thick mist set in, however, during the evening, and it was decided to defer the run to New York until today.

Flyer Crushed Lives Out Allenhurst, N. J., Aug. 8 .- Four per sons, employes of the Norwood house, were instantly killed last night when their carriage was run, down by a Pennsylvania passenger flyer at the Corlies avenue crossing here. The carriage was squarely on the rails when the flier, the approach of which had been hidden by an oppositely moving special, tore across the roadway. Horses, carriage and occupants were ground to bits.

Alleged Larceny of Over $20,000 Kingston, N. Y., Aug. 8.—Amhers W. Belcher, superintendent of the Cor nell Steamboat company's machine shops here, was arrested, charged with grand larceny. Belcher admitted hav ing defrauded the company. It is alleged that he has been retaining the proceeds of sales of materials belong ing to the company. He is charged with having thus profited to the ex tent of between $20,000 and $30,000.

Two Girls and Man Drowned Newton, N. J., Aug. 8 .- James Johnson, aged 21, Harriet S. Linkard, aged 16 and Helen Bloomer aged 18, were drowned while bathing in the lake here. With a girl on either arm, John son was clinging to a raft moored near the shore, and in what was supposed to be water reaching only to their waists. Suddenly one of the girls screamed and the three bathers sank together.

From Hospital to Jail Washington, Aug. 8 .- Efforts to secure the $15,000 bail demanded having failed, Mrs. Anna Bradley, slayer of former Senator Arthur Brown of Utah, has been returned to the district jail to await her trial. Our Lost Sense. One of the greatest discoveries of physiology is that we once had six senses. What the lost sense was no one knows, and probably no one wil ever know, but that our forefathers possessed it there is no doubt, for the remains of that part of the brain in which it resided are still to be seen in any one of us. These remain are simply a small and now perfectly useless little mass of brain substance called the pituitary body. It consists of two tiny little oval lobes joined together and lying in a little cavity of the skull, strangely named the sella turcica and situated over and behind the nose. It is quite possible that it may have enabled our forefathers to see in the dark before lamps and canthe Students' Club of Working Girls, placed them in communion with ghosts and fairies, or it may have been an organ that enabled them to go home in a bee line when they lost their way in the primeval forests. On the other hand, it is possible that it was a bad substitute for vision or smell or hearing and ded out when the improved 171 Whicher's factory, Union Street. sense organ developed.

"The same holds good of cakes. You enter a restaurant or a bakery in which coffee is served. The obliging waiter will set before you a specially designed cake holder on which the several varieties are placed in convenient tiers, so that you pick out any kind you want without disarranging the whole.

"There is another feature of restaurant customs in Germany that struck me as out of the ordinary. While perhaps a dozen cakes are set before you to choose from, you only pay for the pare at night all the stock that keeps exact number you eat. Autopsy Held.

An autopsy was held by Medical Examiner Jones today to determine the cause of death of Miss Annie Adamson, who died Thursday night at the City Hospital. The girl who was 21 years of age was taken sick Wednesday night at the home of her sister at 1 Copeland street. Dr. Anderson U. II. was called and ordered her removal to the City Hospital. Her case was somewhat puzzling and other physicians were called in consultation. The indications were that the girl died of inflamation of the Kidneys.

The autopsy was held at Hall's KING undertaking rooms.

The total tax levy is $553,548.38 which is $36,834.32 larger than in 1906. All this increase will be found in the first two items, the amount for current municipal expenses being $13,-371.83 larger, and the city sewer tax $26,904.48 larger, a total of increase of over $40,000.00. There are increases in some of the other items but they are offset by reductions in maturing city debt, in some of the interest charges, in a smaller county tax, and by increase of water receipts.

Previous to last year the sewer asessments levied upon abutters, paid the maturing debt, interest and maintenance of the Sewer department, Last year it was necessary to include $6,000.00 in the tax levy, and this year the sum of $32,904.48 is included. This increase alone increases the tax rate about $1.00.

The Assessors have this year applied water receipts to the amount of $28,395.55 to the reduction of the Metropolitan water assessment which was $50,027.14 this year, an increase of $3,713.98 over last year. If the $28,395.55 had been added to the item of $31,484.40 for estimated receipts, the total city receipts this year would have been $59,879.95 against $47,828.40 smallest for several years, and is due to a loss of personal property. The increase in real estate was $644,950.00, about the usual amount, but the decrease in personal was $262,780.00 instead of a gain. The total valuation is $27,169,055.00, an increase of $382,-170.00 in one year, and $17,411,095.00 in 19 years.

The tax rate of $19.70 is a record breaker for Quincy, being fifty cents more than in 1899 which was high water mark, and $1.10 more than in 1906. Since 1903 the tax rate has steadily advanced.

Started the Ball Rolling at Battle of Casablanca

pected to Surrender Offered Resistance, but Were Soon Vanquished -- Looting at Once Begun by Arabs

London, Aug. 9 .- A long dispatel has been received here from an eye witness of the recent events at Casablanca. It is dated Aug. 8. The writer says that Saturday and Sunday passed perfectly quiet in Casablanca, Muley Amin, the military governor, having employed soldiers to guard the town from Arab attack and done everything possi ble conscientiously to secure its safety

"There were a number of Arabs 12 miles distant," the writer goes on, "but a majority of them had returned to their interrupted harvesting and it was supposed that the French would at tempt nothing with the small force available from the Galilee. We all re tired to rest with quiet minds.

"At 4 o'clock Monday morning, how ever, we were suddenly alarmed by a summons to repair to the British consulate, owing to notice from the Galilee that it was intended to land a force and occupy the town at 5 o'clock." The correspondent describes the and 6 o'clock and the subsequent events as narrated in former dispatches. Continuing, he says:

"Singly, and carrying disjointed rifles concealed in valises to avoid sus picion, a party of the Galilee's men had been conveyed Saturday to the French consulate, where they now took up their position on the terrace of the roof They commanded the fore-shore and : corner of the town, and also took in the watergate batteries from the rear.

"A furious musketry fire broke out along the waterfront, and a dull boom ing from the old Moorish battery showed that after all Muley Amin and his soldiers were doing something. The made, however, a poor resistance and their fire soon ceased.

"In the meantime the roar of the Galilee's guns increased and shells were seen bursting all over the Moorish Wounded men were seen The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Their mission apparently was successful, for the firing soon ceased and at 9 o'clock publi criers were about proclaiming that the town was to be shelled no longer. We ate our next meal with quiet minds.

"It should be explained that the European residents of Casablanca had all along deprecated any action by the French with an insufficient force, and this view the French had been with difficulty induced to adopt, and even over night, in announcing their intention of occupying the town, the French had apparently believed their fleet would arrive immediately and that no resist ance need be expected. In fact Muley Amin had previously declared his will ingness to surrender the town on being informed that resistance would be fu-

"Whether the resistance actually offered was an outcome of a blunder on the part of some individual or whether it was tempted by the smallness of the French landing party, it is impos sible to ascertain, but what followed was exactly what was predicted to occur by those best qualified to speak with knowledge of the conditions. "With the firing of the first shot the authority of Muley Amin and his organization vanished. His soldiers bolted with their rifles, leaving the town exposed to rapine and pillage, in which they themselves participated. By breakfast time we began to see mer staggering along the streets under heavy burdens, and fierce white-robed Arabs, carrying guns and mounted on fine horses, began to ride about, directing the looting operations. Even wo men were seen carrying loads and assisting in the pillage. "From afar we heard the shricking and wailing of the Jews, and we knew they were being beaten and murdered by the Arabs. There were other indications that the French were not able with the small force at their command to secure possession of the three landward gates. The increasing number of Arabs engaged in the work of pillage showed us that, attracted by the sound of firing, the tribesmen were galloping in to fulfil the dream of the Arabs' life, the looting of a town. "During the morning the French cruisers Forbin and Du Chayla and the High water-12 m.; 12 p. m. Spanish gunboat Don Alvaro de Bazan Fair weather will prevail in New arrived, but it was 2 o'clock in the af- England; cooler on the coast.

"The wailing and the shooting in the Jewish quarter and the section inhabited by rich Moors continued, and the horrors that took place subsequently in large sections of the town not covered by the French and the Spanish rifle fire never will be told. From the back of the consulate I saw Jews being beaten and shot and their houses being emptied by a rabble led by Arabs. WARSHIP THEN TOOK PART I saw Moorish women being dragged squealing from their houses. People who know the local conditions best de cline to speak or think of the horrors been subjected.

TALKING HOLY WAR

Anti-Foreign Sentiment Is Growing In Morocco

NATIVE TROOPS UNRELIABLE

Lying About Casablanca--Worst Features of Massacre In Jewish Quarter Have Not Yet Reen Related

Tangler, Aug. 9.—The horrors of the looting of Casablanca by native tribes-QUINCY. men are just becoming known and their recital is inflaming the minds of the natives against all Europeans. The situation in various coast towns is worse. The natives are excited. A holy war is being preached at . Rabat. Antiforeign sentiment is growing as a result of the activities of fanatical agitators. There is fear of a general outbreak.

A number of European families are preparing to flee from Tangier. The Angora tribesmen in the immediate vicinity of Tangier are restless and may get out of hand. The Moorish authorities have practically no control of the situation.

There are many complaints among the Europeans that France acted ill advisedly at Casablanca in bombarding that town before protection could be arranged for the Jews and Europeans there and elsewhere on the coast and in the interior.

The news from Casablanca, while conflicting as to the situation there to day, unites in showing that the bom bardment was continued far longe than was first supposed and that the lack of an adequate French force to af ford protection resulted in an opportu nity for barbarous looting, rapine and pillage, with all the accompaniment of murdering and horror. The firs French landing parties could not control the situation. Moorish authority vanished with the first French gun shot and lawlessness reigned.

It is reported that between 3000 and 4000 French and Spanish marines and bluejackets are ashore at Casablanca and that order has been restored. Th Europeans there are all safe. The loss of life among the Moors resulting from the bombardment appears to be much greater than was first indicated. There has been a native outbreak against the kaid at Mazagan. Thi port has been bombarded by the French cruiser Du Chayla. A large portion o the town was destroyed. The con sulates were not damaged. Many Jews are said to have been killed a Mazagan. The Sultan of Morocco, is reported, has not yet been informed of the gravity of the situation. It is reported from Mogador that

Maelanin, the fanatical priest, is marching on Mogador at the head of The greatest anxiety prevails here regarding the situations in the various towns. The native troops are regarded as unreliable, and if a general out break occurs the results are likely to be most serious.

It is rumored that the Tangera tribesmen are close to Tangier and fir ing is audible. This has increased the general alarm.

Nearly 200 Moors were killed at Casablanca and the corpses are lying about the town and in the outskirts, mangled and decomposing. The Jewish quarter of Casablanca was entirely ruined and the Jews are in a state of terror. The shells destroyed the principa shrine of the Moorish patron saint.

Each fresh batch of news from Casa blanca confirms previous reports of th horrors of the situation there and it i feared that the worst features of the massacre in the Jewish quarter have not yet been related. The stence from decomposing bodies is described as fearful; the air is thick with stale smoke and filled with flies, while the empty, looted houses tell their own tale France and Spain, the two powers responsible for the maintenance of or der, are sending in reinforcements Cruisers and transports are proceed ing with all speed for Casablanca and other coast points. France, in order to restore security and order, may be forced to occupy a number of Moorish ports and perhaps even send a puni tive expedition to Fez.

France Has a Difficult Task Paris, Aug. 9.—The more serious newspapers are fully alive today to the heavy task that confronts France and Spain in Morocco, and all the possibilities of its becoming greater. The Petit Republique says:

"The people of Europe face the dilemma of either quitting Moroeco or making themselves respected by their own methods. This is what France and Spain are doing in the name of the rest of Europe, for it is inadmissable that Morocco should remain the only closed country in the world."

The Journal calls attention to the magnitude of the operations that may have to be undertaken in the fighting of all the big Moroccan tribes, who long ago threw off the yoke of the gov ernment and lapsed into barbarism.

Not Seeking Foreign Loan St. Petersburg, Aug. 9.-Minister of Finance Kokovsoff denies that the Rus- Sawed and Split to Order at Short Notice sian government has any foreign loan in contemplation, and says he does not intend to carry out any credit operations before the expiration of the two years' period stipulated in contracting the last loan at Paris in April, 1906.

Unless Uric-O Is Used

Sudden Deaths, Heart Failure and Paralysis Are Caused By Poisonous Urle and Rheumatic Acids

The Rheumatic person is skeptical regarding the claims of almost any remedy adertised as a cure for Rheumatism and one can scarcely blame him for being so. All the plasters and liniments combined never actually cured a case of Rheumatism. They may relieve it in one quarter, but it is sure to break out somewhere else. The only true way to cure Rheumatism is to drive it from the system, for as long as the Uric and Rheumatic Acid remains in the blood, one is in the blood, muscles and kidneys, renders it inert and harmless and drives it out of the system. That is effective cure for Rheumatism,

Patti and the Wasp.

One of Charles Santley's most amus ing experiences occurred at Brecon when he assisted Mme. Patti in giving a concert in aid of the local hospital. The prima donna appeared with Mr. Santley in a duet. The vocalists had just recommenced singing when the baritone burst out laughing and left the platform. His companion almost immediately followed, although she attempted to continue. In response to loud cheers Mme. Patti returned and said, "The cause of all this merriment is that a wasp has been trying to get into my mouth, and we could not go on."-London Tit-Bits Rockefeller remarked: "Who is more interested in the material prosperity Moran. The basis of talk is that the of this country than I am?

"My eggs are not all in one basket, by any means. A good deal of non sense is printed every now and then about my having captured all the railroads of the country or having monopolized this or that. The truth is that I figure as an investor and stockholder rather than as a proprietor. But any depression is likely to mean a loss of values to me. The grocery man may not feel it if the coal business is bad, or the wheat growers suffer if the railroads lose, but the man with wider interests feels every phase of depression. I do not mean that I am in the grocery or coal or wheat business, but I am using this illustration. It is a fact that hardly any sort of business can experience dull times without loss to me. It should be plain, then, that I have the best right to be anxious for good times all around. Would I permit, business if I could help it?

"Whether I like it or not, I must work for the rest. I cannot evade this responsibility if I would. But I do not complain of this. I am willing to draw my share of the load as long as I am

"The first step I took," he said. "meant obligating myself to workingmen, who henceforward looked to me for employment, and investors, who put in their money and looked to me the load was heavier. Today, retired from active business, retired, that is, from business myself, the capital I have invested makes work for thousands and opens opportunities for other thousands to place their savings profitably. No man with money can escape this responsibility or loosen this yoke from his neck.

"We are servants and not masters, large business affairs. The richest man can eat but three meals a day, and it does not take a fortune to dress very well indeed, or to provide real luxury in living.

"The men who have acquired the largest fortunes have not pursued wealth, but business successes. They continue to toil at their desks because they love an achievement, for the keen delight in creating where nothing was award will affect 45,000 men. and some time, I believe, people will be convinced that they are toiling for love of country as well.'

When it comes to the attacks on him and his associates, Rockefeller shows himself the philosopher. He does not pretend to like the assaults, nor does he pretend to haughty indifference and he is not affectedly flippant in his comments. But he is not bitter toward those who assail him. He says it is a misunderstanding that will right itself in time. He frankly regrets it, but he seems even more distressed at what he considers the danger of losing a good opportunity to capture the trade of the world than even the personal phase of the attacks.

"We are proud of our national sense of good humor," remarked Rockefeller. "If we must have little family jars among ourselves why should we let the outside world laugh at our angry faces Why should we waste any energy we need to build up the country in tearing each other to pieces? was successful, but the patient died?" Mr. Rockefeller was asked why he did not run away from the hue and cry that pursued him, He laughed: "Perhaps because my favorite music is 'Yankee Doodle,' "he suggested. Then

"I suppose I might have converted my interests into gold at one time and have taken my money to England or some pleasant part of Europe where Oil King Has Obligated Himself to life is organized to make things comfortable for the man with money to spend. Why Do Country Boys Flock to Big Cities?

Most small towns are short of young men. As a rule there are plenty of agreeable girls who would not object to matrimony; there are plenty of old people and enough babies to go around. But the boy-oh, where is

The boy, the young man, has gone to the city, where he imagines there are opportunities. To him the old home town is dull and stupid. He sees no future for himself there. Both for social and financial considerations he rushes off to the great city. Very frequently he finds that he is lonesomer there than at home—nearly always so; and even more frequently he finds that riches do not grow on ten story walls.

BUT STILL HE GOES TO THE CITY.

In going there the boy simply follows his daddy's dollars. For years his daddy and his mother and his big sister and his Aunt Mary Ann have been mailing their money to the big city for Mail Order bargains.

> Result: Home merchants don't thrive, grass grows in the streets, no jobs are to be had, no opening for a new business, and the young man goes to the city because it is a place where people have traded at home and built up their own community and provided opportunities for outsiders as well as for themselves.

One day his wife went to make a visit to a distant friend who had a telephone in her house. During the afternoon the farmer visited a near neighbor who also boasted a house telephone and who persuaded the farmer to call up his wife as a little surprise. Following instructions he put the receiver to his ear and, after the usual preliminaries, he shouted:

"Hello, Jane." Just then a flash of lightning caused by the heat of the summer day struck the wire, and he fell sprawling to the floor. The neighbor was chagrined that the old man should meet with such an accident on his first trial of a telephone and assured him that such a thing would not happen except in case of storms. He Didn't Inject It.

An elderly resident of Lynn, Mass., was talking about Mrs. Eddy, the head of the Christian Science church.

"When she lived here in Lynn," said the old man, "she conducted a temperance campaign for a time. She did a lot of good, though now and then she met with a rebuff. The story goes that a tramp once asked her for help.

Bismarck and the Ambassador.

Lord Russell, the English ambassador at the German court, called one day on Prince Bismarck at the palace of the latter, in Berlin. During the conversation Lord Russell remarked that a man in the chancellor's position must be bothered with a great many troublesome callers.

"God knows how true that is," sighed the prince. "But you certainly have some remedy or other to get rid of such people quickly?" "Oh, certainly," laughed Bismarck "One of my best is that my good wife comes in to call me away on some pretext or other. Of course the caller can't remain after that." These words were hardly uttered, when the princess entered and said in the most harmless way: "Otto, it is time to take your medicine. Do not

Lord Russell broke into a ringing laugh and took his leave at once.

Would Not Compromise. A German traveler who tried to pass a meal ticket on the train was told by the conductor that he would have to pay the regular fare of 35 cents. The German argued and refused to pay more than 25 cents, whereupon the conductor stopped the train and put him off.

In a twinkling the traveler ran ahead of the engine and started to walk on the track. The engineer blew his whistle violently, but the irate German turned, shook his fist and called out: "You can vissle all you

Lowell, Mass, Aug. 10 .- Operating so boldly that his inaggrity was un-Leave Stops Arrive Leave Stops Arrive doubted, a man giving his name as Charles Bansa succeeded in getting $2700 from the Traders' National bank of Lowell on a check that was worthless. A glib stranger, it appears, called Thursday afternoon at the law office of Burke & Corbett, in Lowell. He was going to open a new liquor store in Lowell and was seeking information, he pretended, about the city, and, incidentally, wanted to be referred to a good bank in which to deposit.

Mr. Burke is president of the Traders' National bank, and he suggested that the new merchant place his trade with his bank. The result was that when the stranger left it was to deposit a check for $11,500 in the institution. The check was certified and was drawn on the State Street Trust company of Boston. Soon after banking was resumed yesterday at the Lowell institution the stranger appeared and drew $2700 on his account. After he had departed with the money some one in the bank became worried concerning the certified check, even though the stranger was called by telephone; it was learned that the check was a bad one, and the police were set upon the trail.

Fund Growing For Quincy Stone

The subscriptions for the Quincy stone to be placed in the new Pilgrim monu ment at Provincetown continue to grow, the amount to date being as follows:

e amount to date	being as follows.

Only 37 others w	ill have an opport

ity to contribute as only $45 is the total

Very few stones can date as far back as Quincy, as Braintree of which Quincy was a part was settled five years after the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth. The stone would read:

Among the cities and towns already represented are: Boston, Cambridge, Arlington, Lexington, Billerica, Woburn, Gloucester, Amesbury, Marblehead, Boxford, Worcester, Springfield, Northampton, Hartford, Hadley, Marlboro, Sandwich, Yarmouth, Wellfleet Nantucket, Lakeville, Taunton, Rehoboth, New Bedford, East Bridgewater, Hingham, Hadley, Medford, Pembroke, Carver, Hanover, Plympton, Revere, West Bridgewater, Marion, Waltham, Walpole, Fitchburg, Gardner, Groton, Lowell, Lawrence, Chelmsford, Manchester, Ipswich, Sudbury, Brookfield, Barnstable, Saugus, Lynn, Carlton, Berkely, Somerville, Methuen, Lancaster, Bolton, Brookfield, Whitman, Abington, Scituate, Halifax, Biddeford, Me., Portsmouth, N. H., Provincetown, fore any yacht secured the necessary Harwich.

Bristol, "Pemaquid," will have the distinction of baying the oldest stone marking, 1607, and Little Compton and Bristol, now in Rhode Island, also have the distinction of belonging to the original settlement, and these stones will be given a place of prominence. All of the Cape towns will provide tablets, and as GIVI new places are being listed daily a complete list is impossible, but long before the shaft is completed it is expected bundreds more will furnish stones, They will be inserted in the stone work of the interior and be in full view of those ascending or descending the shaft and will greatly enhance the inner

It may not be generally known, but all these stones will be of Quincy granite, uniform in size, and cut by a Quincy arm. Kavanaugh Bros. of South Quincy have the contract and they inform the Ledger that the size of the stones are 2 feet 6 in. by 1 foot, 8 in., by 1 foot thick. The face where the inscription is placed will be polished.

The idea is similar to that of the States in the Washington monument at Washington, and the idea was conceived by Sergeant Edwin E. Snow of Boston, who is bringing the matter to a successful end.

The Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts, Harvard College and the Scots Charitable Society, the organizations which practically ruled the government of affairs in Colonial days, will have tablets in conspictions positions.

The corner stone of the monument is also of Quincy granite, and Kavanaugh Bres. have it nearly completed. The laying of the corner stone will be a gala day, and several of Uncle Sam's battleships will be in the harbor.

A GENERAL UPRISING

Not Unlikely That One May Occur at Casablanca

TRIBESMEN ATTACK CAMPS

Large Portion of Town In Ruins-Moors Lost Two Thousand Men In First Fighting--Eight Hundred Decomposed Bodies Burned

Tangier, Aug. 10 .- The fighting at Casablanca is not at an end. Two concerted movements have been made on the French and Spanish forces, but in spite of this the local situation would appear to be improving. The presence of a large detachment of French troops encamped in the outskirts of the town is serving to restore confidence, and a number of the European residents who sought refuge on the ships in the harbor and at the consulates are return ing to their houses. Fears of a genera uprising, however, have by no means subsided and the situation is still critical

General Drude's camp outside Casablanca was attacked twice Thursday afternoon by tribesmen, who were suc cessfully repulsed, the warships aiding with their artillery. Thursday night the Arabs made another attempt to get into Casablanca, but were driven back, All the consulates are now heavily guarded. French and Spanish troops are now in complete possession of the town, a large portion of which is in Both Spain and France are preparing to send more men and ships to Morocco Germany is showing deep interest in the proceedings, but there are no signs of European complications. France and Spain are acting in complete har mony, and the powers are leaving them a free hand.

The Moorish losses in the first 4 hours of fighting are placed at 2000 men. The French and Spanish forces had 12 or 15 men killed or wounded.

Eight hundred bodies of Moors a Jews, more or less decomposed, alrea have been removed from the nativ dwellings. Over 20 cartloads of corpse have been picked up in the streets and carried outside the town for cremation After the sacking of the Jewish quar ter the bodies of dead Jews we dragged around the town by native with shouts of derision.

The French commander has had many wealthy Moors arrested and placed in prison because stores of arms and ammunition were discovered in their houses.

To Give Up MacLean

Tangier, Aug. 10 .- A dispatch from Alcazar says that the chief of the Kmass tribe, with 400 armed followers, suli and took Raisuli and Caid Mac Lean, his English prisoner, to Azagha where the entire tribe assembled with the intention of negotiating with : representative of the sultan for the sur render of MacLean.

Tenants' Bill Smashed by Lords

London, Aug. 10.-The house of lords last night carried certain sweeping amendment to the Irish evicted tenants' bill v ich, according to the Leberals, will stroy utterly the usefulness of the measure. One amendment greatly restricts the compulsory powers under .e bill and limits the num ber of tenants to be reinstated to 2000. The house of commons will probably decline to accept the amendments passed by the house of lords.

"How contrary a man is if he's thwarted in any little thing! And Tom and his wife are just as unreasonable. They think I ought to consider myself in great luck to marry a prosperous cattleman and settle down as their nearest neighbor. Well, I must admit I'll hate to leave them so soon. How quickly those two months have passed! I never thought I would like Colorado so well," glancing approvingly around the undulating country. "How near the moun tains seem! Firefly was aimlessly picking his way up the side of a decidedly unfamiliar looking hill. Not a sign of the trail was to be seen. "And it was so plain a child could follow it," his rider dolefully reflected. The earth became blanketed with

"Pretty nigh home by this time if he keeps up the lick he was going. Lucky I saw him tearing down the hill or I'd never have thought to look for you up here. Put on this coat and wrap this scarf over your ears. Now, climb on that rock and get up behind me."

"Dock won't carry double," said Isabel argumentatively.

"He'll have to this time," said Jim where, she felt sure, Jim, suffering grimly, reining up close to a lone bowlder. "Come here and climb on behind. Now put your arms around mewhoa!" as Dock pitched violently and into a bed of snow.

She could hear the swish of Jim's quirt bringing swift retribution to Dock as Jim again forced him close to the rock.

"You're not hurt, Isabel?" anxiously, "Come on and try it again." "No, I'm not hurt," reproachfully,

"but I prefer to walk," starting off valiantly. "Isabel, if you walk, I'll walk!" Jim's voice was as decided as her own "Oh, just as you please," she replied,

The girl caught her breath sharply. "Why, you can't walk!" she cried penitently. "I forgot about your lame

"Will you ride then?" Jim's face was white, but he would not give in. "Yes-oh, yes! Don't stand there and look like that! Why did you venture on horseback? You know the doctor forbade it!"

ing to hang on. "This beats walking, don't it?" asked Jim after a few minutes' blissfu! realization of her clinging arms.

Isabel, though she made no reply, certainly did not deny the assertion. She could not forget Jim's face in that instant when he clung to the saddle, and she was consumed by a desire to know the exact state of his feel ings toward her. Her mission to China grew all at once distasteful and stupid as viewed from behind the broad back of her brother's partner. "The storm's lifting." Jim remarked.

"We'll be home in a little while now." "What's that?" said Jim, turning his

"Y-e-s; I'm sorry for what I said about cow punchers and-and-everything." Jim managed to turn around enough to catch a glimpse of her face. "Isabel, look here. You know what I asked you before you started out on your wild goose chase. Have you got a different answer now?"

There was no escape. "Er-y-e-s"-

Company Takes Position That Operators Have No Substantial Grievance and Will Fight Str.ke Wherever Their Men May Go Out

Chicago, Aug. 10.-Following the lead of telegraph operators employed by the Western Union Telegraph company in Chicago, who struck Thursday midnight because they were asked to work with non-union men in Los Angeles, the telegraphers in nearly a dozen other cities quit work yesterday and last night. The 500 men employed by the Postal Telegraph company in Chicago, who belong to the same local of the Commercial Telegraphers in this city as the Western Union men, and who declare that their working conditions with the company have become unsatisfactory, took advantage of the situation and quit work in a body last

With the strike of the Postal employes, Chicago is left with about 35 commercial telegraphers, who are endeavoring to transmit the business of both telegraph companies, whereas under normal conditions fully 1500 men are necessary to do the work in

Other Western Union offices which have become involved in the trouble together with the number of men who quit work are: Salt Lake City, 36; Helena, 40; Kansas City, 330; Dallas, 105; Fort Worth, Tex., 40; Colorado Springs, 10; Denver, 83. In New Orleans the men employed by the Postal Telegraph company last night left their Secretary Russell of the national organization said: "The local union in Chicago took the bull by the horns and ordered the strike without authority of the national officers. Democratic Candidates Doing Much Speaking and Touring

THEY PUSH TARIFF ISSUE

Governor Guild's Splendid Administration Has Given General Satisfaction Regardless of Political Affil-

ners at seashore resorts. The air is rocity with Canada, the Democrats ar full of political gossip concerning the two leading candidates for governor and strenuous claims are made for both cratic party made a campaign for tarif Bartlett and Whitney.

Mr. Whitney is presenting his poitical case to the Democracy through the medium of speeches on what he declares to be a non-political subject—reciprocity with Canada. Democrats never play politics. Their only purpose and aim in asking for elevation to high office is the good of the people. Truly this is an unselfish world and the Democratic candidates for governor appear, from their own account, to be the high priests of unselfishness. These Democratic campaigners are altogether too modest, too shrinking, too self-ef-

According to their claims, there must be a prize in every package and those who fail to secure one of these valuable parcels are doubtless doomed to lifelong regret and disappointment. How ever, the ordinary citizen will continue to worry along, even though he neglect to cast a ballot for either Whitney or Bartlett. It may be a tremendous loss, but just how much of a loss it is nobody will know, even though one of these candidates may secure the nomination and then suffer defeat at the polls.

But while Mr. Whitney is covering the state, making speeches at various functions on his pet subject, General Bartlett is shooting around the course in a swift automobile, shaking hands with the Democracy of the commonwealth, and sizing up the situation as it affects his candidacy. It is certainly true that his friends appear to believe he has a show of securing the nominawhich are certainly interesting, if taken at their face value.

The Republican party is certainly in as good shape this year as it was last, and probably better than it was two years ago. Governor Guild has misleading and fictitious term. given an extremely satisfactory administration, and there is no apparent reason for changing to Henry M. Whitney, or any other Democrat. The state has been well administered, not only during this year, but during the entire term of Governor Guild, and were it not that a Democrat desires to sit in the gubernatorial chair, there would be no voice raised against the re-election of the splendid chief magistrate of Massachusetts. A man who is ambitious to hold an office filled by another is never at a loss to discover reasons why he should be selected and the incumbent displaced. These reasons are not always convincing, and are sometimes ridiculous when examined carefully. The allegation that Mr. Whitney or Mr. Bartlett should be elected governor of Massachusetts because they believe in reciprocity with Canada is an extremely weak and illogical thing. Nobody would use an argument like that everything was in readiness. But his anywhere outside of a political forum wife, smiling joyously, hurried into the where mere assertion sometimes does room, extending something toward him. duty for substantial fact.

Guild Is For Reciprocity In addition to all this it is well

Guild is a reciprocity man. That he is in favor of a reciprocity with Canada which will be for the mutual interest of both countries and which shall give some advantage to the United States as well as to Canada. The governor is as much of a patriot as either Whitney | prised employer opened it and read: or Bartlett. There is nothing he would not do to advance the interests of the commonwealth, even if it required a personal self-sacrifice of con siderable magnitude. In this matter he is certainly unselfish, and devoted to the state as well as to the country. On the other hand, at least one of the Democratic candidates appears to bave selfish interests which might influence his position in regard to reciprocity He is an owner of very extensive Herodotus.

It is quite likely, in case it were possible for the United States and Canada to agree upon the basis of & reciprocity arrangement between the two countries, that asphalt might be affected.

Governor Guild, under no circum stances, can be accused of having selfish interest in the subject of recip rocity. Therefore, if the people desire a reciprocity candidate, they have on to order in the person of Governor > people on that issue and there was congress, Democratic in both branches by good working majorities, and it had things all its own way for four long years.

New England Democrats had been clamoring for many years for free raw materials, such as free coal, free iron ore and free wool. When an effort was made by the Democratic congress to prepare a tariff bill President Cleve land was in favor of what was sub stantially free trade. The south was in favor of a free trade tariff bill with this exception, that it demanded protection for its own products. Northern Democrats demanded free coal and free iron ore and that touched the south ern Democracy in a tender spot, and although the original tariff measure put coal and iron ore on the free list when the southern Democrats had their innings they demanded that this be stricken out and it was done.

The Story of 1893

Nevertheless, the measure enacted by these conflicting interests struck such a blow at American manufactures and American industries that for four years the country was in the throes o financial panic and industrial depres sion. It is 14 years since those dark days of '93, and it is quite possible that in that time a good many people have forgotten and do not recall the days Im when they were out of work, clamoring for food, and dependent in many instances upon the public soup houses of the country as a means of sustaining existence.

The Democratic tariff claims have never been strictly honest. When they guised it under terms of reciprocity tariff reform, tariff revision and tariff for revenue only, or some other equally

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and trying the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The Verdi Quartette is as fine a body of operatic vocalists as has ever been heard in vaudeville. Alfred Kelcy and company are to play a merry skit called "The Tale of a Turkey."

BOSTON THEATRE.

Since the closing of the Boston great building has been given over to an army of mechanics, with a view to a complete renovation and improvement of the property as an amusemen resort, and when the house is opened for its fifty-fourth dramatic season, on Labor Day, it passes to the control of Manager Lindsay Morison. The changes, additions and improvements already completed and still in progress indicate that the theatre will be made a thoroughly modern playhouse in which the beauties of its earliest days will be more than equelled.

Highland Park.

Next week will be another extremely busy week at Highland Park. As day afternoons and evenings. Then, Thursday evening there will be a grand display of fireworks which will also be free

The attraction at the summer theatre will be a new musical production said to be especially adapted to out-ofdoor theatres, called "The Belle of Newport." As the title would imply, "The Belle of Newport" has to do with the good old summer time, the "Belle" in this instance is a tiny might of humanity who creates somewhat of a show, and is for fun principally that ing of Universalists is being held this performance is given, but for all from August 1 to 18 inclusive. The that, there is much that is interesting n the way of good music and dancing in "The Belle of Newport."

UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

We take pleasure in announcing that Judge Samuel R. Artman of Indiana will lecture in Faneuil Hall, Boston, on Thursday evening, August 15th. The Work of Pickpockets

There has been more or les trouble in the men's toliet room of the Quincy depot, for the past two weeks, with the flush boxes. This morning a plumber was at work to find the trouble. He found that two pocket books and an eye glass case had been thrown into them, and that they had stopped the flow of water. It was two weeks ago that pickpockets were at work in City Square and the police think that these were the ones lost at that time. It is also thought that the pickpockets after removing the contents threw them into the flush boxes.

Very Suspicious.

A woman at Houghs Neck reported to officer Olson on Sunday afternoon that she had been relieved of her pocketbook containing $5 in money and a gold bracelet. Wollaston Park Car Service

Editors of Daily Ledger:

I wish to offer a suggestion to the esidents of Wollaston Park and Norfolk Downs in relation to the abominable car service rendered the com-The Manchester munity. It is quite evident that drastic measures shall be adopted to force the Old Colony Street Railway Company to give us proper service. I have heard it said that they were not makand what is more, don't think they deserve to. The cars are of little use to me, and if I were to judge the location by the car service should think myself 100 miles back in the woods instead of seven miles from Boston.

The morning service is absolutely No Good, and I know of no other community that would tolerate such management. We get the first car to Neponset bridge at 7.30 A. M. The next at 8.45, The first car to Quincy at 8 o'clock (if it don't rain). If that wouldn't make a resident rebel it is no wonder they foist most any kina

FIGHTING CONTINUES

Fanatic Moors Appear to Be Far From Being Subdued

Tangler, Aug. 12.—Fierce fighting between fanatic tribesmen and the French forces outside Casablanca was still in progress Saturday when the French transport Anatolic left the beleagured town.

The battle started Thursday with a determined attack by the Moors. After a hard struggle the tribesmen were driven back with great loss by the defending force, commanded by General Drude of the Algerian Tirailleurs Undismayed, the Moors continued to fight, despite the terrible havoc wrought in their ranks by the French artillery.

The latest reports say, however that the tribesmen are gradually being driven back, the French cavalry and artillery Saturday being seven and half miles from the city and alternately shelling and charging the savage fa

Casablanca itself was quiet. The destruction wrought by the shells of the French cruisers is more extensive than at first was thought to be the case Not a house, shop or warehouse is left undamaged. The streets are stil strewn with bodies of dead natives, the removal of which is being carried or slowly. It is an appalling sight and the stench is so powerful that even those aboard ships in the harbor are sickened by it.

Further Trouble Feared

Paris, Aug. 12.—The official news from Tangier shows a serious condition of affairs there. The region around Casablanca is swarming with thousands of fanatical tribesmen who mounted on superb horses, with reckless courage are swooping down inces santly upon the French forces; but are never able to drive home their attacks against the withering fire from the rifles and guns of the troops. Trouble seems also to be threatening lower

Standard Company Takes Advantage of Its Monopoly

AMERICANS ARE SACRIFICED

Exorbitant Profits at Home to Meet Competition and Maintain Its Position Abroad-- "Obnoxious Price Policy" Officially Pointed Out

Washington, Aug. 12 .- "In the business of selling petroleum in foreign countries, the price policy of the Stand ard Oil company has apparently been Street, Quincy.

> This direct charge is made in an official report to President Roosevelt by Commissioner of Corporations Smith, in submitting to him further results of the investigation of the operations of the Standard Oil company by the bureau of corporations.

Part 3 of the report, dealing with dis crimination in prices, made public yesterday by Smith, consists of a detailed summary of the work of the investiga tors and a letter of transmittal of the report to the president.

Commissioner Smith asserts that the Standard, enjoying practically an absolute monopoly of the oil trade in this country, has charged "such prices as t could thereby extort," and the American consumer has had to pay these prices. Meeting competition abroad, it has given the foreign con sumer enormously lower prices, and it has used the profits made at home to maintain its position abroad, so that the American consumer has been se verely discriminated against for the purpose of maintaining, not the dom nance of American export trade, but the dominance of a particular comb nation which has used this power frequently and conspicuously to the disad vantage of the American public."

Extraordinary statements are contained in the report respecting the vary ing prices of oil in this country. I is pointed out that, as the Standard does business directly with the retail dealers, it is in position to make dif ferent prices on the same grade of oi in different localities, and it actually takes advantage of that position. In localities where the Standard has no competition it exacts immensely high charges in localities where it is obliged to meet competition.

It is shown in the report that 7 mill per gallon on illuminating oil affords a Choice Meats and Vegetables profit of about 10 percent on the in vestment in refining and marketing the

*But the actual differences in the Standard's prices among competitiv and non-competitive towns and areas says Smith, "often amount to severa cents per gallon. A combination which can command the profits that these figures imply, over large areas has therefore obviously a tremendou weapon when it enters on aggressive price-cutting against independent con

The report adverts to a "striking" instance of this divergence in the prices of the same grade of oil in Cali fornia, where the Standard carries of from its refinery near San Francisc several hundred miles by water and rai to Southern California and there sells it for several cents a gallon less than it charges for it in San Francisco Smith declares that evidence "is abso lutely conclusive," that the Standard takes full advantage of all non-competi tive conditions to impose the highes prices possible and it uses similar means to drive from the competitive field all would-be rivals for business. Some astonishing statements, too are made regarding the methods pur sued by the Standard toward various railroads of the country in supplying to them their necessary lubricating oils. Some lines which have shown : disposition and have the power to com pound their own lubricants obtain favorable rates from the Standard, but from all other roads the highest prices are exacted. An intimation of the rea son why the railroads are willing to pay the high prices demanded by the Standard when they might obtain their supplies at considerably lower rates from independent concerns is contained in Smith's statement that the reasons are "entirely apart from the matter of lubrication.'

Commissioner Smith expresses his belief that he has made clear in this report "the obnoxious policy of the Standard's price policy," and that he has shown that the Standard has maintained its monopoly "not by superiority of service and by charging reasonable prices, but by unfair methods of destroying competition; a combination which then uses the power thus unfairly gained to oppress the public through wholly extortionate prices."

By direction of the president, Smith says he has withheld from publication at this time some important evidence of price discrimination on account of the proceedings which haved been instituted by the government to dissolve the Standard Oil company.

The Manchester Outsailed by The Sally VIII In Cup Race

The Manchester, the representative of the Quincy Yacht club, finished second on Monday in the first of the Quincy challenge cup races off Marblehead. The Sally VIII, the Corinthian club defender, made the beat to that lead to the finish, although the Quincy yacht picked up ten seconds. The elapsed time to the outer mark

The Manchester was first acros the line on the starboard tack, but the Sally followed closely in the weather position. The Sally had hardly got over the line when she went and was followed by the Quir cy boat within a few seconds. For a short while the boats travelled together, and then Sally dropped down to leeward. The Manchester continued to point as high as possible and made but two tacks in reaching the mark.

The tactics of the Sally, however enabled her to outfoot her rival so badly that, although she tacked several times, she rounded the first mark 7 min. 12 sec. to the good.

It is undoubtedly a fact, however that the Manchester overstood the mark which accounts largely for the On the run home, both boats set spinnakers and the Manchester sailed the faster. She cut off 11 sec. from the lead of the Sally, but never had a chance to reach the finish line first. The race was sailed in a stiff south easterly breeze which increased as the race progressed.

While the result of the first race was a surprise to the Quincy yachts men, yet their courage is good. Three victories are necessary before the cup is successfully defended or lifted. The yachts are racing today over a triangular course.

The International Race Abroad

The American yachts showed up vell in the first of the international aces sailed on Monday at Kiel, Germany. The Spokane was second, the Chewink fourth and the Marblehead, fifth. Joseph Delory had a narrow escape from being killed Monday night about 8 o'clock, when the horse and buggy which he was driving met one of George E. Fogg's big drays in a head on Delory was driving the team of Edward Billings. He came down Quincy avenue toward Quincy, going at a rapid rate of speed. When near the junction of Hancock, School and Elm streets he turned sharply toward the centre of the the street to avoid a trench, and ran head on into the dray of Mr. Fogg going in the opposite direction. The pole of the dray hit the buggy turning it upside down.

A crowd quickly collected and it was ome minutes before Delory could be located. Then a movement was noticed beneath the buggy, and he was seen to be trying to free himself. Willing hands assisted him and he was soon quicker and practically maintained free. He quickly jumped to his feet, and declared but for a few bruises he was uninjured. Both shafts of the buggy were smashed but otherwise there was no damage.

The Railroad Commissioners Approve Plan At Dorchester

The work of abolishing the grade crossings between Quincy and Boston has been delayed by a difference of pinion as to the most feasible plan The N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. desired to raise the tracks between Savin Hill and Atlantic, but has encountered some opposition from real estate interests at Harrison Square and Neponset, and from the city of Boston, which desired the tracks depressed but a special commission decided in favor of the railroad, and now the Railroad Commissioners have issued a certificate approving the same . It reads in part as follows:

"The physical conditions in neighborhood of the crossings which it is proposed to abolish make any plan for their elimination by depressing the railroad objectionable.

"Experience proves that while a railroad can be maintained at this low level with reference to tide-water. t involves the possible serious interference at times with traffic, and this fact is a sufficient reason why the decision of the special commission to raise rather than lower the railroad is a wise conclusion.

"To the suggestion that the railroad be raised to a greater height at Neponset and this higher grade carried to the station at Atlanic, the reply is that this higher elevation would interfere with the advantageous development of important tracts or land that will call for the construction of side tracks to meet commercial uses for which these premises are peculiarly adapted.

"Walnut street is a long-established thoroughfare, and to disturb it will seriously annoy the occupants ofadjoining estates, but the plan of the commission provides an adequate substitute for this highway as far as the general public is concerned, and it would be little less than folly to leave that crossing at grade when the others are being removed under the esablished policy of the state in protection of human life. "No plan for abolishing grade crossings can be devised that will not arouse opposition from private interests that are necessarily invaded. The plan which is presented in this insance," (raising the grade), "is one the largest possible benefit with the least interference with private property, and is therefore approved."

West Quincy Man Falls From a Second Story Window in Night

John McCue, aged 40 years, employed as a stone cutter was killed this morning by falling from a second story window at the boarding house of William H. Norris at 28 Crescent street. The Norris family were away and McCue was alone in the house so that it can not be determined just how the accident happened. The family in the other side of the house heard McCue moving about his room between 2 and 3.

It was not until later, however, that the woman discovered the body lying in the yard. She uttered a piercing cream which was heard by Officer Boutin. He hastened to the house and then called Dr. Reynolds, who pronounced the man dead. He had sustained a fracture of the skull and a broken neck.

Medical Examiner Jones was notified and gave the body in charge of an undertaker.

It is reported that McCue had been inder the care of a physician for some days, and it is supposed that he leaned out of the window to get some air and ost his balance.

He has a wife in Lynn, and a step son who is employed as a driver for Evans express.

QUESTION AS TO HIS BAIL

Prominently Identified With Murder Case Which Will Be Watched W to Deep Concern by Chinamen All Over the United States

Boston, Aug. 13 .- Nothing will be done today in the prosecution of the Chinamen who are held on murder charges, except the perfunctory appearance of the defendants in the municipal court in order that the case may be formally removed from that court. Having been indicted by the grand jury, the men are to appear in the superior court to plead, and neither side is quite ready for that event yet.

An effort is being made to have Warry S. Charles, a prosperous Chinaman of this city, who is said to be one of the ringleaders of the murderous crowd, admitted to bail, a proposition which is regarded as quite futile in a case of this kind. He was brought into the superior court yesterday, though his presence was not formally announced, as he cannot be arraigned there before a copy of the indictment has been served on him. Hence he had to go back to the Charles street jail.

It is necessary in capital cases of this kind to file a copy of the indictmen also with the attorney general, after which the chief justice assigns two judges to sit at the trial. Consequent ly it is likely to be several days more and perhaps weeks, before the trial can

Assistant District Attorney McGet trick, who probably will handle the prosecution, says that he expects the nine men to be tried together, as they are indicted together on the same charges, and that the case will be taken up at the earliest moment possible. It promises to be a most significant trial, one in which both the opposing Chinese tongs have much at stake. In Chinatown considerable inferest in the Warry S. Charles case is manifested It seems to be a matter of deep con cern whether he can be admitted to bail. He has friends and foes in great numbers, and his fate will be watched with deeper interest than that of any of the other defendants.

There has been some talk among hi friends of engaging Charles W. Bartlett to defend him. Harvey H. Pratt who handles a large percentage of the Chinese cases in this vicinity, is already at work on the defense, though as yet he has not entered a formal appear ance in court.

This case will be watched closely by the Chinamen all over the country, especially where the two rival secret so leties are strong, as there is no other case on record where the machinery of justice has been set in motion as promptly and with as tangible results in an outbreak between the two organ

With what accuracy it has worked remains for the courts to demonstrate, but the officials who thus far have had anything to do with the prosecution say that they believe they have in custody all the men who took an active part in the tong murders on Aug. 2. They say that they have both the man who in cited the riot and the men who exe cuted the orders, and half a hundred witnesses to the alleged facts have been examined.

Fearing the vengeance of the law it the tong war is continued with revolver oaths to murder the victims chosen by the highbinders have selected the mys terious and terrible poisons known only to the materia medica of the Flowery Kingdom as their weapon. Sunday night, Leong Quon, a young

Chinaman who took part in the funerals of the On Leong Tong men murdered by the highbinders from New York, was rushed to the City hospital and Two hearings of local interest will be died an hour later in great agony. CONSPIRACY CHARGED

Half a Dozen "Business Chance" Men Arrested at Boston Boston, Aug. 13 .- Six of the most prominent so-called "business chances' men in this city were arrested on warrants after grand jury indictments, and held in stiff bail for trial last night. It is understood that the police dragnet is out for several others

Those caught and held, with the bai in each case, are: Charles S. Stuart $7500; Howard M. Faust, $3500; Joseph M. Levingstone, $4500; William A. Sweet, $2500; Henry A. Eyges, $2500 Frank A. McKinnon. The specific charge was conspirin to defraud some persons unknown. Each defendant pleaded not guilty. Stuart and Faust were bailed, but the rest were locked up for the night. District Attorney Moran has had many complaints from customers of business chance men. Arrests have been made in the past, but heretofore conviction carrying a term of imprison ment has not been secured. Moran believes that he now has plenty of evi dence, and hopes to put any guilty man behind the bars for such long terms as will discourage the sort of crimes alleged to have been committed.

A CALL INTO COURT

The Government Will Demand Answers From Harriman

KOHN IS ALSO SUMMONSED

Questions Asked by Commerce Com mission at Hearing Were Not An swered and Federal Authorities Will Try to Ascertain the Reason

New York, Aug. 13.-United State District Attorney Stimson filed in th United States circuit court in this city a petition that E. H. Harriman and Otto H. Kahn, the latter of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., be summone into court to show cause why they should not answer certain question relating to the control of the Chicago and Alton railroad. These questions were asked during the interstate con merce commission's investigation of the Chicago and Alton several months ago. Stimson acted for Attorney General Bonaparte in filing the petition. The questions to which the govern ment demands answers from Harrima and Kahn refer to the purchase of the controlling interest in the Chicago and Alton and the Illinois Central by the Union Pacific. At the hearing Harri man was asked what part of the stock so disposed of he owned. This ques tion, on advice of his counsel, he re fused to answer. The attorneys repre senting Harriman stated that this was a private affair of Harriman's and the interstate commerce commission had no authority to ask the question.

Mr. Harriman also refused to answe questions as to the amount of his holdng of Union Pacific preferred, no would he state the holdings of H. H Rogers, H. C. Frick and himself in Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe. Other questions which Harriman declined to answer had to do with his interest i the purchase of 105,000 shares of Illinois Central, the famous 10 percen dividend of the Southern Pacific road and his own profits occasioned by the sudden rise in this stock, following the declaration of this dividend. The questions which Kahn refused to answer had to do with the connectio of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., with the purchas of stock in the Chicago and Alton and the Illinois Central, and what portion of the stock so purchased was held for the directors of the Union Pacific. Neither Harriman or Kahn could be found by the deputy marshal who was given the order to serve, but service was accepted by their attorneys. Th order issued on the petition is return able before Judge Lacombe Oct. 31. Has Seen Enough of Son

Rheumatism Unless Be Cured Uric-O Is Used

Sudden Deaths, Heart Failure and Paralysis Are Caused By Poisonous Uric and Rheumatic Acids

The Rheumatic person is skeptical regarding the claims of almost any remedy adertised as a cure for Rheumatism and one can scarcely blame him for being so. All the plasters and ents combined never actually cured a case of Rheumatism. They may relieve it in one quarter, but it is sure to break out somewhere else. The only true way to cure Rheumatism is to drive it from the system, for as long as the Uric and Rheumatic Acid remains in the blood, one is never entirely free from the trouble. TROUBLE EXTENDS TO EAST and Western Union Companies In New York and Other Large Cities-Action Was Entirely Unexpected

New York, Aug. 13 .- The strike o telegraphers which, originating las Friday in Los Angeles, where it was directed against the Western Union, has ment cure for Rheumatism comes gradually spread eastward, yesterday reached New York city, where three it inert and harmless and spontaneous "walkouts" followed in out of the system. That is rapid succession. These were directed why Uric-O is such an admirable and against the Western Union, the Postal Telegraph company and The Associ-

Y., and they will erators declared a strike in the office of sons who write and say they have it was said by the strikers that three it thoroughly, and w lliagree to take office for wages due had been treated

An hour or so later the men in the main office of the Postal Telegraph company walked out. In this instance it was said that a union man had been asked to work a wire manned in another city by a non-union operator.

While these strikes appear to be in violation of the understanding reached by the local union's executive officers Sunday, immediately following the walkouts officers of the union declared that the strikers would receive the support of their organization. It was added that a secret understanding was reached Sunday, through which authority was given to the local employes of the two telegraph companies to go out any time that their interests seemed | idea of his identity. to demand immediate action.

Just how effective the strike is now is a matter of dispute. The Western Union people claim to be doing business as usual in this city and to have all the help needed. In fact, they say that they cannot use all the men seeking employment. On the other hand, the union men claim that very few 3 pkgs. 25c competent men are working and that

The Postal people claim to have 85 out of a force of about 300 operators working and that they are doing busi ness without serious delay. To this the strikers reply that the Postal has not more than 12 operators at work. The strike against The Associated Press began at 8:30 o'clock (Eastern time) last night. It was distinct from the other strikes, as The Associated Press controls its own leased wires and the operators are in the direct employ of the news organization. Though no demands had been made recently by the men, the strike had been foreshadowed. General Manager Stone of The Asso ciated Press received the first intimation Sunday night that the telegraphic force of the association was likely to formulate demands. These took form Sunday night and were put into the form of a petition which reached Stone signed by many of the telegraph operators of The Associated Press throughout the country and in brief requested a reduction in the hours of service and an increase of wages. During yesterday afternoon Stone formulated his rethe attitude of the men. Secretary Russell of the Commercial Telegraphers' union advised the operators to secure a definite date for the consideration of their demands. In some localities a disposition was shown to remain at work until 7:30 Tuesday night, in order that Stone might have reasonable opportunity to communicate with the directors of The Asso clated Press. On the other hand, the operators at several southern points indicated an intention not to wait beyond 7:30 o'clock last night. This sentiment found general acceptance, and at 7:30 (Chicago time) or 8:30 (New York time) there was a general suspension of the service throughout the country. In the New York office the suspension was not attended by any demonstration. The men at the keys left their work and quietly withdrew. Two Persons Killed In Charge on Rioters at Belfast Belfast, Aug. 13 .- Serious and fatal disorders occurred here again last evening. The troops fired into the crowd and a woman and a man were shot dead and a number of others were seriously wounded.

The trouble became acute about 6 o'clock, when a mob of men and women attacked a police inspector. Soldiers met by a hail of paving stones, which resulted in emptying some of the saddles. The riot act was read, but the maddened mob refused to disperse and kept up a terrific fusillade of stones. broken bottles and brickbats against the police and military. Bayonet and baton charges failed to rout the fren zied rioters and ultimately the order to fire was given. The number wounded from the rifle fire and in the bayonet charges, and otherwise injured, is very great, and the hospitals are overcrowded.

Rioting continued until nearly mid night. The rioters stretched chains across the streets to impede the move ment of troops, who charged the mol no less than 40 times. Six volleys were fired into the mob, and official reports state that three were killed, six ser ously and hundreds slightly wounded.

Good Workmen Can Be Retained If Proper Dwellings Are Provided

Offers to New England's skilled mechanics to go to other parts of the country are continually being made, and some of them are clothed in attractive form. The offers come from corporatious individuals and some times even the government of the United States takes a hand in it. Some of the propositions look quite alluring at first, but the question is, does the increase of wages offered on the Pacific slope, for example, offset the increased cost of living there's What good is an increase of income to a man if he has to pay it all out, and more too, in household and living expenses:

One of the difficulties in Quincy is to find proper houses for men employed at the Fore River works. The problem has attracted the earnest attention of the Board of Trade which now has a committee at work upon the matter. The business men understand the advantage to the city of having sufficient and proper dwellings for skilled mechanics, good workmen and others who are attracted to the city thereby and make it their home, adding to its volume of business and increasing its wealth and population. Therefore, these merchants seek to improve local conditions in this respect and there will be no cessation in their efforts along this line.

On the Pacific Coast the cost of living is much higher than here. The nue. terrible calamity that befell San Francisco when earthquake and fire assailed it, and from the effects from some time to come, is one great cause for sending up the cost of living there to high figures.

So a man with a little higher wages sure guarantee of pay that goes with time. as one well located in the east. Moreover, to take advantage of Pacific coast wages, a man must get to the Pacific Coast: and the cost of such a move is no small item, especially to one with a family. And when he gets Mrs. Nicholas Loring of Campello there and finds that a dollar will not ving expenses as it does in the east he at once sees the disadvantage in

"You've got dirty hands," said Marjorie, dropping in disgust the wrist on which she had been feeling the pulse.—Buffalo Commercial.

John Was Huffed. In the olden time a woman in the north of Scotland went to visit her husband, who was condemned to be hanged upon the following day. The man began to give his last instructions to his wife preparatory to bidding her farewell, when all at once she broke in on the conversation and exclaimed, "By the bye, John, whair will I plant the tatties this year?" The unfortunate man, as may be imagined, grew exceedingly indignant at the indifference of his wife and exclaimed angrily: "What need I care whaur ye plant them? I'm no likely to need ony o' them." "Hech," replied the woman, turning to the warder, with a wag of the head, "poor John's huffed because he's gaun to be hanged in the morn!" and marched out of the cell.

AN IMPLOSION.

It is the Opposite of an Explosion and Less Familiar.

Every one knows what an explosion is, but its opposite, an implosion, is from "Lohengrin." When near the less familiar. At great depths in the door, the bridegroom stopped in the sea the conditions are favorable for march and addressed the wondering Long term rates farnished on applicaits production. At 2,500 fathoms the assembly thus: pressure is, roughly speaking, two and pressure exerted by the steam upon the piston of a powerful engine.

An interesting experiment to illustrate the enormous force of this deep sea pressure was made on the Albatross, a government vessel engaged in deep sea exploration.

A thick glass tube several inches in length full of air was hermetically sealed at both ends. This was wrapped in flannel and placed in one of the wide copper cylinders used to protect deep sea thermometers when they are sent down with the sounding apparatus. The copper cylinder had holes bored in it, so that the water had free access inside, round the glass. The case was then sent down to a depth of 2,000 fathoms and drawn up again. It was found that the cylinder was bulged and bent inward, just as if it had been crumbled inward by being violently squeezed. The glass tube itself, within its flannel wrapper, was reduced to a fine powder, almost like snow. The glass tube, it would seem, as it slowly descended, held out long against the pressure, but at last suddenly gave way and was crushed by

This process, exactly the reverse of an explosion, is termed an implosion. -Chicago Record-Herald.

MASTERY OF THE NILE.

The Method by Which the Flow of Water Is Controlled.

Every morning from a little room of flows under the iron bridge at Cairo is din would have followed, and the devincreased or diminished some ten days il and all his lower imps would have later in accordance with the telegraphic answer, and the intervening valley between Assouan and Cairo has a lit tle more or a little less water on its surface. The man at the button may bring joy or sorrow to thousands of little farms-it is all according to the message he receives.

From the great white house there extends across the river a granite wail or dam 150 feet high. Halfway up this wall and stretching its entire length a line of shutters opens or closes by a pressure of the button. In the winter months a huge lake expands to the southward, which has every appearance of being a flood, for in certain places the tops of palm trees are discernible above its surface, and July the river flows freely with all its historic indolence.—New York Times.

Three Layers of Atmosphere.

It appears that in the atmosphere there are three distinct currents of air, the first lying at an elevation of from 900 to 1,500 meters, the second at from 2,500 to 4,000 meters and the upper one at from 6,000 to 8,000 meters above the surface of the earth. These are to an extent separate currents, flowing each with its own velocity. At the bottom of each of the layers the stratus clouds are formed. and at the top of each of the layers occur the cumulus clouds. This suggests that the stratus originate at the bottom of a moving current and the cumulus at the top. It is probable, then, that the stratus owe their origin to the difference in velocity and temperature of the two layers, while the cumulus are formed by ascending currents within the layer of air.

Bad, but Still Good. A judge from one of the African crown colonies, now home on leave, is telling this story: It is the custom in the local courts to administer to the natives the form of oath which they consider most binding. One day a Christian colored gentleman, of whose good faith the judge entertained some doubts, was about to give evidence. At his own request he was allowed to take the oath of a Christian. Then the judge intimated that he must also be sworn in the native fashion. The man was 'visibly disconcerted. "Oh, no, massa," he pleaded. "Not dat. Me very bad native, but me very good Christian."-Manchester Guardian.

The Sick Chinaman.

Perhaps nowhere in the world is family affection stronger than among the Chinese, yet their method of dealing with the sick is pitiable to the more enlightened world. When a favorite son falls ill his life depends the violence of the action to a fine largely upon a package of joss sticks. The grieving father seeks a joss house, procures a handful of these sticks and, taking them home, lights them. He shakes them gently. Soon one falls. Is it lighted? Eagerly the father watches it. Will it burn to the end or go out? If it is entirely consumed the son will survive; if it goes out he will die. It goes out!

The Chinaman reasons thus: His son was chased by a devil and when the a great white house on the eastern devil touched him he became ill. The Challenger From Quincy Has Long Lead In Second Race

The Quincy challenger won on Tuesday the second of the Quincy cup races, by the big margin of 18 minutes and 50 seconds. The first two legs were close, the Sally taking the first, and the the Manchester leading at the second turn. Then the Quincy yacht left the defender far behind as will be seen by which is reproduced:

The race was sailed under rather uky conditions. The wind at the start was a little north of west, and to southwest at times. It also came in streaks, this being especially true of the last leg, on which the greatest gain was made by the Manchester. At one time on this leg, the two boats had the wind in different direc-

Because the Manchester could lay the first windward leg given by the committee, Mr. Adams kicked, and the start of the race had to be postooned until the mark boat could be caught and brought back to the starting line to lay off a new course. The course given was triangular, the first eg being a reach south; the second run northeast by east, and the third a beat, northwest by west half-

It was 3.40 when they were sent away, and the Manchester had all the better of the start. She was first across the line and she had the Sally directly behind her in such a position that she could not haul to the Manchester's weather. The result was that the Sally had to take the Manchester's back wind and back wash for a few minutes. A small launch, which butted into the course, forced the Manchester to bear away, and this gave the Sally a chance to haul. The pair then had a luffing match, which took them to the northward of their course.

Finding a strong break in the breeze, the Sally went up on the Manchester and finally weathered her and then both bore to their course for the first mark. The Sally led around it by 5 seconds. No sooner had the Sally jibed than her spinnaker was broken out. The Manchester was not set so quickly, but she went up on the Sally and went by ner soon after the mark was turned Then the Sally tried to haul across the Manchester's quarter, and this started a luffing match, in which the Manchester had the best of the argument. She rounded the second mark with a lead of a minute and

Immediately after rounding the mark the Sally tacked, while the Manchester, which had hauled her Between HOUGHS NECK and NANTASKET POINT wind, kept on, finally tacking to cover the Sally, and some distance to windward. After standing to the Sundays and Holidays westward for some time the Manchester tacked away from the Sally, which still held her starboard tack to the Houghs Neck Nantasket Point west. When the Sally tacked again she was far behind, and this time she took the extreme of going far to the eastward. Meanwhile, the Manchester got on the edge of a nice little breeze, and she came along with it until she was about a mile from the finish. Here the wind lightened, but she had the race won by a long margin, the Sally being far to the east-NOTES ON RACE. The Boston Advertiser says: Although there was this large difference in the final results, it must by no means be supposed that the race was uninteresting. On the contrary, it was close and exciting until the boats had passed the second mark and had started to beat home. When the boats passed the first mark the Sally led by 5 min., and at the second mark the Manchester headed her by 1 min. 4 sec. It was on the beat to the finish line that the Manchester ncreased her lead in such tashion as to give the Corinthian boat so de eisive a defeat.

The Post says: The Manchester as sailed by Charles Francis Adams, 2d, and the Sally by Lawrence F. Percival, who built her for the Sonder trials last year and sold her early this season to W. Starling Burgess, her designer, and Augustus P. Loring. Mr. Burgess and Mr. Loring are sailing the boat with Mr. Perci-

The Globe says, the challenger for he Quincy cup, the Manchester II, had her innings Tuesday and turned the tables on the defender, the Sally very light air of the last leg of the race the Manchester II simply ran away from the Sally, winning by nearly 20 minutes. This win was partly due to flukes, as no matte which way the Sally VIII stood the breeze headed her.

The Herald says: Tuesday's race was in light and streaky airs and the conditions were better suited to the Manchester, and she won handily The race was close for the first leg away. The breeze fell considerably before the start and the finish was made in almost a calm, with the bay full of soft spots and the wind in

The Boston Advertiser says: The next race in the series will take place Wednesday. The Corinthian yachts men are praying for heavy weather in which the Sally has shown he marked superiority, and indeed it looks as though the disposition of the cup depends largely on the weather of the next few days.

Many Attractions At Houghs Neck

There is something doing at the beach every day this season for there ever before. At the upper end of the beach there is a skating rink and at the lower end there seems to be no end of attractions. First there is Brown's dance hall, where dances are held every afternoon and evening. Then comes the Houghs Neck 1 21 11 theatre with its moving pictures with a change of program twice a week. Then there is boating and bathing. A steamer that runs between the beach and Nantasket, and the steamer that runs between the beach and Boston, both of which make delightful sails on any day but especially on a hot day. With these is the street railway which is giving the beach better service than ever bemornings and nights with late cars at night.

Banner Month for Granite Shipments

Returns from the two granite shipping terminals for the month of July show that during that month 20,-748,072 pounds of rough and finished granite was forwarded by rail to all parts of the country. Of this amount 15,604,135 pounds was forwarded from West Quincy and 5,143,937 pounds from Quincy Adams. The total for the month shows an increase of 9,445,477 pounds over the amount shipped in the month of June. The shipments thus far this month have also been heavy, and it would not be surprising if the total for the month exceeded that of July, which was the

Detailed by Counsel For "Next Friends" In the Eddy Suit

QUESTION OF COMPETENCY

Claim That Certain Acts Show Christian Science Leader Not Capable of Managing Her Own Affa ra -- She Will Not Appear In Court

Concord, N. H., Aug. 14 .- At a sit ing of the masters, to determine the competency of Mrs. Mary B. G. Eddy, at the courthouse here, William E. Chandler, counsel for the "next friends," in his opening statement contended that Mrs. Eddy had seven delusions, and Frank S. Streeter, counsel for Mrs Eddy, stated that his client was unable, on account of insufficient strength, to appear in court, but would be glad to receive the masters at her home and confer with them. It was then arranged that such a visit should take

At the afternoon session Chandler said that the incompetency of Mrs. Eddy was established by the trust deed which she executed on March 6 and in which was transferred all her property out of her hands and beyond her con trol. Her incompetency is further shown by her evasion of taxes in the city of Concord, an act which she would never have committed, or . al lowed her agents to commit, had she been in her right mind. Chandler then went into the subject of Mrs. Eddy's delusions, of which he detailed seven

First-The fundamental delusion of the non-existence and non-reality of the physical universe.

Second-The delusion of the supercalls her own and of its supernatura revelations to her. Third-Delusions concerning the dis eases of mankind, their cure and pre vention

Fourth-The delusions as to the relation of the science she called her's to philosophy and to Christianity. Fifth-The delusion as to the nature and existence of malicious animal magnetism. Sixth-Delusion as to the alleged operation of this malicious animal magnetism in the causing and the curing of disease.

Seventh-The delusion as to the alleged operation of this malicious animal magnetism in the perpetration of

He stated in closing that Mrs. Eddy s the victim, not of a solitary delusion, not of a notion, even an insane notion, but of a series of systematical delusions which influenced her whole life and has resulted, or will result, in senile dementia.

There were two witnesses that were briefly examined. The first was John who produced an inventory of her property, which was signed by Mrs. Eddy in 1901. He also had those of succeeding years, signed by Calvin A. The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure as amounting to $19,500 up to 1906, added. The amount of the trust crethe medical fraternity. Catarrh being ated by Mrs. Eddy in March exceeded

Just before adjournment Judge Aldrich, before whom the hearing was beng conducted, asked what opportunity the masters were to have to examine Mrs. Eddy herself. Streeter replied that she had not sufficient strength to come into court and undergo an examination, but she would be glad to receive the masters at Pleasant View and onfer with them there.

Judge Aldrich said that in view of Mrs. Eddy's advanced age he thought | Patrick, stolen last month from the it would be proper for the masters to visit her, accompanied by one counsel on either side, and he suggested that counsel endeavor to agree upon some time for such a visit.

Death Sentence Commuted

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 14.-Gov. ernor Folk has commuted the sentence of "Lord" Frederick S. Barrington to life imprisonment. Barrington was sentenced to be executed on Aug. 26 for the murder of James McCann on June 16, 1903. The identity of Barrington has never been satisfactorily established. Barrington was convicted solely on circumstantial evidence. He has always declared that McCann is still alive and the body found was not Mc-Cann's.

HUDSON STEAMER GROUNDED

Fire Broke Out on Board and Captain Took No Chances

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Aug. 14.-Steamer Adirondack, from New York for Albany, was grounded at Roseton last night after a fire had broken out i the vessel's hold. The passengers wer taken off by a steamer bound for Tro; and a small boat which put out from Poughkeepsie. There was no seriou panic and no one was injured.

The fire, while threatening for a time. was controlled before extensive damage was done, it is thought. Such of the passengers as could be accommo dated on the Troy boat proceeded to Troy, while some 60 others took the train north from here.

The Adirondack left New York at o'clock and was off Newburgh when the fire was discovered. Prompt action was taken by the captain, but whe the flames were threatening it was de cided to take no chances and the ves sel was turned towards the shore. She carried about 300 passengers, most of whom were on the deck, enjoying ar orchestra concert. Comparatively few had retired and such as had were soon Good order prevailed, and there was little difficulty in embarking when the other boats, which had been attracted by signals of distress from the Adiron dack, stood by the endangered steamer It is believed that the Adirondack can be floated without serious damage As those who were in a position to know something of the origin of the fire re mained on board the vessel, details of the accident were not available here.

Boston Gets Into Line With Dissatisfied Telegraphers

RAILROAD OPERATORS HELP

Have Not Quit Work, but Participate In Strike Movements In Underhand Manner--Both Sides Claim to Be Satisfied With Situation In New York

Boston, Aug. 14.-New England's participation in the strike of telegraph operators, which began at Los Angeles Cal., more than a week ago, and which has since been spreading to various sections of the continent, came at noon yesterday when, by order of the na tional executive officers of the union, majority of the operators of this city

While comparatively few operators at other points in New England have been reported as having joined in the movement, the serious handicap in this city, which is virtually the central telegraph exchange for northern New England, effected the most embarrass ing tie up of wire communication expe rienced here since 1883, when a general strike to enforce practically the same demands as are now made proved unsuccessful.

A feature of the New England situation is the co-operation which the railroad telegraphers are said to be giv ing the strikers. The Western Union company depends largely upon the rail road lines and operators for the handling of commercial matter to the smaller places. While none of the railroad men are on strike, reports from several places say that the railroad men at intermediate stations are inter fering with the transmission of through dispatches by opening their keys and confusing the strike-breaking opera tors so that little business can be done. This situation proves especially aggravating because there is no way to discover the identity of the offending operators.

About 250 New England operators including those of Boston, day and night forces, have joined the strike thus far. In this city the telegraph companies, though greatly embarrassed, are getting everything off after some

With the exception of a few points in New England, The Associated Press wires are being worked as usual, and in the case of the exceptions the papers are kept supplied with full reports by mail and telephone.

Both Sides Claim to Be Satisfied point of the employers of telegraph operators the strike situation is declared to be improving hourly and the offi cials of both the Western Union and the Postal companies announce themselves to be more than satisfied with the progress that has been made toward the restoration of wire communica tions throughout the country.

The officials of the Telegraphers' union, on the other hand, express confidence and satisfaction with the progress of the strike. They point to the cities in which a number of operators of both of the big companies yesterday left their keys and predict that their example will influence other offices in which the men have been wavering to join the ranks of the strikers.

M. J. Reagan, state mediator of the department of the state of New York. yesterday offered to lend his good of fices to bring about a settlement. He called on the officials of both the big telegraph companies. General Super intendent Brooks of the Western Union declared his company had nothing to arbitrate and E. J. Nally, vice president and general manager of the Postal made practically the same reply. J. F Ahearn, president of the local union said that he had told Reagan that the operators were perfectly willing to submit their case to "sincere arbitration" and would readily appoint a man to act for them if the companies would do the same. Thus far the employers, however, have given no indication that they will do so, and maintain the position that, so far as they are concerned. there is nothing to arbitrate.

Telegraphic Orders Discontinued Augusta, Ga., Aug. 14.—The Georgia railroad has discontinued all trains by telegraphic orders. The troubles of the wire orders have been increasing since Sunday night.

BELFAST'S TURMOIL

Strikers Apparently Doubt Sincerity of Authorities

A TEARING UP OF STREETS

Disturbers Stack Paving Stones to Use on Soldiers Should They Reappear -- Usual Development of a Cleavage on Religious Lines

Belfast, Aug. 14.—The strike situation is held to have improved, insomuch as steps are under way to arbitrate the differences between the laborers and their employers.

The experiment of keeping both the police and the troops outside of the dis turbed area has been attended with a great measure of success and yesterday passed without any serious conflict between the strikers and the repre sentatives of authority, the soldiers and the constables.

There has been much effervescence among the strikers, but no actual out break of violence. Large and excited crowds collected and assumed their threatening attitudes, but listening to the exhortations of the priests and other peacemakers gave an opportunity for their energy to evaporate in shout ing and at 11:30 o'clock last night the streets of Belfast were practically deserted. No troops or policemen were seen shortly after 5 o'clock when, in accordance with the new decision reached by the authorities, the men were withdrawn to their barracks.

Apparently doubting the sincerity o the authorities, several large crowds spent some time yesterday in digging up and stacking paving stones to be in readiness for the soldiers should they reappear. Last night a number o priests and magistrates patrolled the disturbed area, urging the people to A SHES and Rubbish carted away at reasonable prices. Yesterday afternoon a body of the city workmen attempted to repair the streets which had been torn up Monday to secure ammunition in the form of paving stones with which to pelt the soldiers. They had not been at work for five minutes before a mob of young men and girls began to stone them and they had to run for their lives, leaving their tools behind them. The Belfast trades council has en rolled a special body of men described as "trades union police," who yester KENNEBEC DIVISION: To summer homes day and last night assisted the priests in preserving order. Their efforts were most successful.

In the meanwhile Sir Anthony Mac Donnell, under secretary to the lord ference with the local officials and the labor leaders with the view of arranging a settlement of the disputed points and another conference has been held for the same purpose between the mas ter carters and representatives of the ator. After several conferences there was a meeting between MacDonnell pressed himself as confident that all at other places. the questions in dispute would be set tled today.

Cleavage on Religious Lines London, Aug. 14.-When the house of commons met yesterday afternoon Irish Secretary Birrell faced a shower of questions concerning the Belfast race for schooners 27 seconds better strike. The Irish members of parliament wanted the troops withdrawn from Belfast and others urged the necessity of a full inquiry into the affair. Birrell said the government is fully alive to the urgency of the matter and is doing all lit can to secure a settlement of the strike.

War Secretary Haldane read a report from the officer commanding the by Judge Brown in the United States troops at Belfast in which it appeared | district court on the ground that the that one of the objects of the military demonstrations was to separate the Catholics and Protestants. It appears that in the trouble at Belfast, as usually happens, there has developed a cleavage on religious lines. The Protestants have cheered and supported the troops, while the attacking parties apparently have been composed of

NEW FISHERIES TREATY

Will Eliminate Trouble Betweet Newfoundlanders and Yankees Boston, Aug. 14.- s a result of a conference between Congressman Gardner of Massachusetts and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon it is announced that a temporary agreement has been reached, which will be concluded and put in force before the British parliament adjourns at the end of the month, whereby the Newfoundland fisheries will be open to the fishermen of Gloucester the coming season.

It is further given out from high authority that a permanent agreement has been reached on the Newfoundland fisheries question between Secretary Root and Ambassador Bryce and that the same will without doubt go into effect during the coming year. It is understood that both sides will yield something in the new treaty, which is the first made between the two coun tries on the fishing question since the Washington treaty of 1808.

Heroine Perished With Boy Wentworth, N. H., Aug. 14.-Miss Edith Gregor of North Attleboro, Mass., and Clyde Morrison, 8 years old, of Falmouth, Mass., were drowned in a small pond here. The boy fell in and Miss Gregor plunged in to save him. Before assistance could reach her, the young woman, with the boy tightly clutched in her arms, sank for the lastime. Miss Morrison was 25 years old and had been the guest of Rev. H. J Merrill of the Westworth Congregational church. The Morrison boy was also a guest of Merrill.

No Navy Yard Could Build The Delaware As Quickly

In speaking of the relative cost of Government built battleships and those constructed by private builders, the Boston Transcript says editorially that "an occasional battleship is all that the Navy Yard could undertake to build" and gives as its reason QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE. | that it "stirs the ambition and inreases the efficiency of the construcon corps of the Navy and of the nechanics of the Navy Yards." It dds: "The new 20,000 ton battleship f the Delaware class for which Ad-niral Bowles, President of the Fore tiver Shipbuilding Co., has just signed contract, would cost about one milon dollars more if built at the Brookon navy vard than it will cost in this great private shipyard on the shores of Boston harbor. Moreover, Admiral Bowles engages to build this great armor clad, the largest ever constructed in the country, in thirty-four and one-half months. No navy yard could begin to do this in so short a

Two Dress Suit Cases Mixed

A pretty Lynn Vassar girl, a Camridge business man, two dress suit marriage. The pair were strangers and when they boarded a crowded electric car in Braintree they had no idea that hte mysterious hand of fate were weaving a romance about them. Each had a dress suit case. Both occupied the same bench on the car and both placed their dress suit case beneath the seat where it would be out of the way. The car reached Quincy, neither having taken particu lar notice of the other. The girl in a hurry reached beneath the seat grabbed one of the cases and disappeared. The man took the other but soon discovered that t was not his and it immediately flashed upon him that an exchange had been made. He was ni a predicament, but being a sensible man he immediately visited the police station where his story was soon told.

Acting Sergeant Goodhue was on duty, and being a married man, soon found a way to get into the case which was found to contain a miscellaneous assortment of lingerie such as young ladies are supposed to York American. use to set off their charms. He also found a postal card bearing the nicated with and from them he attempted to celebrate the East Braintree. The man in the case stood on his lawn for years the pulley was Daniel Freney of 106 Washington street, Cambridge.

This morning the lady and Mr. Freney met at the police station. Sergeant Goodhue did the honors of the occasion. An exchange of dress bor's son, and he scooted off to his suit cases was made and the pair departed good friends.

The Sally VIII Wins Her Second In the Quincy Cup Series

The third of the Quincy cup races on Wednesday resulted in a victory for the lefender, the Sally VIII, which now has to her credit two of the three wins necessary to hold the cup. The Manchester, the Quincy challenger, must win today and tomorrow to bring the up back to the Quincy Yacht club.

The course was to the windward and return and the Sally made the best time on both legs. The elapsed times to the windward

Manchester of Quincy, The elapsed times for the race were: ally of Corinthian, Manchester of Quiney,

The Journal report says conditions of weather were entirely responsible for the Sally's victory. Had the out-QUINCY. come of the race been dependent upon handling it would, without any question, have resulted in a victory for the Manchester. It was simply that the strong north-northwest breeze was the one in which the Sally does her best work and under it she would have had to beat the Manchester, provided she did not break down.

By compass, magnetic, the wind at the start was northwest by north, and it was strong enough for the Manchester to tuck in two reefs, while the Sally found one sufficient. As there was no course provided that tion of the wind, they were given a tor was out and a call was sent to course southeast, five miles to lee- Quincy for Dr. Whiton. This gave ward and return.

The Manchester got the start by long margin, the Sally not being anywhere near the line. The Sally was 45 seconds handicapped when she crossed. Notwithstanding this, the Sally kept gaining and about half way to the leeward mark she caught the Manchester. A luffing match ensued Builder. but it was of short duration, for the Sally was going the faster and she went by the Manchester. When the another luffing match. The Sally split and took the port tack, while the Manchester held her starboard tack, with the wind letting her up, until she only had to make a short hitch to cross the finish ilne. During all this time the Sally was leading and increasing her lead; but she took the port tack four times while the Man chester was on her long starboard board.

NOTES OF RACE.

The Boston Advertiser says the weather conditions were ideal for racing but favored Sally which i undeniably the better boat in breeze. Although the wind was very strong, there was little sea on however, and this fact favored the Man chester. A better contested race at less than half cost. Stock must be sold in 25 could hardly be hoped for. The en- days to get the cash. Consisting of all kinds of tire course was windward and lee ward, out and back five miles to the southeast, in all 10 miles. The first leg was a run before, during which both boats set spinnakers and the race was anybody's until they turned the stake.

The Herald says the Manchester was the first over the line. The Sally ran down on her and the Manchester luffed out in the Sally to prevent the latter from blanketing her and killing her wind. The pair had it hot and got quite a bit high off 8 CHESTNUT ST., their course. The Sally got by the Manchester and had quite a lead-when she bore away for the mark. After jibing around the mark, the pair held along on the starboard tack. The Sally footed faster than the Manchester on the wind. Percival drove her hard all the way home and made two tacks to the Manchester's one, always keeping the latter

The Post says the race to the lee ward mark was close and exciting all the way. After about 20 minutes of sailing the Sally drew up to close quarters, and in spite of a sharp and ong continued luffing match, forced a weather passage and took the lead On the beat home, although the Manchester pointed much the higher, the Sally's faster footing more than offset that advantage. The Sally covered the five miles of windward work in 51 min. 43 sec., an exceptionally good performance for a boat of her size. At no time on the beat was the Manchestef close enough to be dangerous.

Birthday Party.

A party of friends gathered at the home of Carlton McNeil Wednesday evening to celebrate his birthday. All kinds of games were enjoyed. There was a very pleasing program of music consisting in part as follows. Selections by the French Concert company, piano solos by Miss Emma Hayden and vocal selections by Tom Skinner. Refreshments were served late in the evening and a very enjoyable time was enjoyed. The party included Miss Elizabeth Auld, Miss Bessie Chisholm, Miss Etta Thurber, Miss Bertha Smith, Miss Emma Hayden, Miss Helen Sherburne, Tom Skinner, and Ben, Charles, Lewis, and William French.

Presented to Battleship New Jersey Built at Quincy

A new York dispatch to the Herald says that the state of New Jersey's gift of a $10,000 silver service was presented formally to the battleship New Jersey, built at Quincy, on Wednesday, at the anchorage game and with a little more practice can of the ship in the Hudson off Ninetyeighth street. After the speech-making was ended and Capt. W. W. Kimball, with Gov. Stokes of the presentation committee, the naval officers present and two members of each of the division crews had raised the large silver bowl of the set, a bugler blew attention. Then Capt.

Kimball said: Officers and men: I propose a toast to the gallant state whose name this ship bears, and to his excellency the Governor of New Jersey; now hip, hip, hip."

The silver service consists of 58 pieces and includes every variety of article that goes with such an outfit, from a big punch bowl and candelabra to nut platters. With it came Gov. Stokes, Senators Kean and Briggs and other officials.

Gov. Stokes told of the military record of New Jersey from the earliest beginnings. He praised the New Jersey spirit and wished the ship Godspeed.

In accepting the gift Capt. Kimball said that the silvero service would make an admirable war trophy for some gallant and polite enemy, but before such a thing could be accomplished the officers and men would perform certain preliminary ceremonies in the turrets and elsewhere which, he thought, would induce such an enemy not to come, but to go away to go off or to go down.

Telegraph Companies Say That Strike Is Broken

OPERATORS CLAIM SUCCESS

Hope That Railway Men Would Aid Them Is Not Realized--Admission That Financing of Strike Is a Serious Consideration

New York, Aug. 15 .- There is little change in the telegraph strike situation, as far as concerns New York and other eastern cities. Both Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies profess to be thoroughly satisfied with the progress made toward normal conditions. On the other hand, the leaders of the strikers declare their cause has been strengthened by the responses to the calls to go out in many of the cities where strikes had not already been inaugurated.

No trouble developed among the telegraphers employed in the scores of brokerage offices in the financial district, where, according to the Tele graphers' union, many big houses granted the demands of their men as regards wages and working hours. The news service throughout the east was practically unimpaired, except in the cases of two or three smaller centres, and the news of the world was moved to all

The hope of the strikers that the Or der of Railway Telegraphers would make common cause with the com mercial operators has not been real ized. The Western Union and Postal people insist that the railroad operators will stand by their contracts with the various railroad companies, who in turn will fulfil their obligations with the telegraph companies, calling for the handling of such commercial business as may be turned over to them

To what extent the strike has inter Atlantic and on Edwards hill are being fered with the ordinary conduct of business by the two telegraph companie remains in dispute. Both companies maintain that they are handling all and, although inconvenienced at some less important points, are improving

MANY REASONS ARE GIVEN

10.

Failure of Pope Manufacturing Company One of the Prime Factors --Receivers For the Concern Are Appointed In Four States

New York, Aug. 15 .- Distrust of the government's attitude toward the corporations, a threatened monetary stringency in all the leading markets of the world and the financial embarrassment of the Pope Manufacturing company combined to demoralize the stock market yesterday. Prices melted in sensational fashion and the average level of declines was below that reached in the memorable Northern Pacific panic of May, 1901. Stocks were sold lower than ever before in their history. Of the several causes named the failure of the New England corporation probably excited the grea est amount of apprehension. During the early session of the mar ket there was no hint of the coming storm. In fact it was not until the failure of the Pope company becam generally known that the list became unsettled. Then the speculators for decline, encouraged by their success ful attacks on prices during the past fortnight, renewed their attack, concentrating their forces on the Harri man and Hill issues, Reading, St. Paul, the coppers, American Smelting and the steel stocks. Under vigorous hammering, a great many orders to sell to stop losses were uncovered, and, as usual in times of great excitement, numerous accounts were thrown over and sold for what they would bring. The downward movement was in full swing in the last half hour, but was halted just before the closing. There were unmistakable signs of enforced liquidation in many stocks, particularly Amalgamated Copper, which came out in enormous quan

The great bulk of the day's opera tions was in the Harriman stocks Reading, Amalgamated Copper and United States Steel.

On the exchange and in the various brokerage offices the excitement was intense throughout the afternoon. After the close of the market urgent calls for additional margin were issued by brokers. There was talk of a bankers' oool being formed to protect the market rom further raids, but this was ridiuled as absurd in trustworthy quar ers. The more substantial interests offered little or no support at this time Receivers for the Pope Manufacturing company and its subsidiary com pany, the Pope Motor Car company engaged in the manufacture of auto mobiles and bicycles, with main office and plant at Hartford, were appointed and Massachusetts. Similar action will be taken shortly in Illinois, Ohiq Indiana and Maryland, where the com panies own plants. The difficulties of the Pope com panies were the direct result of a cur tailment of loans and reduction of loans of notes. Albert Rathbone, counsel for Albert L. Pope, vice president of the Pope Manufacturing company, who has been appointed a receiver in New York, Massachusetts and Connecticut, made a statement in which he said that the troubles of the companies were the outcome of the present rigid monetary conditions. Loans were falling due Rathbone said, and the company was unable to meet them. He said that there were no preferred creditors. The financial district was affected by th news of the failure and prices fel rapidly on the Stock Exchange. The petition of the receivers shows the total capitalization of the Pope Manufacturing company to be $22, 500,000 and that the company was or ganized in 1903 in New Jersey. The petition shows the assets of the paren company to be $7,724,217, with liabilities of $1,459,854, with the assets of the Pope Motor Car company placed at $3, 481,352 and liabilities $512,972.

Edward and William Conferred Cassel, Prussia, Aug. 15.-King Edward's visit with Emperor William was of short duration, but it is regarded as most important. It is said in well informed political circles that in the course of the conversation between the two monarchs the political situation was discussed in the most friendly terms. It is the general opinion that the results of the visit of yesterday will place the relations of Great Britain and Germany upon a better footing.

The Challenger From Quincy Won Yesterday By Good Margin

We win again! Now two and two!

Race today to decide!

Quincy challenger won on Thurslay by lead of over four minutes. The Herald report says the boats vere sent away at 2.25, the start be ing off Marblehead rock. The first eg was a beat to windward to a mark southeast four miles the second leg a close reach to a mark four miles southwest, and a run home. The Sally got the best of the send way, but it was not long before the Manchester had the windward position. At 3.03 the Sally VIII tacked to port, followed 80 seconds later by the Manchester, and after several tacks they rounded the southeast mark, the Manchester at 3.21.37; Sal-

y III at 3.26.26. The second leg of the race was a lose reach to the southwest mark. On the leg the Manchester still held her lead and outfooted the Sally. The time of rounding the mark was: The Manchester 3:53:32; the Sally VIII at 3:58.

After rounding the second mark oinnakers were set, the Manchester etting up hers first, and the boats sailed an even race on the run home The Manchester finished at 4:15:42, the Sally VIII at 4:20:05.

The Journal says, in rather a onesided race the Quincy Yacht Club challenger Manchester beat the Sally VIII, the Corinthian Yacht Club defender, in the fourth race of the series for the Quincy Yacht Club challenge cup Thursday afternoon. By winning, the Manchester has again tied up the series, each yacht now having won two races, and another and final will take place Friday afternoon.

The race was twelve miles over triangular course, and immediately after crossing the line the yachts pointed for the first mark. The yachts sailed to the windward on the first leg and the Manchester just ran away from the Corinthian yacht in the light breeze. Turning the first minutes the lead. The second leg was a close reach southwest by west, and the Sally held her own. The third leg was run due north. Crossing the finish line the Manchester had a lead of 4 minutes and 37 seconds.

SUMMARY OF RACES.

The Sally won the first and third races, and the Manchester the second and fourth. Both of the victories of the Sally were to the windward and return, which will be the course today, while the Manchester won both the triangular races. Here is the summary, showing the winning boat and lead each day:

Heads of Telegraph Companies Say Strike Is Over

OPERATORS MAKE A DENIAL

Declare That Strike Has Just Begun-President of Union Fails In Promise to Order General Strike--Rail way Telegraphers Not Going Out

New York, Aug. 16.—There are no developments of moment in the tele graphers' strike in this city, and a nearby points. All sides to the con troversy continue optimistic in their public expressions.

"The strike is over," declared Presi dent Clowry of the Western Union. "It has but just begun," commented Depu ty National President Thomas of the Commercial Telegraphers' union. Vice President Nally of the Postal Telegraph company, who has before said that the strike was ended, so far as the Posta was concerned, declares that his com pany is doing business practically a before the strike and anticipates no further trouble.

Press matter is moved with less in convenience and this feature of the strike has lost much of its importance The Wall street brokers and their operators were eliminated from the contest when last night the local Tele graphers' union met and for the second time tabled a resolution calling upon the operators of the financial district

The reassuring statement come from leaders among the railway tele graphers that the members of their or der have not even considered going out on strike in sympathy with the com mercial operators. This, temporarily at least, relieves a tension felt all over the country, for it cannot be doubted that the railroad men are really a big factor in the situation. The nation's manipulating the keys of the great transportation lines should quit work.

General Strike Not Ordered

Chicago, Aug. 16 .- An order for a general strike of all union telegraphers, which President Small of the telegraphers' organization promised would be sent out 10 minutes after his arrival in Chicago, did not make its appearance last night. Big Gasometer at Boston Boston, Aug. 16 .- With a roar that was heard half a mile away and a great flash of flame whose withering heat broke windows and scorched passersby free gas that filled the contral station of the Boston Consolidated Gas com pany at the corner of Massachusetts avenue and Girard street, ignited, se riously injuring three workmen and probably fatally injuring four more. Only the heroism of James Hooper the engineer in charge of the plant who in the inferno of flame and stifling gases had the courage and presence of mind to shut off the valves of the big gas mains, one of them 30 inches in diameter, prevented a disaster that might have cost many lives and destroyed a great amount of property.

Just what caused the accident is more or less of a mystery. It is be lieved that there was a leak and the interior of the pumping station became filled with free gas which was ignited by the fires of the boilers in the boiler room adjoining.

The gas supply of the city was not affected, as the gas in the city mains comes from the storage tanks, and this gasometer is coupled between these tanks and the generating houses several miles away.

Fire Quickly Wipes Out Large Section of Old Orchard

LOSS OF ABOUT $500,000

Seventeen Hotels Among the Buildings Destroyed -- One Man Killed and Two Injured -- Town Had but Poor Fire Protection

Old Orchard, Me., Aug. 16 .- Seventeen summer hotels, 60 cottages and a score of buildings occupied by stores were burned last night in a fire which swept the eastern section of this town, along the shore, causing a loss estimated at $500,000. All the buildings were of wooden construction and the flames spread with remarkable swiftness, reducing to ashes a section of 50 acres within three hours.

The burned area extends from Old Orchard avenue eastward between Mil liken street and the beach for nearly half a mile, and in it were included some of the finest guest houses and private residences of this popular re

The fire started in the annex of the Olympia house on Milliken street and the Old Orchard fire department, con sisting only of a small steamer and a hose wagon manned by a volunteer force, was unable to stay its progress Fanned by a brisk southwest wind, the fire communicated to a block of wooden buildings occupied as stores along the board walk bordering the Boston and Maine railroad tracks, and thence jumping across the tracks, devastated a large district crowded with hotels Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock | boarding houses and cottages.

Aid summoned from Portland, Bidde ford and Saco arrived within an hour after the start of the fire, but the fire men from those cities were hampered for a time in rendering efficient ser vice by difficulties with their couplings which were not adapted to the Old Orchard hydrants. It was not until som buildings had been blown up by dyna mite, creating a gap in the path of the flames, that the conflagration was blocked. Shortly before midnight, however, the blaze was declared to be under control.

The list of hotels burned includes the Florida house, Olympia house, Hotel Emerson, Hotel Emerson Annex Cleaves house, Hotel Alberta, Hotel Irving, Hotel Fiske, Linwood house, Vesper house, Hotel Arvine, Lawrence house, Lewiston house, Boyden house, Hotel De Bernier, New Palmer house and Seashore house.

The Boston and Maine railroad station, situated just at the west of the limit of the burned area, was damaged to some extent, but was not complete-

The explosion of a soda tank in Horgan's drug store caused the instant death of one man and serious injuries to two others. The dead man has not been identified. The injured are Newton Merrill of Salem, Mass., a railroad engineer, and Rev. Rufus H. Jones. pastor of Trinity church, Saco, Both men were badly hurt.

When the explosion occurred a crowd of people stood on the opposite side of Old Orchard avenue from the drug store watching the fire. The force of the explosion sent the tank across the wide street and sinto the crowd, decapitating one man and throwing two others violently against the building. Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston was slightly scratched by flying fragments of a post which the tank struck in its course. No other injuries to persons resulted from the fire.

The upsetting of a lamp in the upper story of the annex of Hotel Olympia, which was occupied mainly by servants employed at Hotel Emerson, is supposed to have been the origin of the

Since the first of August Old Orchard has rejoiced in the greatest influx of summer guests in its history, and early this week the hotel accommodations were taxed to their utmost, guests from distant cities having been forced to go to Portland to seek the hospitality that Old Orchard was unable to afford. To take care of the hundreds who sought shelter last night after the fire was a practical impossibility for the hostelries which escaped destruction.

A FASHION FROM WAR. How Flat Watches Took Place of the Old Time "Turnips." When the neat man takes unto him self a watch as thin as parchment he little thinks that that thin watch results from army regulations.

Up to the time of the allies taking Paris the ordinary watch was convex and address, also the name of your in shape and called from its outline a "turnip." The officers of the Russian and other armies objected to this because its bulbous form made the uni form of a man on parade look untidy whether it were carried in the coat o the fob. In Paris, however, they found that the watchmakers of the Palai Royal had contrived a chronomete which got over the difficulty.

Flat watches were the fashion in Paris. The English when they appeared in the streets of the French capital marched in not in gala dress such as the others wore, but in the raiment which they had worn on cam paign. Great was the impression which their habiliments created, but they at once adopted the smart flat watch and brought it back to England for our own manufacturers to copy .-London Standard.

ARE NOT REALLY MATERIAL

Only to Be Considered In Relation to Mrs. Eddy's Mental and Business Capacity--Suit Declared by Defense to Be Advance Trial of Her Will

Concord, N. H., Aug. 16.-The large number of Christian Scientists that filled the courtroom in which the three masters are sitting to determine the mental capacity of Mrs. Mary B. G. Eddy were in good humor yesterday. The reason for this was the fact that they all believed Mrs. Eddy must have made an excellent impression on the masters upon their visit to Pleasant View, because of her clear and concisreplies to their series of questions. It is generally accepted here that William E. Chandler, senior counsel for at the condition in which Mrs. Eddy Attorney Howe yesterday resumed his argument on the question of how far back the masters shall go in determining the competency of Mrs. Eddy. At the outset Howe admitted that he had been misinformed as to the under standing of the term "general insan

Hardly had the attorney began to cite legal decisions on the subject of lelusions when Judge Aldrich interrupted him by stating that the question submitted to the masters to determine is not so much one of insanity or the general delusions of Mrs. Eddy as a ques tion of proper property management. Here followed a series of question by the judge and answers by Howe as to the definition and meaning of "gen eral insanity." Howe maintained that

Upon resuming his line of argu ment Attorney Howe said that he had no desire to put in Christian Science as evidence of insanity or incapacity, but he did want to introduce certain delusions which have been called Christian

As a result further arguments in this line were stopped and Attorney Kelly began to read additional questions from the deposition of Arthur T. Buswell of Barton, Vt. Several objections were made by Mr. Streeter and brief arguments followed on questions of law.

In his objections Streeter said that thus far not a suggestion of a single business act of Mrs. Eddy has been complained of. Reading of legal citations on this phase of the case followed, especial stress being laid upon the Brush will case in Brooklyn, in which the court held that a belief in Christian Science was not legal evidence of insanity. Streeter maintained that it is incompe tent for the masters to go into the question of what Mrs. Eddy may do with her property hereafter, that it is not for the tribunal to go into the relations of the mother and her son and

WOUNDS NEGLECTED

ing from Casablanca of heartrending scenes. Wounded persons are now coming out from all sorts of hiding places. Through the neglect of their wounds for many days, their condition is now terrible. Slight wounds that could have been promptly cured had medical attention been available are now mortified, and many of the unfortunate natives have to face amputation, and even that may be too late to save their lives. The French medical staff at Casablanca is altogether too inadequate to deal with these nunerous cases.

The sultan is said to be greatly disturbed by the attitude taken by the ulema, the body of Moslem doctors of the law who interpret the Koran. On learning of the occupation of Casablanca by the French, the cadi of Fez, with several other members of the ulema, supported the demand of the in fluential shertef of Kitani for a holy war, and the sultan is reported to fear deposition, or even assassination, if he declines to make himself personally at the head of this movement.

Warships Patrol Moroccan Coast Paris, Aug. 16.-Vice Admiral Philibert reports isolated attacks on Casa blanca which the troops easily repulsed, being assisted by the shell fire of the French cruiser Gloire. The cruisers Forbin, Galilee, Cassini, and two torpedo boat destroyers are now used in a systematic patrol of the coast of Morocco.

Market Recovering Balance New York, Aug. 16.—Support of substantial character saved yesterday's market from another spasm of liquidation and bear attacks such as char acterized the previous day's late opera tions. Assistance was forthcoming most from the outset, but not unti prices had receded from 2 to 4 points i many of the speculative issues. Th decline was speedily arrested, how ever, and extensive covering by shorts followed the news that the sheets of the Stock Exchange members had passed through the clearing house without a hitch.

Murderer Slain by Daughter New York, Aug. 16.-George Wasser 57 years of age, murdered his wife and was in turn slain by his daughter at their home in Harlem. Wasser fired upon his wife and then exchanged shots with the daughter. The latter was not wounded. Mrs. Wasser soon succumbed to her injuries and her hus band died a little later. The daughter was arrested. She asserted that the father had persistently practiced cruelties upon his family.

Dr. E. R. Johnson performed a Nov. 30. successful operation last week for adenoids of the throat on Leslie W. Miller at his home on Willett street corner Rawson road.

It is expected that Representative Sandberg will tell all about the Jamestown Exposition and the birds of the South at the shore dinner of the Board of Trade next Wednesday evening. All business men of the city are invited.

Allen T. Hirtle of Barre, Vt., is convalescent from typhoid fever at the home of Mrs. Daniel C. Miller of Wollaston, his sister. Mr. Hirtle was taken sick while traveling in Indiana and journed here to be attended by Dr. E. R. Johnson at the Quincy City Hospital which institution he praises very highly. The moving pictures at the Houghs Neck theatre for the balance of the week are: ''Dia Bola,'' ''The Madam's Tantrums," "How to make time fly," "How the tramp tricked the motorists," "Country lovers" and "Distress." Miss Inez Kemble is to sing "Just a little fond affection" and "Little one, good by."

Many Priests At Funeral

The funeral of Miss Maud Walsh of Chestnut street, was held from St. John's church, this morning, the services being largely attended. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated with Rev. William T. Walsh, C. S. P., as celebrant, Rev. John J. Coan as deacon, Rev. John J. Casey as sub deacon, and Rev. J. P. Cuffe as master of ceremonies.

There were a number of priests in attendance, among whom were Rev. James A. Curtin of Canton, Rev. J. F. Walsh of Cambridge, Rev. James F. Burns of Lowell, Rev. William J. Duffy of West Quincy, Rev. J. F. Heany of North Cambridge, Rev. W. Fagan of Chelsea, Rev. E. J. Carey of Brockton and Rev. J. E. Walsh of Dorchester. There was a profusion of beautiful

Oil Stove Fire.

The alarm from Box 151 at 8.30 this house of Charles Murray at 23 Sachem ready for occupancy at the beginning of street, Norfolk Downs. The fire was caused by the explosion of a blue flame oil stove. Two of Frost's coal team drivers were near by. While one ran to the fire alarm box and gave the alarm, the other rushed into the house and is to put the school furnishings in threw the stove out doors. The damage was slight.

Ladies' Concert.

The married ladies of the Swedish Lutheran church gave a concert Thursday night. The church was crowded to the doors. The program was excellent being made up of songs by a ladies quartet, solos, recitations, dialogue, etc. The ladies have for years given an annual concert and have always met with success. The income from this concert is expected to be about $75.

THE SIMPLE REMEDY THAT EFFECTS THE CURE

f Medicine has spent a great amount of time studying that dread disease—Appendicitis. In company with Professor Metchnikoff, he has carefully examined numerous cases, and both have reached the conclusion that the cure is not he knife. In more than forty cases the symp Suddenly the machine bumped patients had been treated for worms. There are, no doubt, many persons suffering from worms who are erroneously attributing their trouble to some other cause. A few doses of Dr. True's Elixir are sufficient in most cases for the complete expulsion of the worms.

The presence of these parasites is easily recognized by the following symptoms:—Indigestion; foul tongue; offensive breath; variable appetite; hard and full belly with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; heavy, dull eyes; itchi of the nose; short dry cough; grinding of the eeth; starting during sleep; slow and frequent fever; in children—convulsions and bed wetting.

The Viper Submarine Built at Quincy

A dispatch from Newport, R. I. telling of the exceptionally good shooting done this week by the submarine "Viper" was read with great interest and satisfaction at the Fore River yard, where this and other submarines of the Electric Boat Company were built. The shooting was under the direction of the Board of inspection and Survey and the account goes on to say:

Hits Bullseye

"The range was laid out in Coddington cove and the target was 300 feet long, about the average length morning was for a slight fire in the of battleships. The Viper, in command of Capt. Frank T. Cable, was submerged 2,000 yards from the target and came on to it at full speed, making observations by periscope. Five shots were fired and four went straight to the mark, cutting the target almost in the centre.

> "The fifth torpedo had been tried very often before, and had almost always proved defective. It refused to run at all

"No submarine boat yet has made such a record as the Viper. Not only were her shots bullseyes, but they did not vary 25 feet from the exact mark they were shot for.

"The range was 1,200 and 1,000 which is from 200 to 300 yards longer than usual or what is required by the government."

The correspondent of Ledger at ore River has received a letter conlemming his arraignment of concerns who loan money to salaried people. He expected his course would be criticised by those money sharks whose business would suffer, for it is only the illegitimate firms who can suffer from publicity. The honest, legitimate concerns, and they are a few such in business, can stand the investigation of the public, and ones doing business in dark cellars and close back rooms, shrink when light is thrown on their methods.

Sham Battle Of the Cadets

Lieut. Col. Henry L. Kincaide of this city was one of the judges for the offence in the sham battle of the Cadets at Hingham on Thursday.

An outpost camp had been established within the "enemy's" lines" at Jordan field, Hingham., Wednesday, about six miles from Camp Edmands, and at reveille everybody was on the alert for an attack. Company B, commanded by Capt. Charles H. Cole, was sent out to find of a large imaginary force. Maj. Stevens commanding the defence of company A, Capt. Joy; company C, Capt. Hoyt and Company D, Capt. Rollins, left Camp Jordan about an hour after company B left

Capt. Cole's scouts learned of the size of the advancing party, and the defence took up a position at Pleasant and Union street, south of little Mt. Blue. The advance guard of the offence was forced to retire.

The reconnoitering party were deployed on the right flank, and company B, forming the defence, moved down Pleasant street to Charles street, about a quarter of a mile east of little Mt. Blue. The points of the offence struck the defence at this point in the road.

Company C, commanded by Capt. Hoyt, met the enemy on the right flank and with Companies D and A oak tree at "Barlow's Knoll." Senaas a support started a turning movement of the right flank.

Company B's position was strong, out owing to an inferior force the ampires ruled that the turn could from trees near where General Farns have been made. The recall for the fight was sounded at 1.30.

After dinner at Camp Jordan the pattalion moved via Hingham Centre o Camp Edmands

Representative Sandberg

Representative Charles Macomber of Berkley lanced the horse's mouth, and after this was accomplished he appeared all right, but another horse was procured to take his place.

As Governor Guild's foot has been troubling him the last day or two so that he had to use a cane, it was agreed by all that he would have had but poor chance to escape the a position and represent the defence rush of the maddened horse but for Mr. Sandberg's feat that was marked with great personal danger. Had the animal become unmanage able a half-minute sooner, when the drag was descending a very steep hill in the neighborhood of the General Reynolds statue, the results would probably have been very serious, as the carriage in which Gov. ernor Guild was seated would have been plunged into a wall.

The entire 35 square miles of the battlefield was visited today. Captain James T. Long, the veteran Gettysburg guide, explained the positions of the troops.

"Captain" Clesson Kenney of Leominster, the "Father" of the representative party an army veteran who fought at Port Hudson, had his enthusiasm aroused when Senator Frank M. Mothers' Day Of Vacation Club

The closing exercises of the vacation school of the Education committee of the Quincy Women's club were held on Friday afternoon at the club house on Goffe street. The classes have met here regularly during the summer and have been much more enjoyable than when held as formerly in some of the school buildings of the city. The large attendance and interesz shown by the children has been most gratifying to the committee, as was also the attendance of mothers and children at the closing exercises.

A pleasing program was given as

The program closed with the presentation of two vases to the Quincy Women's club, in a neat little speech by Lillian DeYoung, and a speech of acceptance by Mrs. John W. Sanborn, chairman of the house committee of the club.

All the children enjoyed the Virginia reel, after which they served refreshments to the visiting mothers and guests. Lemonade, cakes. and crackers were served, and all enjoyed a social time.

A fine exhibit of sewing in the educational rooms called forth much praise. The classes were in charge of Miss Kelly.

Members of the Educational committee who have been faithful attendants, and had oversight of the vacation club, are: Mrs. R. R. Freeman, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Mrs. Wil-

Small's General Strike Order Has No Effect on Telegraphers

HAD PREDICTED A WALKOUT

Situation Generally Appears to Be Improving From Employers' Standpoint--Railway Operators Will Not Be Asked to Strike

New York, Aug. 17 .- Interest in the telegraphers' strike centred in the probable effect of the general strike order issued by President Small of the national union, and which called upon all operators employed by the commercial telegraph companies and those working leased and private wires not under union contracts to go out.

Throughout the east there were few, if any, responses to the call. This was explained on the ground that all operators who would strike had already quit work. Both the Western Union and the Postal companies claim not to have been affected by Small's call and to be working their wires better than before since the strike was declared. Business, it is said, is again moving

After having been in conference with Gompers and other labor chiefs for four hours, Small issued the following or-

"To all commercial telegraphers: All telegraphers employed by the commercial telegraph companies and Assoclated Press, private and leased wires not working under a union agreement, are hereby called upon the cease work

"By authority of the president and general executive board of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of Amer-S. J. Small, president."

Union officials predicted that 90 percent of the telegraphers employed by the Western Union and Postal companies would respond to the summons They estimated that about 10,000 men are already on strike, and that the or der flashed over the wires yesterday would swell the list to about 15,000.

The Associated Press was not affected adversely. On the contrary, several of the comparatively few men who had left the service in the east re turned to work after the strike order had been promulgated.

At the conference held at Chicago between President Small and Secretary Russell of the Commercial Telegraph ers' Union of America, President Gompers of the American Federation of La bor and several other labor leaders, it was decided definitely that there should be no strike of the 47,000 railroad telegraphers of the United States These operators will be called upon to contribute a strike fund o $60,000. Two of their general officers attended the conference.

In Touch With Small Towns

Chicago, Aug. 17 .- No progress has been made by labor leaders who inter vened to bring about a settlement of the telegraphers' strike by arbitration. Despite the general strike order sent out, both telegraph companies, by actual test, were able to handle busi ness with greater promptness than at any time heretofore since the union men walked out. Small towns which had almost been cut off from telegraphic communication in various parts of the middle west and far west were reached last night in regular order.

Brokerage Operators' Demand Boston, Aug. 17 .- The brokerage or erators' chapel of the local Telegraph ers' union last night voted to present a scale to the employers today calling for a minimum rate of wages of $25 week ly. The union approved of the action of the operators employed in brokers

Los Angeles Situation Unchanged

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 17.—The order of President Small had no apprecia ble affect in Los Angeles, brokerage firms working leased wires to Chicago and New York as usual. So far as learned, not an additional man went out. The general situation is the same.

Steamer Cannot Be Saved

St. Johns, Aug. 17 .- Steamer Micmac St. John for Great Britain, which went ashore at Cape St. Mary's, is a total loss. The vessel struck on a rocky shore and the action of the sea has badly damaged the bottom. The crew and passengers (two women) left the ship yesterday and came to St. Johns. IROCCO IN REVOLT.

Why It Is Hard to Subdue Its Wild Tribesmen.

Very Difficult to Preserve Their Settled Provinces From Incursion of Moors. Mountainous, Barren Land on Which No Power Can War With a Light

Judging by its history and its topographical features, Morocco where the Moors recently broke out in rebellion, will give France and Spain, or, for that matter, any of the powers, as much as they can do to subject her, says the New York Times. It is one thing to shell a few coast towns and an entirely different matter to conquer and hold down the wild tribes which inhabit the mountain ranges that make up the whole of Morocco.

The division of northwest Africa into the civilized colonies of France, Algiers and Tunis and the semibarbarous state of Morocco bears a striking analogy to the political status of that region at the only period before the last century during which European powers obtained any foothold of importance there. The Romans held what is now Tunis with a firm grip for seven centuries; they owned a large portion of Algeria, but over Morocco not even the legionaries could enforce the Roman rule. The wild mountaineers, whose descendants now own a nominal allegiance to the sultan, maintained their freedom and barbarism at the very time that Carthage was the most luxurious city in the world and St. Augustine of Hippo, in Algeria, was exerting an influence over the whole Christian world.

So far indeed from really attempting to conquer Morocco, the Romans had the utmost difficulty in preserving their settled provinces from the incursions of the Moors. Punitive expeditions were common. A strong legionary force would march through the defiles of the mountains and inflict chastisement on what tribesmen they might find, in much the same way as and had eloped with Belches, also a England in modern days carries on married man. one of her "little wars" on the northwest frontier of India.

But they accomplished nothing. The hillmen gave way before the legionaries and closed in again as they retreated. Wherever the French troops have penetrated they have found the monuments of the Romans commemorating the victorious march and the inevitable retirement of a flying force. The real guards of the Roman provinces were the legions permanently stationed at strategic points near the frontiers. They dwelt in armed camps, and near them the legionaries as they grew too old for service settled down to spend their old age. They married house on a lonely road. the women of the province, and their children grew up in the traditions of the legion. Boston, Aug. 17 .- J. W. Hastings, since 1864 a trusted official at the United States sub-treasury in this city, was arrested on the charge of em-EVEN THE ROMANS FAILED. bezzling from the government $3000 in cash. The arrest of Hastings came as a great surprise, as he had always Address 39 Gay St., Quincy. Tel. 356-2 been considered wholly trustworthy. The alleged embezzlement was committed on June 7, three bills of $1000 denomination each having been taken from a package containing $105,000. which had been prepared for shipment to the United States treasury at Washington and which was to be retired from circulation.

Hastings is unmarried. He colsome minutes before he could be taken before Commissioner Hayes for arraignment. He was held in $5000 bail for the grand jury.

Directly after the arrest the United States attorney's office filed trustee Writs in the United States circuit court Street, Quincy. to prevent Hastings from withdrawing any of the $2500 which he is said to have on deposit in a local bank. Besides that money he has nearly $5000 in a private drawer in the sub-treasury. If he is found guilty of the charge made DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN against him he will be called upon to return the money.

Bail was furnished for Hastings late yesterday and he was released from custody. It is understood the bail was furnished by a brother of the sub-treasury official. An attachment of $6000 has been placed on money of Hastings found in the sub-treasury vaults.

Richest Two-year-old Classic to Be Run Aug. 31.

James R. Keene's Crack Youngster Has Shown Championship Timber In His Recent Races-Uncle, John Madden's Colt, Not an Eligible.

The greatest of American two-yearold races, the Futurity, will be run at Sheepshead Bay, N. Y., on Aug. 31 The Futurity is the most valuable two-year-old event of the turf, worth annually near $50,000 in these prosperous racing times. There are both money and glory for the winner of the Futurity. Not all of its winners were great horses, but there have been

every Futurity that has been run over the Coney Island Jockey club's track. Conspicuous in the list of eligibles is the name of Colin, the great son of the late Commando. Looking every inch a thoroughbred, horsemen were surprised at the grand style and fine lines of Colin, for the very reason that he is by Commando, who was a tremendously big horse, but with nothing like the finish and grace of Colin. James Rowe will do his best to win the Futurity with Colin, and also to keep his score clean for his two-year-old season at least. As often as not when a man develops a two-year-old of the class of Colin he finds that the youngster either has not been nominated for the Futurity or that in a moment of folly some one has withdrawn him from that race. Uncle, John E. Madden's best colt, is not a Futurity eligible. But Colin is, and Mr. Keene does not see just now what is going to beat him in the richest two-year-old event of the season. Mr. Rowe will bend every effort to get Colin to the post in winning form in the Futurity. Mr. Keene is anxious to win that great race again with a horse he has bred and raised himself. He was bitterly disappointed at the defeat of Sysonby by Artful in HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO. 1904, and he was somewhat chagrined at the triumph of Electioneer over Pope Joan last season, although Electioneer, a son of Voter, was bred at Castleton by the late Major Barak G.

Thomas. Bar None, the Nasturtium colt that hooked up with Colin at Brighton Beach, New York, and tried to give him an argument, is a notable Futurity eligible, and so is Beaucoup, who ran Colin to a short head at Belmont park recently over a muddy track Stamina is another Whitney eligible Cohort, winner of the Great Trial, is not in the Futurity, but Chapulteped King James, Ben Fleet, Adriana, Besom, Peter Quince (of whom much has

THE ROUNDUP COLUMN. How Cy Denton Young Pitched His

First Game, Defeating Chicago. Cy Denton Young of the Boston Americans, though he has been pitch-Ing ball seventeen successive years and Is still a strong twirler, says that he will never forget that August day in 1890 when he took his place on the firing line for the Cleveland club against the Chicago team. Cy at this time was a green country boy, fresh from his father's farm at Gilmore, O., where the only practice he had in throwing the spheroid was put in back of the barn.

Cleveland heard of Cy about the lat ter part of July, invited him down to the park for a tryout and set the day for Aug. 5, 1890. Young was there on the date specified and was put to work against Chicago, then a mighty fearsome bunch. Only one man besides Young who played in that memorable game is in harness today, and that is George Davis, who is with the Chicago Americans.

Young was then the same awkward appearing chap that he is today, and his awkwardness on that August afternoon was further intensified by the fact that there was no uniform in the club that would fit Cy, and he was given one that was five sizes too small for him and in which he made so ridiculous a figure that the Chicago bunch just lav down and rolled with laughter. Every one worked overtime in kidding the big, overgrown looking Rube and promised themselves all sorts of sport with his pitching.

Cy says that when he walked out on Tomatoes. the field he had a feeling as if the heels of his shoes were made of pneumatic Cucumbers, rubber. Every time he would take step he would imagine that they were sinking down into the hard earth. He had a confused idea also that there was a crowd of people somewhere in the vicinity, but he couldn't for the life of him remember where it was.

The Chicago players, though, soon brought the big fellow out of his dreamy condition by jeering taunts and this got Cy so angry that all his nervousness vanished like a flash. Gritting his teeth, he took his position in the pitcher's box with the stern determination to win that game in order to show the "sassy westerners" that he wasn't so green as he looked.

Nerved up to this pitch the ungainly country boy shot his curves over the plate, and with such cannon ball speed that he soon had the bewildered Chicagoites at his mercy. He finally won his game by the score 8 to 1. He was hit safely but three times, gave only three passes to first and struck out five men, among whom were the redoubtable Anson, Kittredge and George Davis.

Odd things come up with the progress of a baseball game. How is a scorer to score a spit ball that is not a wild pitch, yet fools both batsman and catcher—the latter so much that he fails to get the ball in his hands at all? It is not fair to call it a passed ball. Often it he ball. Often it happens that the catcher is hit on the wrist, the arm or other part of his person by a ball of this description, and it certainly would be rank injustice to credit him with an Norfolk, ss. error. Again, why should not a batsman who succeeds in bringing in the run on a squeeze play be credited with a late of Quincy, in said County, deceased, sacrifice hit? If he goes out he throws and that is a sight more valuable to Quincy, without giving a surety on her bond. and that is a sight more valuable to a team than a sacrifice that simply places a man on second and may or may not result in the scoring of a run. It would seem that the powers that

Busy Day For The Firemen

The fire department were kept busy yesterday in responding to still and bell alarms which were largely brush and grass fires.

In the morning there was an alarm from Box 151, and a still alarm for a fire on Presidents bridge, already reported.

In the afternoon at 2.25 an alarm was sounded from Box 41 for a fire in the woods back of the Swedish Lutheran church. It was necessary to use four horses on the Central station combination to draw it up the steep hill near by.

While the apparatuus was there an alarm was sunded from Box 74 for a grass fire off River street. This acted as a second alarm and caused the apparatus at Atlntic to move up to Woliaston, and the Wollaston to the Central station.

On the way back from Box 41 the Central station combination stopped at Presidents hill to extinguish a grass fire and again at the School street bridge.

The character and standing of public officials oftentimes reflect the character of the people who select them. This view looked. Lack of interest and seeming neglect of duty on the part of citizens is harmful to state and nation as well as the community in which they live. The best results in municipal governments always obtain when every citizen shares the responsibilities of government. This is particularly notable in town government. The town of Hopedale is a conspicuous illustration of an ideai confined to a particular set of individuals.

THE BABY'S RASH.

Hints to Anxious Mothers Who Discover Red Spots.

Nothing strikes more terror to young mother's soul than an appearance of rash on her baby. Unless the eruption is prickly heat, which even the most inexperienced person is like ly to know, it indicates illness, and a physician should be called.

But while waiting for him her mind may be much relieved by knowing something of the different forms rash takes and precisely what they mean For instance, scarlet fever, that most dreaded of all illnesses, is not to be mistaken for measles by a person versed in the indications of both. In scarlet fever the eruption is bright colored and the spots are so close togeth er that they seem to run in one mass though each little speck is really clearly defined. It begins on the chest or about the neck and spreads quickly. Measles show first, to the inexpe rienced, on the face, but a physician will usually see small spots in the mouth before they appear elsewhere This particular eruption that develops rapidly from the face to the body is accompanied by swelling and is

Rash that is part of chicken pox appears, too, on the face first, as a rule but its formation is quite different from that seen in measles. In the former it is in little lumps that quickly develop into blisterlike looking things It does not break out all at once, but appears in rotation in different parts of the body, so that at first one portion may be quite clear of any eruption while another is covered. It disappears by drying into crusts that drop off after a time.

German measles, less serious than the other form and frequently first mistaken for it, may show by a rash before there are any fever symptoms The eruption is usually much paler than in real measles and may be either tiny or fairly large. It sometimes runs in together, but as a rule remains clearly separate and defined. It lasts a shorter time than in measles and may fade after two days.

The Quincy Cup Will Remain In Possession of Corinthian Club

By winning yesterday's race, three waterilne. out of five, the Sally VIII successfully defended the Quincy challenge cup for the Corinthian Yacht club, which captured the trophy last year. It was a one-sided race, sailed in a strong southwest wind, in which the Manchester from Quincy was over seven minuutes astern at outer mark, and lost six seconds more on the run home.

The signal was sounded at 2.40 says the Herald, and the Manchester was first over with the Sally VIII, on the weather quarter. The Sally VIII. at once began to out-foot the Manchester and was fast opening u

At 2.54 the Sally VIII came about on the starboard tack and soon crossed the Manchester, which came about one minute later. On the tack the Sally was outpointing and outfooting the Manchester, both boats being sailed admirably. At 3.30 the Sally came about to port and crossed the Manchester quite a bit to windward. At 3.37 the Sally came about to starboard, and at 3.38 the Manchester came about to port and they stood away for the turning buoy the Sally VIII rounding at 3.40:18 the

Since the first two races of the series were sailed it was not the speed of the boats that decided the race, as much as the weather conditions. Democrats Put Up Fight For Their Respective Candidates

THE BOOMS FINALLY CLASH

Whitney Men Resent Statement That There Is No Opposition to Bartlett -- Latter Against Railroad Merger--Thayer Not In the Race

Worcester, Mass., Aug. 17 .- A number of acrimonious clashes between the supporters of Charles W. Bartlett and Henry M. Whitney, candidates for gubernatorial honors, marked the outing of Worcester county Democrats at the agricultural grounds at Greendale. Nearly 400 Democrats of the county gathered to hear a dozen of the prominent Democratic officials and candidates for honors of the state, and no little confusion was caused when cheers for rival candidates were given during some of the addresses.

A distinct feature of the program was the announcement of John R. Thayer of Worcester to the effect that Breque was 32 years of age and unhe positively declined to become a candidate for governor.

The gathering was presided over by James F. Ryan and an address of welcome was delivered by Mayor Duggan of Worcester. George A. Schofield of Ipswich was the first speaker, being followed by Congressman O'Connell, who presented the name of Bartlett as a candidate for the nomination for gov-

A statement by the speaker that Bartlett in the gathering was responded to with loud cheering for Whitney, ly to occur in any business transaction. Considerable confusion followed, which was enhanced when it was charged that the ones leading the cheering were paid agents.

Another intense situation was created by the attempt made by Congressman Sullivan to cross-examine Bartlett upon his position against the merger of the Boston and Maine with the New Haven railroad.

Mr. Sullivan wanted to know if Bartlett would veto a bill which sanctioned the merger and gave ample protection to the interests of the people. Bartlett, however, was on the lookout for squalls, and his answer to this was given, not in categorical fashion, but for hours fought flames in a big fivein his own words. He was against the story warehouse, was about finished,

The congressman then asked if Bartlett would sign such a bill, but Bartlett dozen or more firemen were caught in stood pat on his answer. Sullivan then launched into an impassioned address for Whitney.

Congressman Kelliher of Boston next presented the name of Henry M. Whit-

Mr. Bartlett attacked the New Haven merger. He said: "When the Boston and Albany railroad, built by our people and encouraged by our state, be: | for the exact amount of the fine recentcame a paying property, it was coveted ly imposed upon the Standard Oil comby outsiders, and, we claim, sur- pany by Judge Landis at Chicago has rendered to them.

John R. Thayer followed, announce ing his refusal to serve as a candidate for nomination for governor. The next speakers were former Mayor Mc- Langlotz, who figured in the tragedy Namee of Cambridge, John A. Sullivan of Thursday, during which her father of Worcester and E. OLD ORCHARD EXODUS

Sammer Guests Driven Away by Fire -- Another Death Recorded

Old Orchard, Me., Aug. 17 .- Every rain out of Old Orchard resterday cartied away hundreds of summer guests, rendered shelterless by Thursday night's fire, and the greater number have departed for their homes, carrying with them such of their effects as they were able to save.

The piles of baggage which encum bered the railroad station and the side walks leading to it were greatly diminished as a result of strenuous work on the part of an extra force of railway officials sent here, but along the beach above high water mark and on the lawns of the unburned hotels there are still many trunks, bags and boxes awaiting removal.

Estimates of the loss vary from $500, 000 to $800,000, the latter figure being set by one of the town assessors familiar with the property values. The insurance, it is believed, does not exceed $200,000.

The number of deaths from the soda tank explosion during the fire was in creased to two last night when Philip Perrault of Biddeford died in that city from the injuries he received. Per rault was 40 years old and leaves a widow and seven children. The body of the man whose head was blown off by the explosion has been fully identified as that of Dominick Le Breque, a clerk in a Portland store. Le married. The coroner deemed an in quest uncalled for.

The Tale of a Feather Duster.

By F. P. SUMMERWELL.

Copyrighted, 1907, by M. M. Cunningham.

His first election night in New York found him drifting and lonely, in the around Herald square.

The horns, the tickling dusters, the showers of confetti, the merry intermingling of class and mass, were all too new to be quite pleasing experiences. He felt interested enough, however, to move with the throng and to take good naturedly the many familiarities of the people near him.

At Thirty-seventh street and Broadway he saw a slim young girl trying to escape the attentions of two overzealous duster holders. He pushed his way to her side and the boys fled, leaving him alone with the lady, no longer in distress.

She was young and of an alluring, limpid prettiness that made him feel big and awakward and anxious about the set of his coat. So absorbed was he in her general charm that her suddenly thrusting of a duster under his nose was a distinct shock. He had just sense enough to snatch it and ask, 'Who are you?" when she ran away. Over her shoulder she called, "I'll tell you when you give me back my duster." Then she was gone.

He moved with the capering merrymakers up to Longacre square, where he learned of the defeat of his candidate for governor, then went home. The duster he carried with him and, handling it tenderly, hoped it might prove a means to dispel the crushing loneliness which he had felt ever since he had left his native town. He often wondered what the letters M. M. on the handle stood for.

His days went about as usual. He paid his lost election bet to the other young lawver at the office. The winner's not treating seemed strange. At nome they always did-but in New York everything was so different. He egan to get on at the office, and once Judge Metcalf, his chief, mentioned taking him home to dine, but the matter never went any further.

The night of the presidential election found him once more mingling in the swarming pandemonium that raged around Herald square. He had the duster inside his coat and was no longer either lonely or listless, for he was misty eyes. The little bride wore the hunting for M. M. to give her back the

At 5 Mrs. Metcalf came in and told them that the nurse had departed in high dudgeon. They did not get any one in her place, Marjory and Tom and Mrs. Metcalf taking care of him themselves.

The night before he was to leave Marjory came up with the maid who brought his dinner. She was so perfectly lovely in a clinging white dress. open at the neck, that he had no eyes for anything except her dainty beauty. midst of the howling mob that surged | She finally decided that if he would not eat she would feed him, and they made a great frolic of the meal

After she had made him take the last morsel, she decided to make him presentable. So she washed his face. then she combed his hair, and then he -but you would have done it yourself -she was so sweet. Of course she cried-they always do-and he had to kiss her again to comfort her. Then she grew a little saucy and tipped up her cleft chin and looked so irresistible he simply had to-just once more.

Mrs. Metcalf came in and found her daughter kneeling by Phil Pemberton's chair with her head on his shoulder. Her mother was so overcome that she forgot her grammar and exclaimed, "Why. Marjory, you've been being kissed. "Mother," said Marjory, "how can you speak of such things before a strange man? "He is acting like a stranger, isn't he?" sniffed the lady of the house. "Are you engaged?" "You'll have to ask him," said Mar-father must be lonely downstairs alone? I should think you'd hate to leave him. Mrs. Metcalf went and told her husband, who said he was delighted-that he would rather have her marry a poor man who promised well than a rich one who did not. Phil stayed a week longer, then begged Marjory to marry and go with him. He was six feet three, but he persuaded this little maid that he could not live without herthat loneliness would be his undoing. So they were married, not downstairs, as they ought to have been, but up in the cozy room where he had first seen her in the nurse's clothes.

Mr. Metcalf gave her away and Tom was best man, while Mrs. Metcalf stood very near and smiled through white dress with the open neck and looked like a morning glory. In her He wandered up and down, reading hair she wore no orange flowers, not groom"-but she did wear a moth

Calvin A. Frye, Mrs. Eddy's secretary, was in court yesterday, and while awaiting his turn to be examined by counsel for the "next friends," deions were read by Mr. Kelley, in which Mrs. Eddy was alleged to have written that her husband, who died in Boston, was a victim of arsenical poi soning, mentally administered, and that she had held an autopsy to prove

She also wrote, according to the letters read in court, to her son, George W. Glover, warning him to beware of "mental malpractitioners in Boston" and of "their evil work." A more recent letter to her son refused a request for aid and in it she told him to communicate with her thereafter

All these depositions were offered by Kelley, objected to by Streeter, and ruled out by the masters, and excep-

Mr. Streeter stated to the court that in his belief "these plaintiff's are trying to get a lot of the depositions in here for publication, not for legal uses.' Kelley promptly replied that his only purpose was to get the depositions in Lawrence 4 6 or have his objections properly noted. The letter-reading was abruptly

Enjoying Visit During Repairs Of Steamship At Shipyard

The officers of the turbine steamship "Creole" of the Morgan line, which is now at the yard of the Fore River Shipbuilding Company, where new propellors are being fitted, are enjoying their visit to Quincy where they all have many friends and acquaintances. Capt. Jacobs of the "Creole," whose hailing port is Malden, is one of the most popular as well as one of the youngest commanders in the service of the Southern Pacific Steamship Company. He and Port Captain Evans of the Fore River Shipbuilding Company have been renewing their old friendship.

Chief Engineer Salbador of the Creole" who was in Quincy all last winter while the ship was building, has been warmly welcomed by the many friends he then made, and has received a particularly hearty welcome from his brother Elks of which order he is an enthusiastic member.

First Officer Delahanty of the Creole" who, also, was here while the ship was under construction, has renewed many pleasant memories of his former visits.

Chief Steward Wyman and Second Steward Brown- are enjoying the eisure which is now their lot. The latter who is an enthusiastic baseball player will cover centre field for the local nine in today's game.

Water Sports Review and Sail And Other Attractions

Squantum Yacht club was held Satirday afternoon and was one of the most successful social events that the club has ever enjoyed. The rain in the early morning and the threatening skies in the early afternoon did not give promise for a pleasant day, but long toward 3 o'clock the air cleared and the sun came out, aking the weather conditions ideal.

A little after 4 o'clock Commodore Sawyer hoisted his flag on the Eleanor. This was a signal for the yacht that were to participate in the re view and sail to get their parties aboard and get under way. Each of the yachts passed in review of Commodore Sawyer, dipping their colors as they passed, which was answered by the dipping of the flag of the Eleanor.

The regular club course was sailed, and upont he return to the club house refreshments were served. In the evening the piazzas were prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns andt here was a display of fireworks. Meanwhile dancing was enjoyed in the club house.

The boats to participate in the review and sail with their guests were as follows:

Beautiful Flowers In Tribute

The funeral of James F. Tracy, the 16 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh P. Tracy, was held Sunday afternoon from their residence on Washington street. His sudden death was a severe blow to his parents. Apparently in his usual good health the boy was taken ill last Wednesday with cholera infantum, and although everything that medical skill could do was done he passed away the following morning. The white casket containing the body was surrounded by many beautiful flowers and as he lay there so calm and peaceful he resembled a beautiful

Disaster as a Result

TWO MEET INSTANT DEATH

Third One Dies In a Short Time and a Fourth Will Not Recover From Injuries-- A Prominent Connecticu Family Practically Wiped Out

Great Barrington, Mass., Aug. 19 .-- A arge automobile containing a party of five from Bristol, Conn., collided in terrific violence with an express train at Ashley Falls, six miles south of this village, with the result that three of the motoring party are dead, one is dying, and the other is painfully injured. The dead are Charles J. Root, 48 years old, a prominent manufacturer of Bristol, Conn.; Mrs. Joel H. Root, aged 82. his mother; Miss Candace Roberts, aged 70, the latter's sister. . Miss Mary T. Root, aged 50, Root's sister, is dying. Katherine Root, aged 14, Root's niece, was the other occupant of the machine

Root had been apparently racing with the train, the tracks running almost parallel with the road for some distance. The accident occurred at a grade crossing just north of the Ashlev Falls station. As the train does not stop there it was running at high speed. The motor car struck the tender of the engine at an angle, the violence of the impact being shown by the fact that the car was smashed to bits. The five occupants were hurled many yards to AFTERNOONS. the north.

The express was stopped and the train crew burried to the victims of the accident, two of whom, Root and Miss Roberts, , were found dead. Mrs. Root and Miss Mary Root were taken aboard the train and to the hospital at Pitts field, but the former died before that city was reached. Miss Katherine Root was brought to the home of a friend here, where her recovery is expected. Miss Mary Root has a compound frac ture of the hip, her shoulder is crushed and there are serious internal injuries. The motorists were 'very familia with the road over which they were traveling to this place, where they often came to visit friends and relatives. The engineer can hardly ac-

ing recklessness on the part of Root in the attempt to beat the train and cross the track first. The accident practically wipes out one of the most prominent families of Bristol. Root was a well known manufacturer at Bristol of brass fittings for planos, counting machines and registers. He was a large investor in copper shares and real estate. Miss Root bi sister, is the author of many books on Connecticut's history, and is recognized as an authority in that line. She was graduated from Vassar college in 1878 and is now president of the alumni association of that college. Mrs. Joel H. Root was the granddaughter of Gibbion Roberts, the first clockmaker in

The couple were very accommo dating, for they called at the court a marriage license, and Chief Burrell happened to be there with a picture of the girl in his pocket. The Chief took both to the station, but allowed the man to go when it was ascertained he did not come from Brooklyn with the girl.

Many Italians called at the police station during the day to secure the release of Miss Pagnini who seems to be much attached to her sweetheart, and unwilling to go home.

While the girl was detained at the station her father was in Boston and it seems he got lost, and therefore did not come to Quincy until this morning. He visited the police station and entreated his daughter to eturn home. But she plead for her sweetheart, and finally won, for the father consented to her marriage and accompanied her to City Hall. A license was secured from City Clerk Keith, who also officiated at the wedding which united the two in Burrell and Officer Goodhue.

The officials of the Electric Boat ompany will watchw ith interest the experiment abroad. A London dispatch says the British admiralty is about to sacrifice one of the earlier type of Holland submarine boats with the object of acquiring knowledge of the effect of mine explosions upon a boat of that class. Mines and torpedoes will be exploded at different distances from the vessel, as a result of which it is hoped to discover the effect of explosives on the boat's equilibrium and furnish torpedo specialists with hints regarding the best means of fighting submerged craft.

The Herald says exciting tales are told at Newport of the experiences marriage in the presence of Chief of Lieut, Charles P. Nelson in the mimic submarine warfare he conducted in the under-water fighter Porpoise against the battleships Kentucky and Kearsarge and the Nelson is the officer who took President Roosevelt under the sea a year ago. The Porpoise hugged the land all the way out while in search of the battleships. At last the flotilla was sighted. Then the Porpoise was sent a little deeper. She went among the torpedo-boats, but eluded them all, according to Lieut. Nelson. But there was a narrow escape from the Whipple. Public Constantly Demanding Better Matter, Magazine Publisher Says, but Declares Size May Be Reduced-Asserts High Standards Would Benefit the People.

Frank A. Munsey, who originated and made successes out of a string of magazines and is besides the publisher of two successful newspapers, one in Washington and the other in Boston, ecently returned to the Hotel Ritz, in Paris, from a ten days' automobile trip. In an interview with a Paris correspondent of the New York Herald Mr. Munsey discussed the competition between magazines in the United States and the Sunday newspapers and predicted that the price of Sunday newspapers would be raised to 10 cents in he near future.

"The Sunday newspaper of the future," he said, "a great big Sunday newspaper, should be made so good, and doubtless will be made so good, that it will sell at 10 cents instead of

Mr. Munsey was asked whether the Sunday newspapers, with their stories, llustrations and pictures, like the 'Fluffy Ruffles" series, were hurting

"It is not only difficult but impossible to say whether the magazine has suffered by reason of the Sunday paper, said Mr. Munsey. "That the magazine has not suffered a setback in circulation on this account is certain, for the reason that the combined circulation of magazines is constantly on the in-

"Little more than a dozen years ago, when I went into the magazine busi ness, there were not more than 250,000 regular magazine buyers in the United States and Canada. That does not nean there were not more than 250, 000 magázines issued, for many buyers took several magazines. Today there are easily 2,000,000 magazine buyers in the two countries.

"Each of these individual buyers takes many more magazines than did the buyers of the other period. Why? Mainly for the reason that magazines

"Do you believe the circulation of the Sunday issues of some of the great metropolitan dailies has suffered during the last few years by reason of the fact that many daily papers in small towns publish their own Sunday magazine and colored supplements?" "I do not suppose the total circulation of the Sunday issues of metropolitan dailies has shrunk for the reason ou name," he replied. "Nevertheless t is impossible to say how much the respective circulations of great newspapers would have gained if country newspapers had not gone into the magazine features for their Sunday issues.

"We have just about reached a point be made than those now generally issued. Except for technical improve ments there has been little or no advancement in the Sunday paper for the last ten years. Almost no new ideas have been developed.

"In my judgment the publisher who will lead off in giving 10 cents' worth will make a hit in Sunday journalism. Our people are never content with what is. They want more and more all the while. The present Sunday paper has prepared the way for a far better publication that measures up to the standard of first class magazine work, or, more properly speaking, standard first rate weekly publication

"Improvement must come in the way of quality, not of quantity. The latter may be decreased with satisfaction and increased in the other. In discussing this point I am perhaps working against my own interests, as my business is chiefly that of magazine pubshing. However, I am not disposed worry about the inevitable.

"Betterment of our Sunday papers is inevitable. Higher standards of our publications, whether dailies, Sundays, weeklies or monthlies, would be better for the people. This last interests me more than the question whether I shall make a few dollars more or less. But, as a matter of fact, the magazine will square itself to whatever conditions may come up and will meet the issue successfully. "Every twelvemonth during the last dozen years has recorded an emphatic improvement in standard magazines. Other improvements will go on, must go on, so long as the people demand better things."

Goat Herd to Clear Brush Land.

Farmers all over Iowa will be inter-made by George T. Smith, a wealthy farmer who operates a 500 acre farm just west of Clinton, Ia., says a Clinon correspondent of the Des Moines Register and Leader. Some fifty acres of the Clinton county farm are thickly covered with a dense growth of hazelbrush, rendering the ground absolutely valueless in its present condition. Mr. Smith resolved to purchase a big herd of goats and turn the animals loose in his tract of ground, believing that in few months they will devour the brush, making the land available for pasturing. He accordingly purchased duced into Clinton county. The animals arrived the other day from Kansas City and were driven through the streets to the farm west of Clinton, attracting a great deal of attention. The goats are of the Hungarian variety, a diminutive species of the animal.

Men must be judged with reference to the age in which they dwell, and the work they have to do. The Puritan's task was to conquer a continent; not merely to overrun it, but to settle it, to till it, to build upon it a high industrial and social life; and, while engaged in the rough work of taming the shaggy wilderness, at that very time also to lay deep the immovable foundations of our whole American system of civil, political, and religious liberty achieved through the orderly process of law. This was the work allotted him to do; this is the work he did; and only a master spirit among men could have done it.

MIGHTY NEW BATTERY

Electric Device Gives Tremendous Power, Says Its Inventor.

SIX RAN PIANO FOUR MONTHS

Twelve Cells Ran Automobile One Hundred and Fifty Miles at Recharge Cost of $1, Declares Frank C. Curtis. Says Basic Materials Will Last For Frank C. Curtis, inventor of the new battery expected to supplant present devices for the furnishing of light, heat and power, recently gave some remarkable instances of its ability, according to a Milwaukee special dispatch to the New York Times. "For power purposes," he says,

'eighteen cells 4 by 4 by 12 inches, weighing about twelve pounds each, or a total of less than 250 pounds, were used to run an electric runabout in the streets of Milwaukee over 150 miles with one charge of the chemical soluboat for nineteen hours consecutively, or a distance of about 150 miles.

"Six cells of this battery were put on an electrical piano in conjunction with a small motor and have been in constant use, furnishing power for the piano for upward of four months, and are still in active use and have been recharged within that period at intervals of two months. It is equally successful in lighting experiments.

"The invention is the discovery of new alloys to form the electrodes, both negative and positive, and also in the combination of chemicals used in connection with the electrodes. The decomposition of the chemicals in solution furnish the electric current in as large a quantity as may be desired. The power battery is composed of material that will last for many years, the solution and ionite being the only parts to be acted upon.

"There is no disintegration of any parts of the cell except the ionite cylinder, which will give 20,000 ampere hours before it is consumed. The size of this cylinder is 12 by 12 inches by one-quarter inch and can be replaced at plates are produced direct from the ore by an electrolytic process which precipitates the metal from its sulphides in the form of a sponge, which is rolled into sheets. The process is inexpensive and produces an alloy consisting of zine, aluminium and cadmi um, which is not acted upon by the ionite solution when the battery is not it is dowdy. in use. FLOWERS IN SICKROOMS.

Never Send All White Flowers to an Invalid.

In sending flowers to an invalid great discrimination must be practiced. In the first place, be careful not to cause any extra work to the already overburdened family.

For this reason growing plants are undesirable, and, besides, while the old idea that they harmed the sick one by remaining in the room overnight is only a superstition, it is true that the invalid may easily harm them especially if they are much handled. In the second place, do not send flowers having a very pronounced or sickening odor. Tuberoses are thus

Thirdly, avoid violent color contrasts. The nervous system is always slightly deranged and the perceptions unduly sharpened in a serious illness, and the contrast of vivid reds and pinks and vellows may be really harmful and will surely be disagreeable to the patient. Choose instead delicate pinks, soft creams or light blues. On the other hand, do not, above all, send white roses unaccompanied by any oth-

mistaken kindness. The sick are often inclined to be morbid, and nothing but cheerful suggestions should be presented to their imaginations. Finally, prefer the unusual flowers. You may be pretty sure that many besides yourself will send roses and carnations and violets. The little bunch of ragged robins or the cluster of old fashioned pink peonies will be a thousand times more appre-

And best of all will be the buttercups or the homely black eyed Susans which tell perhaps of a faroff happy home or a dear one loved and gone.

HAT POISE.

How the Smartly Gowned Woman Puts on Her Hat.

The smartly gowned woman knows full well the value of hat poise. Does and when the most recent newspaper she plant her hat on her head and of the outside world is some two or stick a pin in it carelessly? Not she. She knows, for the best of reasons, that adjusting the hat is a matter that daily under these circumstances is no deserves study and that must be done That every hat is capable of a poise.

That unless it is poised rightly its effect is spoiled. It is graceful and becoming if it is poised well and most ungraceful if badly poised. The average woman does not know

In ripping long seams of machine stitching the work can be quickly and easily done if you will simply put the garment under the pressure foot and lower the needle to hold it firmly, then hold it in the left hand a short distance and with a sharp knife inserted in the seam rip it.

If last year's white linen skirt is frayed at the bottom, cut off and sew on a bias fold with the seam on the outside. Turn over and stitch down on the outside of the skirt. This will give the effect of a new foothold. If preferred, add one or two more folds

PROJECT OF AN EXPOSITION.

Oft Told Indian Story to Be Investigated-Alaska Natives Tell of Seeing the Remains of a Strange Big Boat Centuries Old on a Great Mountain

"Mount Ararat With the Ruins of distinctly barred, as are other flowers Noah's Ark on It, Discovered In Yukon" was the headline that appeared in a Dawson newspaper some few years And, while a controversy may well be waged as to the meaning and original purpose of the great ruin that Indians declare exists on the top of a mountain far in the interior of northern Yukon, the management of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition which will be held at Seattle in 1909 intends to sift the story and if there is any with one charge of the chemical solution at a cost of $1 for the change of solution.

"Eight cells 4 by 5 by 12 inches were used in connection with the motor of the submerged type and propelled type and propelled the submerged type and propelled type a Post-Dispatch.

The story of the first discovery of the alleged Noah's ark is of itself a classic in the north. In the early days of the Klondike rush a brilliant coterie of writers gathered in the new camp. Of those who have since given to the world their impressions were Jack London, Rex Beach, Jack Corbett, ex-Senator Jerry Lynch of California and others. But in the newspaper world the particular star was one Bernard H. Moran, or, as he was known from BAG CO., Richmond, Vs. Aug. 3-25t Point Barrow to Atlin, "Casey" Mo-

As a reporter Casey was unexcelled anywhere. There are whole weeks in Dawson when telegraphic wires are down and no news whatever arrives from the outside world, when the trails are snowed up completely and no one either leaves or enters the city three months old and every one has read it twice at that. Getting out a joke. But the inevitable, unbiquitous Casey was always there with the item, the speculation, the suggestion. A man that had successively been street preacher, whisky smuggler, walking delegate, mining broker, ice trust magnate and boat builder could always evolve enough news, whether or not

It was one of these times, and the editor was troubled. "Casey," said he, "the paper is going to the dogs. People blame us for the wires being down and the roads being impassable coiffure and the hair must be pulled Go out and get an article that will of from the aurora borealis' norther limit to the southern cross."

This was an order such as Casey

The story appeared the next morning That night a tribe of interior Indians ing on his search. They told him of a trip that winter after food far into the heart of a country no Indian had ever penetrated before, away past the circle and east of the Mackenzie. It was a country supposed to be haunted. At any rate, the Indians and Eskimos of food drove them into it this time. And they told how they finally reached a great mountain on whose top were hundred villages built on a great cahad been turned to stone, but was once wood, so the tribesmen declared. And when Casey had found a family Bible -one of the old kind with pictures of the scenes in the Old Testament-and turned up the drawing of Noah's ark one and all of the tribesmen grunted with satisfaction and declared the boat on the mountain was very much like the picture. Moran got affidavits from the Indians, and the story traveled all over the world. The noble red men stuck to their story notwithstanding the most jealous questioning of newspaper rivals who had been scooped. And, while many will call Moran's getting the story luck, it is the sort of luck that Moran always can be depended upon to dig up. He never waited for it, and by 1909 the great exposition which will demonstrate so many things concerning Alaska and Yukon may be depended upon to have investigated and put the seal of truth or the mark of falsity on this the finest newspaper story that the north has ever produced.

Light That Aids Oculists.

A new contrivance, likely to be of great service in eve diagnosis, is reported by the Academy of Science in Paris, according to a special cablegram to the New York Times. Dr. Fortin has discovered that the light from a mercury vapor lamp, passing through two sheets of blue glass and reflected into the eye by a large lens, reveals the internal condition infinitely better than the ordinary white light. By placing a screen with a pinhole between the light and the eye a magni fied image of the vessels at the back of the retina, which have been hitherto almost invisible, has been obtained. The capillary veins, the diameter of which is only two thousandths of a millimeter, are seen to distend with Comfortable shoes and low heels on each heart beat, and it is even possible to count the blood globules.

The Suburban Cities Now Paying What Boston Formerly Paid

It has been a mystery to many, why the water assessment of Quincy is larger this year than last year, and especially so, when it is learned that the total water assessment this year s less than in 1906.

Some expected the introduction of meters would decrease the consumption in Quincy, and thereby decrease the assessment, but each year the assessment is larger, so that today Somerville and Chelsea are the only cities outside of Boston which are ssessed more than Quincy.

The assessments for 1906 and 1907 e shown side by side in the followng summary, and it will be noticed that Boston is considerable less. Minor cuts were made in Newton, Hyde Park and Stoneham, while all the others are larger.

When the valuations and water consumption of the cities are compared there is quite a difference Quincy has 1.67 per cent of the valuation of the district but uses 2,58 per cent of all the water. Were the pasis of assessment two-thirds on valuation and one-third on consumption, instead of one-third on valuation and two-thirds on consumption Quincy's Metropolitan water assess-

Boston's assessment is less not because it uses less water, for it is in fact using more per capita, but because the basis of assessment has been changed from valuation to consumption, which has favored Boston, and other cities are now paying what Boston formerly paid. Less than one-fifth of the assessment is required for cost of maintenance, therefore the basis should not be upon consumption, but upon the valuation to pay sinking fund re-

The New Map Of the City

Watertown,

The new map of Quincy by Civil Engineer E. W. Branch is out, and s the only map of the city for many ears which shows the whole territory. That part of Quincy within the Blue Hills reservation is usually omitted, but Mr. Branch not only in cludes it, but shows the roads, car ways, hills with elevations, ponds springs, etc. This feature alone will be valuable to many.

The map shows all the streets of the city, including those at Taylor terrace and other tracks recentl opened and the print is unusually plain. The route of the Metropolitan parkway from the Neponse river to the Blue Hills is shown, al so Merrymount and Faxon parks and the four playgrounds, the cemeteries, the shipyard, Baker Yacht basin, street railway power station electric light power station, schoolhouses, ward lines, etc, etc, The pocket maps are sold for 25 cents

The Submarine Viper Built in Quincy Does Remarkable Work

Quincy built submarine boats is attracting considerable attention. A Newport dispatch of Tuesday to the Herald says: The return of the submarine Viper today from a four days' sea trial marks the completion of the most severe tests ever required of an under-water fighter. These tests included the competitive trials won by the Octopus, have required a total period of 11 weeks.

Also Entertain Crew and Cadets

Residents of Quincy who came from Sweden are taking considerable interest in the visit of Prince Wilhelm of Sweden to Boston next week Preparations are also well under way for the entertainment of the crew and cadets of the Swedish cruiser Flygia which is to bring the prince who is a grandson of King Oscar.

The Swedish society will meet the crew of the Flygia at the landing, foot of State street, where special cars will be in waiting to convey the visitors to the various points of interest in Boston. Later they will be escorted to Odd Fellows' hall, where they will be welcomed by Swedish singing societies and an orchestra from Waltham, after which there will be dancing and refreshments

The Swedish Masonic club of Massachusetts, represented by a committee, will receive the 50 cadets of the cruiser at 11 A. Cement as a College Study.

Quite frequently of late the newspapers have noted the visits of engineering classes to cement works in various parts of the country, which has been reported as a bit of interesting news. In reality, as the Cement Age declares, it is only further evidence that the technical and engineering institution of standing finds it absolutely essential to embody in its curriculum instruction which shall cover at least the elementary principles involved in the manufacture of cement and its uses. In the leading schools the course is thorough and comprehensive in recognition of the fact that practically every engineering project of modern times involves the use of cement in some form.

A REWARD OF FAITH.

The Story of a Church Twice Struck by Lightning.

A congregation in a hilly district in Ohio, says the Youth's Companion bought a small tract of land and erected a church building upon it. Then the question of insurance came up. Mr. Sipes, the wealthiest member, who had contributed more than half the money needed for the new structure, declared that he did not believe

Responsible For Recurrence of Yellow Fever, Which Has Appeared In Three Towns--Decree to Be Issued Nationalizing Sanitary Service

Washington, Aug. 21 .- The war de partment made public a long cabled report from Governor Magoon of Cuba Into every plate too. which startled the medical officers showing as it does that in the short period since the withdrawal of the American government of intervention and they go to the table. These boiled carthe reassumption of American government by the Cuban army of pacification there had been a woeful neglect of sanitary precautions and an almost com plete disregard of the treaty obligations under which the Palma government was placed to keep the island clean and healthful, so that it should oil, lemon juice, salt and pepper and no longer be a source of danger and infection to the United States and other

The governor's report also discloses the fact that the fever in this last out break has not been confined to the hos pital corps men, but has extended t other soldiers. He also indicates that the evil sanitary conditions cannot be cured this year, in spite of the mos vigorous efforts on the part of the Amer ican authorities, in which it appears they received little support from the na tive Cuban physicians.

Before he left Washington Secretary Taft became seriously concerned for the safety of the American troops and residents in Cuba as a result of the occurrence of yellow fever at Cienfuegos He cabled to Magoon a request for full statement of the conditions and urged the governor to take every step that prudence and experience should suggest to eradicate the disease. Magoon complied by sending yesterday's

After detailing measures to investigate and designed to remedy the situation, Magoon says he hopes the situa tion will permit immediate construc tion of the Cienfuegos waterworks and sewers now held up by the Reilly contract controversy. He adds:

"The sanitary work of the island out side of Havana has been ineffective for fat to be indigestible to adults. years, due to the fact that sanitation was left to the local authorities and sanitary officials were obstructed and delayed by local interferences. Of Nov. 1 I issued a decree making army engineers members of sanitary boards in towns where they were stationed and I determined to nationalize the service. The final draft of the decree was unleted last week and is now in hands of translators and will be issued within

Jews' Friend Is Bounced

Odessa, Aug. 21.—General Gregorieff; prefect of Odessa, has been dismissed. and as a result there is great anxiety among the Jews of this city. Gregorieff was strongly opposed to the antisemitic policy of the Union of Russian People, and he it was who averted a serious anti-Jewish attack last February by taking it upon himself to report personally to the czar.

Won't Recognize Mayor's Order San Francisco, Aug. 21.-Mayor Taylor began his promised cleansing of the municipal departments by sending a notification of their removal from office to four police commissioners. The commissioners, after a secret conferenct, announced that they would not recognize any power except the court.

A LITTLE LEMON.

A Few Drops Add Piquancy to Many

A little lemon juice does wonders for a host of dishes. Creamed oysters lose the strong fishy flavor which some persons charge them with if a few drops of lemon juice are cooked with the cream sauce.

Fried sweet potatoes sprinkled with a few drops of lemon juice and then with a little sugar after they are put

Cauliflower dressed with drawn butter sauce is more delicious if a little lemon juice goes into the sauce before it is turned over the vegetables.

An appetizing soup made of the little green flageolets found at the grocer's, but too little known to the average housekeeper, was served at a pretty luncheon the other day with thin slices of lemon floating in each plate. A tablespoonful of whipped cream went Carrot fritters, a favorite in one household at least, owe something of their tastiness to the few drops of lemon which sprinkle them just before rot fritters are made in the same way as other vegetable fritters. They are cut into two or three pieces, according to their size, dipped into beaten egg and then into breadcrumbs and fried in hot fat.

Cold boiled cauliflower dressed with served on lettuce leaves makes an excellent salad.

Dainty Invented by Lately Deceased Colored Boniface.

If one owns a potato slicer, which is not an expensive utensil, Saratoga chips are easily prepared. They are always an acceptable accompaniment to fried fish, but perhaps are never more happily in evidence than when served as one of the accessories of a picnic luncheon. Wash and pare medium sized potatoes. Slice thin, using a vegetable slicer made for the purpose, into a bowl of cold water and let stand one and one-half hours, changing the water twice.

Drain, plunge into a kettle of boiling water and let boil one minute. Drain again, cover with cold water and let stand five minutes. Take from the water and dry between towels. Fry in deep fat until delicately browned, keeping in motion with a skimmer through out the cooking. Remove with a skimner to a pan lined with brown paper (which will absorb the superfluous fat) and sprinkle with salt. Always drain fried potatoes on brown paper, for fried food if properly cooked and properly drained seldom absorbs enough rub their eyes. When an infant bursts into tears no effort is made to repress the emotion, but the youngster is allowed to have its cry out. It is asserted that this beautifies the eyes and eyes injures them in many ways.

In many cases a wonderful improve ment in the complexion may be obtained by merely washing the face several times a day with the following er water. To this add a tablespoonful

Women who have oily skins too quickly resign themselves to their fate. The following solution will give a clear, dry skin in three months if used regularly: Pulverized borax one ounce, pure glycerin two ounces, camphor water, not spirits of camphor, two quarts. The skin should be bathed with this lotion two or three times a day.

How to Roll an Umbrella.

"Why is it," asked an inquisitive rustomer in an umbrella shop, "that one can never roll up an umbrella as compactly and neatly as it is rolled when he buys it?" "You can if you only know how,"

said the shopkeeper, "but if everybody tnew how it would mean less business or us. The umbrella would last longer, and there would be much less work for the repairers. Perhaps I night not to tell you how, but it's so simple you should know. If you have noticed, nearly everybody who rolls up in umbrella takes hold of it by the handle and keeps twisting the stick with one hand, while he folds and rolls with the other.

"Now, that's just where the mistake tomes in. Instead of twisting with the handle he should take hold of it just above the points of the cover ribs. These points naturally lie evenly round the stick. Keep hold of these, pressing them tightly against the stick, and then roll up the cover. Holding the ribs prevents them from getting twisted out of place or bending out of shape. Then the silk will fold evenly and roll smoothly and tightly."

To Iron Lace.

Lace is never improved by ironing while it is wet, but if it is wantedquickly or the time for working is limted it should be placed right side flown on a pad of flannel and covered with a piece of muslin to keep the iron from touching the lace. This will prevent the lace from having a shiny appearance and will also keep it from sticking to the iron, which very often causes it to tear.

TRICKS OF THE TYPES Eight Years

AMUSING ERRORS IN PRINT.

Examples of What Is Liable to Happen When the Compositor Blunders or When the Usually Alert and Careful Proofreader Nods.

Sometimes the proofreader nods, and in this connection the late Lord Roast Beef, Goschen told at a public dinner a story of a reader who worked for his (Lord Cider Jelly, Goschen's) grandfather and who, in ployer, crieds "Let some other man work at correctness of typography. I despair. My own thoughts often hinder me as they seize and hold the authors otherwise than they ought to do. It is quite pos sible that niggling about words and syllables may often go to the wall when my soul cannot tear itself loose have been found in sheets which I thought I had worked backward and forward with the greatest particularity. I read always as it should be."

It is when a reader is in this soulful condition that the general public are permitted to read, as they did once In a morning paper not given to humor, that a celebrated politician, in a speech, described some one as "sitting at the feet of the game bird of Birmingham," instead of "Gamaliel." In the same journal, too, the following startling announcement appeared under the heading of "Births:"

NICHOLSON.-On the 12th inst., at Belon road, Sidcup, the son of Alfred Nich-olson, of a daughter.

In another newspaper a most pathetle account appeared of a doctor who died owing to having accidentally infected himself while injecting some plague virus into a "gnat." The mystery was solved the next day, when an apology was printed explainting that the word should have been "rat." "Come over and try some new kopje of the real article" was perhaps excusable. It appeared in a paper during the Boer war. These mistakes are curious enough, but they pale into insignificance before some of those that never reach the printed sheet. "Cold milk, father!" once demanded a compositor in cold type, and he was aggrieved to have to alter it to "Caed mille failthe!" "Brer Fox" was made

"Boer Fox"-that was also during the South African war. On a hot summer's day another tired typesetter turned "The Ides of March"

into "The Idea of Work." In a sermon a celebrated divine was made to say, "And they erected a ma- I rine store at the mouth of the sepulcher." "Massive stone" were the correct words.

Abbreviations are at times the bane of the compositor, but he had no excuse in setting up, in an account of a Mansion House function, that among those present were "Old Isaacs and Old Through our business relation with men we learn to know their true character. Treloar." He should have known that July 20 "Ald." was an abbreviation of "Alderman." In the same "take" of copy the "Lord Mayor was received with a crash" (should be "eclat") and was followed by the sheriff's in their "mar-

"Let the gulled Judy wink" appeared in another first proof, and the proofreader wearily made it the "galled jade wince." "Die, lusty platter!" has quite a transpontine flavor, but the "copy" said "Die Lustige Blatter" (a German weekly paper).

"Pignut of the enunciation" does not seem convincing; "figment of the imagination" is better. "Petticoats long on Sunday morning is a disgrace" is all right when the first two words are read "Petticoat lane." In a police court assault case the prosecutor was made to say that the prisoner had given him "twins." What the prisoner really did was to give the prosecutor a "turn" (a fright). "The government were suffering from mental aberration," must have been set up by a compositor of the opposition politics. The real charge was "mutual admiration." "De mortar ivil nice loreum" would trouble a Latin scholar. "De mortuis nil nisi bonum" is more correct. "Jim the Pieman" is easily recognizable as the hero of a play, and "Putty Polly," Norfolk, ss. the racehorse, would throw up her To all persons interested in the estate of pretty head in disdain to see herself so described. For "a pair of scandals completed of Quincy, in said County. the costume" read "sandals," and for "Here is indeed a sundial" substitute "scandal." He lived in the "hubbubs" account as conservator upon the estate of said aged person.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate compositor, but here space forbids of more than a final "howler," which is a classic in the printing world. "O tempora! O mores!" wrote a leader writer at ten minutes to 1 in the morning. proofreader a quarter of an hour later when he "caught and bowled" the compositor who had improved the phrase into "O Tennyson! O Moses!"—London Furniture and Piano Movers.

CLegal Title – Incorporated 1892.)

The Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an Endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be iven could be used as an Endowment for an educational class or classes, the Boys Department, or as a pecial fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor. The Treasurer, William F. Cummings, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, Ernest G. Gay, will be happy to answer inquiries.

Why They Killed Captain Cook.

At the recent celebration of the 37th anniversary of the landing of Captain Cook at Botany bay, near Sydney, a remarkable link with the past was present in the person of a venerable mariner 95 years old, named Captain Charles. He was able to indentify the exact spot where the historic landing took place, it having been pointed out to him in early manhood by one of the blacks who witnessed the event. He actualy conversed with a native of the Sandwich islands who saw the massaere of Cook. According to this native, Cook and his companions were killed because they spread out some sails to dry on a sacred strip of the shore used for sacrificial purposes.

Outing at Squantum.

The foremen and heads of departments in the W. L. Douglas Co. plant at Brockton held an outing Saturday afternoon. One of the new convertible cars of the Old Colony Street Railway Co. was chartered to carry the party to Squantum Park, Quincy, where the party were royally served at the Squantum Inn. The trolley trip was fully enjoyed by all, nany never having been over the route before. The Roma Mandolin and Guitar club furnished excellent music going and coming and at the Inn.—Enterprise.

BELIEVE IN DREAMS?

If Yes, What Would You Do In a Case Similar to This?

If you should dream that a man with whom you were acquainted killed his wife, if you vividly saw him plunge a dagger into her heart in your vision, would you tell the wife of your premonition of a tragedy?

This question has been puzzling a number of people in London. A married couple were inspecting a house which was for rent in Surrey some time ago. While the husband inspected the stables the wife remained in the

Shortly after her husband left the room, the wife said, a man and woman entered. The woman was young and pretty and in tears. The man was angry. After gesticulating a few minutes he rushed to the girl, drew a knife from his coat and plunged it through her heart.

With a loud shriek the woman who witnessed the tragedy arose and staggered to the door. She looked about her and saw that the couple had vanished. She realized she had either been dreaming or had seen a vision. When her husband returned she told him her experience. They did not rent the house. Some time afterward while attending a reception the woman was introduced to a young lady and her fiance. She recognized the characters of her vision. Later the young couple to whom she had been introduced were married. To her dismay, the woman learned they had leased the very house where she had experienced the harrowing dream. What was she to do? She asked her friends. They were at a loss to give her advice. The woman was convinced that she was given the premonition of a tragedy. At the same time she dreaded provoking a disagreement in case there should be nothing but a hallucination.

What would you do in such a case? This would depend, of course, as to whether or not you believe in dreams. Do you?

-Thomas F. McManus, the Boston boat designer, was introduced to President Roosevelt at Provincetown on Tuesday as the father of 12 children, and on hearing this the nation's chief executive showed much interest and pleasure. On learning that McManus was 49 years old, he said: "You're a young man, too, why, you are only one year older than I am.

Congressman J. F. O'Connell And Others Address Board of Trade

Although a northeast storm threatened to strike Quincy last evening, and a little rain fell about 5 o'clock vidently the weather did not keep anyone away from the annual outing of the Quincy Board of Trade Many were expecting a boom would e launched for some mayoralty candidate, and they were eager to get the news first hand.

If there was a boom started i was not by the speakers of the even ing. In small groups there was more or less talk of candidates. It eemed to be generally admitted that ex-Councilman William T. Shea would e the Democratic candidate and that t would take a strong man to defeat him. Another term for Mayor Thomp Representative E. J. Sandberg, Councilman E. R. Stone, ex-Mayor John O. Hall, ex-Councilman H. T. Whitman, President Walter E. Piper of the City Council, Assessor Charles H.

Johnson and others. It was not, however, a political gathering but an outing of business meeting, and the possibilities of Boards of Trade were discussed and good time enjoyed. It was 6.30 o'clock when two large crowded cars left City Square for Houghs Neck, and by way of introduction there was a large sign on the dasher reading "Quincy Board of

There were no delays in embarking on the steamer Houghs Neck, and the tide being high, a quick run was made to Nantasket Point which was reached in fifty minutes from City Square. Although there was no moonlight the sail was enjoyed, and was enlivened with music both instrumental and vocal. No liquors were allowed on board, but the committee passed cigars.

The capacity of Wade's large dinng room was taxed to its utmost, long tables running lengthwise of the hall, with the head table at the right of the entrance.

The menu included fish and clam chowder, steamed clams, fried perch. potatoes, corn, cucumbers, fried clams, roast beef, coffee, and ice

President Williams opened the post orandial program about 9 o'clock telling two good stories, and said these were the kind of outings which our business men should enjoy oftener.

William R. Thomas, the acting Mayor of Quincy, was first introduced. He said there was plenty of work for Boards of Trade to accomplish, especially in Quincy. They can do much to invite other industries to the city, but at present they can help to solve the problem how to house the mechanics of the Fore River Shipbuilding Company. There is a demand all over the city for houses for them, and the Board of Trade should induce capital to build here. It is entirely wrong to compel these mechanics to seek homes in the neighboring towns. The Board of Trade can also assist greatly by supporting measures of local interest which arise before committees of the Legislature. Quincy had been backward in local spirit If we could be alive on public matters as we are tonight for a good ime, Quincy would prosper.

Congressman O'Connell followed. He thought a congressman should be near his constituents, and therefore he was glad to be present. On trade depends the prosperity of a city. Boards of Trade are intended to foster trade, and every city needs such EVENINGS an organization. You have a beautiful city and there should be increased public interest in its welfare. City officials should wake up. The savings of citizens in our savings banks should be used to develop to home development.

Boards of Trade can correctly guide home development. Let it be known that Quincy is a good place to invest, and the city with its water front can take rank next to Boston. The Fore River shipyard is the marvel of Massachusetts and there is a field for other industries like it.

Boston & Maine railroad with the Fallon, W. J. Riepke, John R. Nel-New York, New Haven & Hartford, son, Harry Nicol, George Sanborn saying the merger was destined to no and other vocalists. good for Massachusetts or Quincy. It was not true that they were merely connecting lines, they were competing lines at several Massachusetts points. Now the New Haven road and the Boston & Maine road domnot want to see the Consolidated dominate New England.

In closing the Congressman said he was proud to represent the City of Presidents, and wanted the Quincy Board of Trade to use him at all times for the development of the Representative Hultman, the next speaker, touched on that phase of President Roosevelt's address at Provincetown, which said that states cannot regulate railroads, as they are not creatures of one state but of several. This brings up the question of State rights and promises to become the issue of the day. Boards of Trade can help their representa tives at the State House and in Congress along the right lines.

Judge Albert E. Avery was the next speaker. He said his sentences were always brief. (Applause). And you have the right of appeal. While on the bench in Quincy he had endeavored to treat all with civility. He agreed with President Roosevel were to be encouraged. His duties in Quincy had not been disagreeable He complimented the legal fraternity of the district on their honesty and straightforward work. Representative Sandberg was introduced as "Col. Sandberg, the hero of Gettysburg." He could not be induced, however, to repeat the story of the rescue of Gov. Guild or to tell the "bird story." Mr. Sandberg spoke very briefly, and in closing, moved a vote of thanks to the wait ers for their excellence service. The motion was put and unanimously adopted. President Williams then took the opportunity to present Representa tive Sandberg two mammoth cigars which he said might be taken in homeopathic doses, three times a day. Col. Sandberg returned thanks for the large smoke.

Will Make Repairs On Steamer Herman Winter In Recent Accident

The work of repairing the Steamship Herman Winter of the Metropolitan S. S. Co. of Boston will be done by the Fore River Shipbuilding Company of Quincy. The Herman Winter was damaged in a recent collision and temporary repairs having been made she is now back in her regular New York service. She will be sent to the Fore River Works about September 1, when new frames and plates will be put in and some interiors furnishing will be fitted.

News comes from Washington that contracts were signed Wednesday at the navy department with the Bethle hem and Carnegie steel companies for the delivery of 7,217 tons of steel armor plates and appurtenances for the two new battleships of 20,000 tons each, of the Delaware class, to be constructed respectively by the Newport News Ship Building Company and the Fore River Ship Building Company. As far as practicable the amount of steel contracted for was divided between the two companies, the prices ranging from $420 a ton for class A to $400 a ton for classes B, C and D armor, to be delivered by the Bethlehem at $420 a ton for class A, and $400 a ton for classes B and C by the Carnegie company.

Our Cook Book.

The "New England Cook Book" offered by the Daily Ledger is really more than a mere cook book, and covers a field of domestic economy far larger than any other cook book published. It is made up of 384 pages, over 1,000 recipes (three times the number usually found in a single volume,) written by world famous authors.

Objections to His Violent Temper Were Finally Overcome and They Were Married--Murder and Suicide Follows Short Honeymoon

New York, Aug. 22.—After a search that lasted five years and covered 15,-000 miles on two continents, Julius Teich found the girl he loved and persuaded her to marry him, only to kill her in a fit of anger after two months of wedded life, and then, repentant, to take his own life.

Pistol shots aroused the occupants of the apartment house in West One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street, where Teich and his bride lived, and when the police, who were hastily summoned, broke into the flat, they found both Teich and his wife unconscious Emily Herter lived in Germany with her parents when she first met Teich, who was a silk weaver. But he was possessed of a violent temper and Emily feared him. Her parents also objected to the marriage. But Teich was insistent, so the girl left Germany se-

He hunted over New York for months, but failed to find her. He went to Minneapolis, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Scranton, where he thought the girl had friends, but his search was useless. He returned to New York a few months ago and one day accidentally met Emily on the street. She was living here with an aunt.

In spite of her aunt's objection Emily inally consented to marry the man who had been so faithful in his search for her. Neighbors in the house say that there was a quarrel in the Teich apartment because Emily refused to get up to breakfast.

Sharp words and a pistol shot followed. Then pleading words for forgiveness from Julius were followed by another shot. When the police broke in the door they found the couple unconscious and sent them to a hospital, where both died.

ANECDOTES OF JOACHIM.

Instances of the Celebrated Violinist's Appreciation of Humor,

There are not a few people who postess the idea that the late Joseph Joathim, the celebrated Hungarian master violinist, was a man of somewhat stern disposition, with little or no appreciation of humor. The following story from his biography, written by Andreas Moser, goes a long way to dispel this misconception, says the Detroit News-Tribune:

Once, at a dinner party with his intimate friends, the sisters Anna and Julie von Asten, Joachim asked:

"Do tell me why you have no red wine on your table today.'

One of the hostesses replied: "My dear Joachim, you told us last time you were here that you did not like wine with your dinner, and therefore we ordered Munich beer."

"Today I want some wine very much," said the violinist, "for I think it much wholesomer than beer." Naturally the ladies hastened to fulfill the wishes of their guest and commissioned their servant to purchase wine from a neighboring wine merchant. With a hearty laugh Joachim stopped them and, feeling in the breast pocket of his coat, produced the following letter, which he proceeded to read to his astonished hostesses:

Honorable Herr Professor-Having heard that you move in good society, we per-mit ourselves to ask if you feel disposed You could in this way with great ease considerably augment your income, for on every order you would receive a commission of 25 per cent. Faithfully yours,

The whole maneuver with the red wine was only in order to see how far he was qualified for such a post, and the explanation of his ruse was received with roars of laughter.

Joachim was in the habit of interrupting his lessons in violin playing with pointed remarks showing a lively sense of humor, says the Chicago News. One day a pupil, who was a native of Koenigsberg, played the adagio from the ninth concerto of Spohr. Although he played it correctly, it was a dry performance, and Joachim remarked:

"My dear B., it is no disgrace to have been born in the 'city of pure reason,' but if I were you I would not show it in my playing."

To another pupil, who had played the finale from a Mendelssohn concerto very stolidly and heavily, he remarked, "I beg for the next lesson that the elves do not come to dance in riding boots."

Another youth could not execute a figure that was ornamented with brilliant shakes to his satisfaction. In order to make the character of the passage clear to the pupil Joachim said, "That passage is meant for a garland with blossoms hanging on itnot potatoes."

Plymouth, Mass., Aug. 22.-Two boys who placed a bolt on a rail wrecked a train from Providence to Plymouth at a point one mile west of the station here. None of the passengers 538 Tremont Building, Boston. was injured, but the engineer and fireman were severely hurt. The locomo tive was demolished and the baggage car badly damaged. The two passenger coaches did not leave the irons.

The wreck occurred while the train was on a down-grade and at a curve in a deep cutting. The train was running at the rate of 30 miles an hour when the locomotive jumped from the rails and ran along the roadbed for a distance of 200 feet. The pilot struck a sandbank and the engine was partly buried. The tender turned over and landed squarely across the track, with half of the baggage car on top of the tank. Engineer Colby sustained a bad scalp wound and injuries to an arm and leg. Fireman Hefferman had his left arm broken and one of his legs was scalded and bruised.

The track was torn up a long distance. Engineer Colby saw two boys on the embankment just before the wreck and a woman who lives nearby gain unquestioned mastery over the saw two lads running from the vicinity It is officially explained, at the time. A bolt, six inches in however, that the men to be sent from | length, was found near the rails near the point where the locomptive left the track. - MAORI SAVAGERY.

The Women Slaughtered the Victims For the Cannibal Feasts.

Mrs. E. M. Dunlop of Auckland, New 2-aland, writes of the Maori women: The Maori woman can keep at will. She has practiced the art, which has formed an important part of her train- Anna Bazinet, Osborn Mill No. 2, Fall River, Mass. ing. She weeps so genuinely and so copiously as to melt the heart of a sympathizing witness. The Maoris hold 'tnagis,' -or weeping parties, to mourn their dead, and in these gatherings the women play a conspicuous part. While weeping they utter a low, nournful cry, which has a very weird effect when produced by a number of voices. The mourners sit in groups, with their heads partially covered, giving forth their monotonous wailing and shedding copious tears.

"The Maori woman of past ages almost excelled her lord in savagery. On the return of a triumphant war party they usually brought home a number of prisoners and slaves. It was the privilege of the women of the tribe to which followed. The women bore the painful ceremony of the tattoo without shrinking. Spiral marks were cut into the flesh of their chins, lips and faces; a soot made by a peculiar method was rubbed into the wounds, causing an indelible blue-black stain.

"The Maoris, even in their former state, treated their women with a certain amount of consideration, although the lot of the female slave was very hard and often ended in her being served up as a dainty dish to appease the appetite of her voracious lord, who would kick away the baskets of vegetable food presented to him by his wives as a signal that he required the ender flesh of a slave girl."

THE SIX HUNDRED.

Incidents of That Mad Ride to Death at Balaklava.

Of that mad but heroic charge a hun-Ired incidents are preserved—thrilling, numorous, shocking. The Cornhill Magazine tells of a man of the Seventeenth lancers who was heard to shout, just as they raced in upon the guns, a quotation from Shakespeare, "Who Quiney Adams. is there here would ask more men from England?"

The regimental butcher of the Seveneenth lancers was engaged in killing sheep when he heard the trumpets ound for the charge. He leaped on a norse. In shirt sleeves, with bare arms and pipe in mouth, he rode through the vhole charge, slew, it is said, six men with his own hand, and came back again, pipe still in mouth!

A private of the Eleventh was under arrest for drunkenness when the charge began, but broke out, followed his troop on a spare horse, picked up a sword as he rode and shared in the rapture and perils of the charge. The charge lasted twenty minutes, and was ever before such daring or such suffering packed into a space so brief? Funeral of James C. Gavin

The funeral of James Clarke Gavin of Irving place was held this morning from St. John's church, high mass being conducted by Rev. J. J. Coan the pastor. Inside the rail was Rev. W. T. Deasy of Randolph, and among other priests present were Rev. Walter Fegan of Chelsea, Rev. W. T. Walsh, C. S. P., and Rev. George Pat-MOUTH QUINCY-Litchfield, Water St. terson of St. Vincent church of South

Smidt requiem mass was sung by the choir under the direction of John Mahon the regular organist. Dr. Daniel Reardon sang Papie Jesu at the offertory, and Mr. Hicks of Boston sang "Calvary" after the service.

The floral offerings have seldom been equalled at a funeral in Quincy, being very beautiful and numerous. Several students from Harvard college were present and the Iroquis club attended in a body and marched to the grave, eight of the members acting as pall bearers.

Services at the grave at St. Mary's cemetery were conducted by Rev. William T. Deasy of Randolph.

Automobile Burned At Braintree

Monday evening, about seven o'clock, as Oscar A. Hubbard and son of Stedman avenue, Braintree, were returning from a pleasure ride to South Weymouth in their new automobile, number 19371 they stopped near Penniman's hill on Grove streef, to make repairs. While working on the machine the gasoline took fire and Mr. Hubbard was unable to save his auto from total destruction She was a Ford runabout of fifteen horse power, and was bought new four months ago by Mr. Hubbard. Fortunately the auto was partly insured. By order of the insurance company the scrap iron, all that was left of the auto was brought down to Cain's livery stable for inspection. The auto was insured by the Boston Insurance Co. through the Vinton real estate agency and was very satisfactorily settled on Wednesday. Poison Foods. "How many scores of times is a and childlike confidence, "Doctor, there is no such thing," writes Dr. United States. Woods Hutchinson in an article on "Poison Foods," in the September Mc-Clure's. Dr. Hutchinson evidently entertains little sympathy with the food reformers and prefers to side with the man in the street, who, he says, "as usual, is right." There are a certain number of foods, Dr. Hutchinson maintains, which have become staples all over the world among all races and peoples. These are, broadly, the flesh and milk of three or four domesticated animals; the eggs of one species of domesticated birds; three great grains,-wheat, rice, and maize,-butter, fish, milk, and sugar. The attempt to convert into staples what are generally regarded as subsidiary foods, such as peas, beans, nuts, cheese, oatmeal, etc.,-an attempt which has been tried repeatedly by the diet reformers,—has in- Presidents road and Independence avevariably failed. The reason for this, writes Dr. Hutchinson, is only beginning to be seen in the light of recent laboratory experiments. These experiments have revealed the surprising fact that many articles of food contain, combined with their high percentage of nutritive value, substances which, if taken in sufficient quantity, behave as active poisons. Dr. Hutchinson's discussion of the different varieties of poison foods is immensely interesting, and brings to light some comforting facts for peomatters of diet have been generally ple whose eccentricities in certain ascribed, like seasickness, to "imagi-

Boston Guide.

It may interest readers to know, that the little book recently reviewed, entitled the Nut-Shell Seeing Boston guide, was written by Miss Annie L. McDuffee, M. A. She is a daughter of Mr. McDuffee, of the firm Jones, McDuffee & Stratton Co., Boston. She is a graduate of Smith College, and altho a young woman has already done good work along literary lines.

This guide book of hers is remarkable for the large amount of accurate information gathered in so small a space. Quincy is complimented by having more pages devoted to its places of historic interest than any other of and Hancock streets. A bronze tablet the historic suburbs, Miss McDuffee has been placed by the City of Quincy making a special visit to this city for on Adams Academy to mark the place

It is beyond some men to understand the difference between pomposity and dignity.

We have always wondered what women do with the 2 cents saved in purchasing a two dollar article for $1.98. Have you ever stopped to admire the self control of the man who can pick up a lead pencil without marking on

Company A Heavy Artillery Make Presentation To Sergt. Loring

The twenty-second annual reunion of Company A, First Battalion Mass. Vol. Heavy Artillery was held at Kingsley hall, 102 Bowdoin street, Boston, on Thursday, August 22. There was a large attendance of members with their wives and daughters. Two members Benjamin J. Loring of East Braintree and John C. Newton have attended every meeting of the association. Mr. Loring has served as secretary and treasuurer ever since the association was formed and is decidedly popular with all the members. In 1891 he was presented with a life size crayon portrait of himself and at this meeting was presented with silver loving cup valued at about seventy-five dollars. The following words were engraved upon it:

Presented to Sergeant Benjamin J. Loring

August 22, 1907 As a token of their esteem and appreciation for long and faithful services of 22 years as Secretary and Treasurer of our Military Association. Mr. Loring made a speech of aceptance but of appreciation for the

> The following historical address by Mr. B. J. Loring we print in full: "Invited guests, comrades friends. This is our twenty-second annual reunion and I extend to you plan was arranged and carried into ffect by the boys belonging to the old company who lived in Ipswich, o have a reunion, and in answer to their appeal, on the 13th of that month, thirty-one responded in the good old town. We were met at the station by the boys and escorted to Grand Army hall where the greetings can be better imagined than described, as many had not seen each other since they were discharged in 1865. Of that little band who gathered at that time, eight have passed away.

At this gathering it was unanimou rote of those present that we form an organization, and as a result of their action you are here today. The title adopted was Co. A. First Battalion Mass. Vol. Heavy Artillery Association. The first president was our honored and respected comrade Philip E. Clarke, the unanimous choice of the association and he succeeded himself the next year. Your humble servant was chosen as secretary, and has been every successive year since, which office I trust I have filled with honor to the association.

As a mark of your respect, I have hanging on the walls of my home, a nemento of your appreciation, which will remain long after I am gone, and while I am here is a constant reminder of the long and pleasant experiences we have enjoyed together. There is another matter I wish to speak of and that is this, in all of these years there has never been a word of discord or inharmony in our ranks, and whatever has been done by the officers, has had the hearty approval of all the members. At the time of our organization over twenty years ago, we were royally entertained by the ladies of Ipswich, and we at that time adopted the idea of inviting the ladies to meet with us on these occasions, and we are more than satisfied with the result, and we would now feel lost without them, and I feel that they look forward to these reunions as we do ourselves. Their sympathy and good will is with us and thus Children under 12 years, 5 cents. may it ever be.

The credit of the association is A 1. It owes a penny to no one and all July 20

To carry out his wish, it was arranged to have our reunion to accommodate his con enience, and today, I do not think here is a member, but what is more han pleased that it was done.

That was the last time we saw him and his last words to us still sing in my ears, 'I love every mother' son of you.' His passing away was sudden, and as far as known pain less, and on the 23d of November 1900 he left the troubles and trials of his earthly career. And although we miss him, we can still feel that his influence may be over and with us and direct us in that line of duty he so nobly and bravely planned for us Our love and respect follow him into the great beyond, and we place to his memory as our tribute, a good citi zen, loval to his country, fearless in duty, he passed away ripe in years to his honored and well earned reward.

I am certain from my experience in meeting the boys from time to time that the bond of comradeship grows stronger as our numbers grow smaller Each is more interested in the whereabouts and welfare of the other, and it is with a feeling of pride that I am privileged to say that we have none among us that we are ashamed of, and are ready to extend to them the hand of friendship and the love which only is known by com rade to comrade.

CUNNING OF MADMEN

Exemplified In Desperate Attempt to Escape From Prison

GUARDS TAKEN BY SURPRISE

Battle Raged For Two Hours, Only Ending After One Inmate Had Been Killed and Two Large Dormitories Were In Ruins

Plattsburg, N. Y., Aug. 23.-For two hours a mob of criminally insane at the state hospital at Dannemora stood off their guards while other lu force an exit from the building. Not until one of the rebellious madmen had been shot and killed, and the guards reinforced by less violent inmates and villagers, was the outbreak put down. Again locked in their rooms an ex amination of what the insane men had done was made. This developed that two large dormitories had been wrecked, windows smashed, iron gratings bent and walls damaged where an effort to wrench the iron bars from their stone fittings had been made. The dead man was Isaac Dubois who had been at the hospital but a short time. Convicted of larceny in the second de gree, he was subsequently mentally examined and ordered to the state hos pital for criminal insane

The effect of this was stopped when the madmen put mattresses in all the windows and coninued hammering at the stone work in which the bars are set. All kept up a ontinual shouting and shricking.

Above all the tumult, however, could be heard the furious pounding of the ron bedposts wielded by the inmates who also had a heavy chisel and sledge hammer. Where they got these is a mystery. Several shots were fired by the guards, but it was impossible to tell whether they were effective until the riot was quelled, when it was discovered that Dubols had been shot and killed, probably instantly.

Townspeople and guards from the prison were attracted by the terrific noise and assisted materially, when at 11 o'clock the wardens made a series of assaults and finally forced the doors and overpowered the rioters. This is the only outbreak of any sort since the opening of the hospital in 1900,

Artist Story Kills Himself After Year and a Half of Trouble

New York, Aug. 23 .- Marion Story, the artist, committed suicide at his home, Brook Farm, near Port Chester, last night, by shooting through the head. The only other persons in the house at the time were his servants. Mrs. Story, who had not lived with her husband for about a year, is said to be somewhere in the south.

In the absence of any member of the Story family there could not be obtained any authoritative statement as to what prompted Story to end his life. Those persons, however, who remember the troubles through which he had been in the last year and a half, which in cluded heavy losses in the stock market, his commitment to the Blooming dale asylum and his domestic infelici ties, attribute his act to these.

In the last year Story had occupied himself only in Wall street speculations, which, it is said, were unfortunate. His losses were not great enough to impair his fortune to any extent, for he was said to possess sev eral million dollars, but his reverses did operate on his susceptible mind.

Mr. Story was an enthusiastic sportsman, and up to almost the end he continued his interest in horseflesh, yachting and golf. He was also a men ber of several clubs. As an artist Story won reputation as a miniature painter. His father was William W Story, the author and sculptor of Mas-

CHARGE OF LAWSON

Says That Whitney Bribed Massachusetts Legislators

IS "READY TO BACK IT UP"

Spirited Attack by Financier Upon

Candidate For Governor In Response to Latter's Request to Prove Charges Previously Made Marshfield, Mass., Aug. 23.-Thomas W. Lawson of Boston, also of Dreamwold, at the Marshfield Fair grounds hurled another broadside at Henry M. lett, is fighting for the Democratic nomination for governor, when he ac-sachusetts legislators and caused others to bribe legislators. This accusation against Whitney was reiterated by Lawson in what may I praised Charlie to Susan, and this, probably prove one of the most dramatic incidents of a campaign which gives every evidence of being red hot from now until the votes are cast in

After Lawson and Bartlett had poken, and Congressman McCall was told me I could tell him if he'd take in the midst of his speech, a clerk from her entirely on my recommend it 'ud Whitney's office jumped on the band be a go. Charlie he thought if she stand and delivered to Lawson a letter from Whitney. Previous to this she wouldn't have him neither, so he the tip had gone out that Whitney was out with a statement which he dared Lawson or Bartlett to answer.

There was a slight commotion in the Whitney arrived, and the expectant crowd seemed to know by instinct that there would be something doing.

Concluding his speech, McCall with drew, and then the chief actor in the Marshfield fair drama stepped for ward. The silence was intense, an after informing the crowd that Whitney had sent him a letter which he dared him (Lawson) to read he pro eeded to read it, after which he made another speech, which he finished by saying, with all the force and vehe mence at his command:

"Henry M. Whitney, have you ever bribed a Massachusetts legislator, any city of Boston official? Have you ever caused others to bribe them? I say you times to back it up or pay the penalty.

"But I will put the ball back to you Henry M. Whitney. Come down here omorrow and, on this platform, an swer the questions I have asked you Have you ever committed the mos damnable crime that any American can commit? Have you committed one ever more damnable, causing others to commit that crime? I will be here when you answer it."

This was the finish of the speechnaking, and the tenor of Lawson speech was so startling at its conclusion that the spectators literally had to gasp for breath because of its vehement boldness.

The letter from Whitney quoted from a legislative hearing held in March, 1900, when Lawson failed t testify as to any proof of bribery on the part of Whitney or anybody else. Telegraph Strike Goes On

New York, Aug. 23.-Representatives of the telegraph companies and of the Telegraphers' union assert that they are satisfied with the situation in the telegraphers' strike. Superintendent Brooks of the Western Union was asked as to the possibility of arbitration if Labor Commissioner Neil should come here. He replied that he fied, and pretty soon in comes Charlie, did not see what Neill could do, as the the union or its officers as such.

I had no interest in it: I only consented to be a go-between out o' the kindness o' my heart. I'm an old maid myself and wouldn't marry the best man on earth. I hain't got no call to marry. I got my own house and ground all paid for and $50 a month from bond and mortgage besides. So I'm out o' the matrimonial question. But I'm not the only one cused Whitney of having bribed Mas- in the world to be considered. Mebbe what'd kill me might cure others.

> Thinkin' that a-way, I told Charlie about Susan and Susan about Charlie. together with the hard time she was havin' at home, made her powerful anxious to git him. But somehow or 'nother she got the idea that if he seen her he wouldn't have her, so she seen what an ungainly feller he was consented. I didn't see no harm in this, for Susan was pretty as a peach, and Charlie was as fine a-lookin' feller as ever follered a plow.

The mornin' o' the weddin' I helped Susan to git on a white muslin dress, and when the other fixin's was all on she looked lovely. The clock struck the hour for the weddin', the house was chuck full o' the neighbors-I furnished the cake and things-and up drives Charlie in his two horse wagon, with a suit o' new store clothes on, lookin' fine and manly. I met him at the door and tuk him in to the settin' room, where Susan was a-standin waitin'. Susan blushed a little, and I seen a mighty pleased look come over Charlie's face. But there wasn't no time to git acquainted, for the parson stepped in, and before they knowed it they was married. Then, after the snack set in the dinin' room, Charlie tuk his wife out to the wagon and driv' off, followed by the usual shower o' rice and old slippers.

Reckon you'll say there wa'n't nothin' foolish about this, and I don't know as there would 'a' been if it could 'a' been done without a go-between. Y'see there's a natural course sich things have to run, jist like measles. A wrong treatment o' measles is apt to drive 'em in. In Charlie's and Susan's case the courtin' and the gittin' used to workin' in matrimonial harness was courtin' had been done in its proper time, the new harness wouldn't 'a' been so hard to get used to. As it was they both of 'em kicked the traces.

It wasn't three days after the weddin' when Susan she come to me all afire, and she says, says she, "Miss Shaw, what'd you go tie me up to sich a man as that for?" "What's the trouble?" says I. "He never speaks to me at breakfast no more'n if I'd come in for hired help." "I don't know nothin" 'bout men," says I, "but I hearn tell that they have all sorts o' ways about 'em that don't mean nothin'. If he don't want to talk at breakfast, wait till dinner. Mebbe he'll have somepin to say by that time that's wo'th hearin'.' Well, she went away only half paciand he wants to know what I had agin company would have no dealings with him to marry him to a woman who talked all the time at breakfast-just the time o' day he felt chipper and liked talkin' himself-and wouldn't give him a chance to get in a word. I tole him I was a woman myself and knowed that there was times a woman had to talk and times she had to cry, and if he wanted to git one different from this he'd have to git her made to order.

For months they was a-runnin' to me omplainin' because I got 'em into a fix, and I got mighty tired of it. I made up my mind sumpin had to be done to stop it.

One evenin' I got out my mar' and driv over to Charlie's farm. Charlie was a-sittin' on the porch smokin' his cob pipe, and Susan was inside doin' the supper dishes. I set still in the buggy, with the whip in my hand, for I knowed what I was a-goin' to do, and I thought it 'ud be prudent to be ready to move on suddent.

"Charlie," I says, says I, "I come over to ax your parding for tyin' y' up with a gal that's got one o' the worst tempers I ever hearn of."

I hadn't hardly got the words out o' my mouth before Susan she comes to the door wipin' a plate with a dishcloth and fire in her eye. "What's that y' say?" she says, mighty hot. "I says," says I, "I've come over a-purpose to tell you, Susan, that I'm mighty sorry for what I done, persuadin' you to marry the wo'st man in the world to git on with. He's the consarndest"-

John reached down for the iron scraper beside the steps, but he was too late. Susan shied the plate she was wipin' at me, and it went within an inch of my nose. I give the mar' a cut with the whip and got out, follered by most o' the movables in the house, Laws a-mercy, what's this: "It's a

The world over today there is a demand for labor, and were the negro to be withdrawn from the south the of the crime charged against him. difficulties under which agriculture would labor can hardly be overstated.

"The negro is an American. He has no other country than this and, called upon to defend it, he lays down his life with the same freedom that the white man sacrifices his. Ours is the flag he loves-the only one he knows. It is our duty to see to it that his path is made as easy as possible, and that his progress is as incessant as proper encouragement can make it. SYSTEMS CONTRASTED

European State Owned Telephone Service Woefully Deficient.

Here the Talking Wire Is Operated as a Business Proposition-Not Only Is It Conducted Much More Efficiently In America Than Abroad, but Employees Are Better Paid and Better Treated Here.

By WALTER W. BURGESS. It is my opinion, based upon a study at first hand, that the state owned telephone systems of Europe compared with the telephone systems of this country, both as regards development and from a financial and service standpoint, are woefully deficient. So ludicrous is the comparison that it puts me n mind of the American gentleman who, when traveling in Asia Minor, nsisted upon the similarity of the rivers in that country with the rivers in Ohio-because there were salmon in both.

I have been greatly impressed with what I might term the telephone habit of the people in this country. The various telephone companies appear to make every effort to foster and develop still further this habit, both by attractive schedules of rates, graded so that they make provision for the most moderate user, and by adopting improvements which will tend to make the use of the telephone more frequent. Contrasting this with the state of affairs in Europe-take London, for examplet is a common occurrence and within ny own personal knowledge that nine onths have elapsed between the date of the order being given and the actual installing of the telephone. In Germany there are two stated periods during the year in which telephones are installed. Should a person require a telephone installed apart from either f these two set periods a special charge is made. In addition to this, all intending subscribers must first obtain written permission from their landlords. The rates for long distance service in this country are much higher than in Europe, but the service given, which s the real criterion, is correspondingly much more satisfactory. Although the rates in Europe are low, you canthat practically throughout the busy Back Bay 209 hours of the day up to late in the afternoon the lines are continually blocked. This has led to the establishing of what are termed "urgent rates." For instance, if you require to communicate with a subscriber promptly by paying three times the amount of the ordinary rate your call takes precedence over the ordinary message. In Great Britain a toll line can only be held for a six minute period, when the line must be relinquished, a restriction which only a government department would dare to enforce and which would not be tolerated by the business men of this country.

The contrast between the operators s most marked. I have been impresst what you will, of the American operator. When I consider the number of calls they handle, their speed and accuracy seem to me little short of marvelous. I was astonished at the length the companies go in looking after their physical welfare. After HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO. | looking through an exchange in Chicago I was shown over the operators' retiring rooms. I could not help contrasting the pleasant surroundings Furniture and Piano Movers, with those of an exchange I visited in Paris. There the switchboard was in an extremely dirty condition, and the switch room had evidently not been Mortgages, Care of Property. cleaned for days. No retiring or lunch rooms were provided for the operators, who apparently were doing just as they pleased. Some were reading, and some were indulging in animated conversation, the answering of calls being quite a secondary consideration. In Berlin, Stockholm and London the surroundings were certainly much better, but nothing to be compared with what saw in Chicago, and the operating was terribly slow. I attribute this difference to the fact that, whereas in America the operator's position and advancement depend upon her ability, in Europe the operators, being a part of the civil service, cannot be discharged and thus, having obtained a position for life, have no further incentive and rapidly absorb the well known inertia of that department. As far as my investigations go, the As far as my investigations go, the telephone systems in this country are At HALF PRICE managed along commercial lines. Rates are fixed with regard to the actual cost of giving service, improvements are adopted as soon as their efficiency has been demonstrated, and a plant which, owing to improvements in the art, has become obsolete is at once discarded. This is far from being the case in Europe. There the business is conducted by methods that are neither practical nor commercial. Considerations which are quite foreign to the business enter in. Rates are fixed without regard to the factors which should govern them. For instance, in Switzerland the same rate is charged in Davos, a city of 8,000 inhabitants, as in Zurich, with 150,000 inhabitants. The tendency is also very great to oppose any improvement or any change which tends to DAILY LEDGER OFFICE make additional expenditure necessary. September Magazines.

The September number of Suburan Life is a double house-building number and opens with an article on The Modern Suburban Home," by Hugh Kafka, Jr., a prominent New York architect. This is illustrated which have already been erected. It s followed by a similar article on summer homes and bungalows, also with photographs and plans. Among the other interesting articles in this number are, "A Log House and How It Grew," by H. W. Mathews and Tiling, Ornamental and Useful," by Charles J. Fox, Ph D.

The Engineering Magazine for September gives the leading place to a study of the Value and Economic Influence of Railway Improvements, by Morrell W. Gaines, statistician for Brown Bros. & Co. There has been so much loose speaking and careless thinking on the subject of the physical valuation of American railroads that a well-informed and well-balanced argument of this kind, recognizing and estimating correctly all the elements of the problem, both engineering and financial, has great and timely significance. President Roosevelt, in the September Everybody's, returns to the attack of the "Nature Fakers." Over his own signature he repeats the charges of falsehood, directing his fire chiefly against W. J. Long, whose affidavits he declares are "worthless." A group of prominent naturalists also contribute to the controversy in this number. Varied and strong fiction combined with several important articles makes the fall fiction number of The Metropolitan Magazine the best companion one can find for the last days of the warm weather. The stories include The Hand with a Thousand Rings,' by Dr. Robt. A. Bachman, of the U. S. Navy, the work of a new writer and one of the most unusual stories of the year.

MUSICAL SOUNDS.

Thinking Them as One Does Letters and Words Is Not Difficult.

To acquire the habit of thinking mu Bical sounds, as one does letters and words, is not a difficult task. In fact, to one who undertakes it seriously placed in the Pilgrim monument, that there is no difficulty greater than that the pupil to regard this, that or the other note as identical with certain positions on his instrument, is not one best calculated to make him an efficient and intelligent reader. He never attains to independence in musical thought, but must ever refer to his instrument before he can form a fairly accurate conception of the musical story that lies silent on the page before him.

As a child may learn to read the alphabet, to form letters into words and thence into sentences and so on, just thence into sentences and so on, just so may the music student learn to combine and use the notes before him.

WANTED-A smart, capable P. E. I. Laundress would like work by the hour, will do anything and go anywhere for Strange as it may appear, the study of reading music may be carried on Apply M. E. MARTIN, 391 Water street, Quincy, Aug. 22 mentally. For instance, while I think of a melody my mind traces its flow and all the paraphernalia of the staff and notation appear as the melody passes away into time. I realize the clef, time, and key signatures, bar lines, rhythmic divisions, and in a moment I transfer the thought to paper. People in general are accustomed to the transference of their ordinary thoughts to papers and by constant practice the labor of transmittal from brain to paper is minimized so greatly as to appear almost automatic in performance. Whatever of laborious effort appear in the process of writing music is the result of want of practice and not that this form of writing is really or intrinsically more difficult than writing in words, or demands any greater mental or manual effort. The mind is here master and directs the operations of the hand; and both gain facility from the practice which comes of thinking music.-Musician.

ALAWAYS TO THE FORE

Town of Hopedale Conspicuous In Political and Business World

Milford Journal Series.

The Town of Hopedale has not only occupied a conspicuous place in the business world, but has been equally conspicuous in the political world. There has hardly been a time since she became a town but what her citizens have occupied a prominent place in politics as well as business.

In 1892, the Republican party had become demoralized throughout the State. They not only suffered defeat by the election of a Democratic governor for the two previous years, but in 1890, the Democratic party had captured seven out of the twelve congressmen. Surrounded by such disheartening conditions, the party leaders began to prepare themselves for a campaign to regain their lost power. The Hopedale district was represented in Congress by the Hon. Geo. Fred Williams and this was not altogether pleasing to the Republicans of the district. The Republicans made an urgent appeal to Gen William F. Draper to become their candidate for Congress and the Draper-Williams contest attracted wide-spread interest. Congressman Williams had served one term in Congress and, as a matter of course was eager for a re-election, and everyone familiar with political campaigns will admit that he is no mean adversary in a political encounter. Gen. Draper, however, with his usual pluck and energy began a mos vigorous campaign, following his opponent night after night in a thor ough canvass of the district. When the campaign came to an end, Gen. Draper won a victory that placed Killian and Ball. him in the front ranks as an able and versatile campaigner.

Lieut.-Gov. Draper had been elected to the chairmanship of the Republican State Committee and had charge of the campaign throughout the wife and then killed himself in their State. to keep his religion.

Let us now go back somewhat further into history, for all these facts bear upon the romance of the young prince now visiting the United States. Old Peter the Great, who founded the modern Russian empire, was an audacious sovereign. He made so bold as to build the present Russian capital on soil that actually belonged to Sweden. He had set his eye along the Scandinavian peninsula with the purpose of extending his boundaries to the sea, thus acquiring a Russian port on the Atlantic. But Peter, died before he could accomplish this. He left a se cret will, one section of which en joined his successors to carry out his dream of acquiring an Atlantic seaboard. Some historians hold that this so called will, which was not produced until Peter had been dead about a hundred years, was manufactured by Napoleon. In any event Peter tried hard to win the Russian way to the sea over the ruins of Sweden, but that nation then was one of the most power ful in Europe, and the czar was de feated. Russia has been looking ever since with longing toward that seaboard, and it is conceded that the present czar and his predecessor had more or less definite plans for carry-> that proposition for the present. Now comes this young Prince Wilhelm of Sweden, four generations from the first Bernadotte. The insult of a Swedish prince to a Russian princess more than a hundred years ago made this young sailor prince a member of royalty. Otherwise he might now be employed, granting his birth for the sake of the argument, as a tailor or shopkeeper in rural France, where de scendants of Bernadotte's brothers are similarly engaged. Now comes Prince Wilhelm in the year 1907, falls in love with a pretty Russian princess and unites in amity and good will, let us hope, these two nations, which have been snapping and snarling at each

Gay and Pretty Princess.

Prince Wilhelm, it is said, is an affable young man, fond of tennis and other outdoor sports. His age is twentythree. The girl whom he is to marry is unusually beautiful for a princess. It is a well known fact that the average woman of royal blood is ugiy enough to cause the collapse of a scarecrow in a Kansas cornfield. But this little Princess Maria has had unusual Maria was an infant. The father then Norfolk, ss. married a woman not connected with royalty. This brought about his expulsion from Russia. Recently her father, the Grand Duke Paul, was permitted to return to Russia. Maria Paylynna say the gossins is a very Pavlovna, say the gossips, is a very gay and light hearted girl. Probably she is a great deal more so than if she had been reared in Russia. In any event her marriage to the Swedish granted.

In view of all those facts all of us are constrained to these facts, all of us are constrained to hope that the prince will get away from Newport without any permanent injury to his digestion.

Make Good Citizens.

The prince's coming is of intimate interest to several millions of Americans who never saw Newport. These are the Americans of Swedish nativity or blood. There are so many of them that practically whole states in our middle northwest are permeated with them. Governor John A. Johnson of Minnesota, a man of Swedish blood, is being mentioned as a possible candidate for the presidency. Both houses of congress have had in their membership Swedes of high ability. The Swede is a considerable factor in American industry. Young Men's Christian Association OF QUINCY, MASS.

(Legal Title - Incorporated 1892.)

The Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage intelletedness on the new Association Building. When he building is free from debt it will serve as an Endowment, as there is a goodly income from the formitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class or classes, the Boys Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor.

The Treasurer, WILLIAM F. CUMMINGS, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, ERNEST G. GAY, will be happy to answer inquiries.

OUR HOSPITAL

(Legal Title: City Hospital of Quincy) INCORPORATED 1889

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy earnestly appeal for donations and bequests for the Endowment fund. This now amounts to over $60,000, but a fund of at least $100,000 is urgently needed. Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) will endow a Free Bed to which such name may be given as the Donor nay desire, but any sum for this noble institution which stands ready to serve us all in the hour of need, will be most gratefully received.

The Secretary, Timothy Reed, Adams Stuincy, or the Treasurer, Richard D. Chassavings Bank Building, Quincy, will be very glade confer with any one or to an wer any inquiries.

THE ANTI-TRUST ACT

There Will Be No Temporizing In Prosecuting Violators

INQUIRY IN NEW ENGLAND

Proposed Control of Boston and Maine and Acquisition of Other Roads by the New Haven Company Considered by the Government

Boston, Aug. 24.-United States District Attorney French announced last night, in a communication to Chairman MacFarland of the executive committee of the Independence League of Massachusetts, that President Roosevelt and the department of justice have under consideration the proposed control of the Boston and Maine railroad by the New York, New Haven and Hartford system. French's letter to MacFarland is as follows:

"I have received your communica tion of Aug. 21, calling my attention to the alleged violation of the federal anti-trust law by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company, by Mr. Charles S. Mellen, its president, and possibly by others, with respect to the acquisition and control of stock in the Boston and Maine Railroad company, upon the theory which you advance, and undertake to demonstrate, that the two railroads compete in interstate commerce.

"I beg to say in reply that this whole the president and the department of justice for some time. The steno graphic report of Mr. Mellen's testimony before the Massachusetts legis lative committee on railroads, and his previous communication to Governor Guild, from both of which you quote, were promptly transmitted to the attor ney general, and I was directed by him some weeks ago to begin, and I am now making, a careful inquiry, not only into the facts to which you refer connected with the attempted consolidation of the two railroads, but of the acquisition, direct and indirect, by the New Haver road during the past five or six years, of other steam roads, of street railways and of steamship lines engaged in com petitory interstate traffic.

"The purpose of this inquiry is to ascertain how far, if at all, these trans actions have been violative of the ant trust act, and to take such action as the result of the investigation may justify and to the end that the policy of the national government with regard to carriers engagd in interstate com merce, as expressed by congress and interpreted by the supreme court in the Trans-Missouri and Northern Securities cases, may be maintained, and individuals, as well as corpor: tions, offending against the law may be adequately punished.

"The policy of the administration as to prosecutions under the anti-trust act has been too clearly and emphatical ly stated by the president in his recent speech at Provincetown, as well as by the attorney general, to leave any doubt in the mind of the people that while honestly conducted corporations and their officers have nothing to fear there is to be no temporizing with those who, after a thorough and impartially conducted investigation, ap pear to have been violators of the law.

"I beg to add, in view of your kind personal allusion to myself, the assurance that so long as I am United State district attorney for this district I shall do my best to enforce the federal laws vigorously, fearlessly and impartially.

General Bartlett's Friends Are Making Great Claims of Strength

DOYLE IN HAZARDOUS PLACE

There Have Long Been Rumors of Bribery In Connection With Passage of Various Loan Bills

During the past week the friends and workers who are engineering the campaign for the nomination of General Charles W. Bartlett have put in some extremely active and effective labor, and they say they believe the situation today gives them ground for claiming a majority of the delegates to

They are especially pleased that the the machine Democrats, who are backing Mr. Whitney, to pack the hall in discovered that a large number of Re-Springfield than there would be if the publican ballots had been mutilated. convention were held in Boston. Springfield has always been regarded as an ing January the committee on elecideal convention city, by reason of its tions was asked to probe the matter splendid hotel accommodations and its and did so. Very likely the conventions might have been held in Worcester to this day, had it not been for its great lack of suitable hotels.

Has Bartlett the Goods? The Bartlett men claim that they have a great majority of the prominent Democrats outside of Boston with them and cite such names as those of Col. John P. Sweeney of Lawrence, Mayor Kane of the same city, former Mayor Charles J. Barton of Melrose, John O'Gara of Brockton, Daniel T. O'Connell of Boston, and a great many

Chairman Buntin of the ward 20 Democratic city committee in Boston declares that General Bartlett will be nominated without any great contest when the convention meets in Springfield. He declares that the Whitney men are making a tremendous bluff, and that they have not the goods which they claim The men at Whitney headquarters claim to be extremely optimistic as to the outcome of the caucuses. There appears to be a thorough conviction with them that the state will declare for the Brookline man by a very substantial margin, although there is some reticence as to giving out figures or making absolutely definite claims. Those who seem to have a pretty general knowledge of what is going the Democratic ranks predict the nomination of Mr. Whitney by a wide marable ground for their cheerfulness and

Brown May Be Left

In the meantime it is becoming apparent that the Democrats may not intend to nominate E. Gerry Brown of Brockton for lieutenant governor. Mr. Brown would like to receive this nomination and also to have the nomination of the Independence League, in order, as he says, that he may be elected this fall. He assumes that with both nominations he could do better than last year, while those who know the situation feel very confident that he would do very much worse, for more people know him now than knew him then.

But the Democrats do not feel like nominating Brown, knowing, as they do, that the Independence League, whose candidate he really is, proposes to put up its own state ticket and to fight the old line parties for all the league is worth. This will be a heavy blow to Gerry, who has been patting himself on the back all summer with the assurance that he was going to be lieutenant governor next year. Mr. Brown is nothing if not an optimist.

Fitzgerald's Hard Knocks

The Democratic machine in Boston has had a number of hard knocks in the last few weeks. It is very evident that the finance commission, which is inquiring into the condition of the finances of the city of Boston in an endeavor to correct, as far as possible, the bankrupting of the city by the present administration, is finding a good many things which were previously covered up so that it was very difficult to get at the true situation.

That commission has already recommended to the mayor that additional employes, selected by him and sent to the board of aldermen for confirmation, be held up for the present, at least. By this course it is possible that the taxpayers may be relieved of unnecessary and burdensome taxation for the benefit of these particular individuals. They also recommend a heavy cut in the water loan measure, from $300,000 to $75,000.

City hall is greatly disturbed over the probing which is going on and shows it in various ways, from the highest officials down to the lowest.

Suspicious Loan Bill Practices It has long been suspected by the persons conversant with the method of doing things practiced at city hall, that in many cases loan bills were | guages? forced through the city government by the use of improper means. a system of bribery as open and as shameless as was ever practiced anywhere in the world. The passage of a recent loan bill has been under investigation by District Attorney John B. Moran of Suffolk county, and as a result the grand jury has indicted Suintendent of Streets James H. Doyle

Councilman James A. Hatton. It the w up to Mr. Moran to prove to a art and the jury that these two men re the culprits who did the trick

It is a great deal easier to charge a man with bribery than it is to prove it. There are usually but two parties to a transaction of this sort, the briber and the man bribed, and as a general thing, neither of these is willing to convict himself of a crime. There have been a great many charges of bribery made under various circumstances which have not been proven, even where it was known beyond any reasonable question that bribery had been committed.

Doyle Unseated by House

This is not the first time that James H. Doyle has been in trouble. A number of years ago he was a candidate for representative to the Massachusetts the state convention to be held Oct. 5. | house from old ward 17, and on the returns was declared elected along with convention is to be held in Springfield his associate on the ticket. > When the legislature met the followner, in addition to the marks already there for the Republican candidates. This, of course, nullified these ballots. and under ordinary circumstances they would not have been counted as they were cast. The committee heard a great deal of evidence on both sides, and was so thoroughly satisfied that the Republican candidate running against Doyle had been honestly elected that it recommended the expulsion of Doyle, which was subsequently voted by the house. He was at that time, and has been for a number of years, engaged in the liquor traffic, and it was a great surprise when he was appointed superintendent of streets for the city of Boston.

A PARASITE CREEPER.

New Zealand's Vegetable Caterpillar Is a Most Peculiar Plant.

The most extraordinary object I have ever seen is the New Zealand vegetable caterpillar. The rata is a parasite creeper which first destroys its forest host and then crushes it to death and, usurping its skeleton, becomes a tree itself. If the rata seedling is dug up it is found to be springing not from a seed, but from the head of a perfectly formed caterpillar.

It is supposed by some that the caterpillar, which on dissection proves of its living insect relative, swallow the tiny rata seed while living and, burrowing into the ground, becomes instead of a chrysalis, the germinating home of the seed, which by some agency turns its unfortunate foster mother into wood.

Others, however, contend the caterpillar itself is produced by the rata, urging in support of their theory that if springing from a seed the shoot would grow out of different parts of the caterpillar instead of invariably growing out of the head.

The insect vegetable is yellowish, about four inches long and is fully extended. I have seen them freshly dug up and others that have been kept for years, and all had the appearance of a perfect insect carved in wood.-Pearson's Weekly.

The Elevator Eyes.

One of the greatest hardships suffered by men who run clevators in the tall office buildings downtown is the bad effect it has on their eyes. The cars are run at a high rate of speed and, as the men have to look straight ahead of them most of the time, their eyes soon feel the strain of the constant motion

"I've worked in the subway," remarked one of these elevator men "and I thought that was pretty bad, but it isn't a patch to the way my eyes feel after a day's work in these cars. If you ever run across an ele vator man who seems unusually bad tempered toward the close of the business day, just look at his eyes and you will be apt to forgive him. They generally show the strain that has been put on them for eight or ten hours."-New York Press.

Principal of Quincy Mansion School, Wollaston Passes Away

Dr. Horace Mann Willard, principal of the Quincy Mansion school and an ex-Councilman, passed away on Saturday, at the age of 65 years. He had been in failing health for several months. It was in 1898, when Hon. Russel A. Sears was Mayor that Dr. Willard served the city as councilman being a member of the Committee on Public Buildings and also the Committee

Dr. Willard was born in Canterbury, Conn., March 24, 1842. His father was a personal friend of Hon. Horace Mann, for whom he was named.

Dr. Willard was well known in educational circles both in this state and Vermont. He was a graduat of Brown university, and becam active in the cause of education immediately after being graduated from that institution. He was in strumental in the founding of Vermont academy at Saxton's River, Vt., and was its first principal. He was at the head of the school about 15

In 1890 he went to West Bridgewater and assumed charge of the Howard seminary when it was on a very poor financial footing, and by persistent work built it up until i became one of the leading insitituions in the country.

Dr. Willard was at one time sup erintendent of public schools in the vas a member of the school board at West Bridgewater, and one of the poard of directors of its public library. Having enjoyed the privileges of extensive travel abroad and in this country, he had something more than a theoretical knowledge of edncational matters and affairs. He received the degree of master of arts at Brown university in 1867, and the honorary degree of doctor of science in 1893.

In 1896 Dr. Willard purchased the Quincy mansion in Wollaston park and opened a school for young women. From the start the Quincy mansion school was a success, and oday is attended by young women from all parts of this country, and from foreign countries. Dr. Willard has been assisted in he management of the school by his wife, almost as well known as an educator as Dr. Willard himself.

Mrs. Willard was formerly Miss Ruth Saunders of Fall River. She became principal of the Bridgewater Academy. She became the wife of Dr. Willard, July 11, 1872, and has been a valuable assistant in his work, especially in Quincy.

Dr. and Mrs. Willard entertained freely at the Quincy mansion, and for the last 10 years their home has been the scene of many brilliant gatherings. Dr. Willard was a special friend of the late Mary A Livermore and of Mrs. Julia Ward guests at the Quincy Mansion. The funeral will take place Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

CLEMENCEAU TAKES CHARGE

Near Casablanca--Newly Proclaimed Sultan to Wage War on Troops of France and Spain

Paris, Aug. 26 .-- Premier Clemenceau, who returned from Carlsbad and Munich yesterday, has assumed active direction of the Moroccan situation, which developed during his absence. He conferred with Foreign Minister Pichon, Wa Minister Picquart, and Minister of Marine Thomson, and today will go to Rambouillet to see President

The Journal des Debats, in an editorial as to the effect of Clemenceau's return on the Moroccan situation, says: "He knows the sentiments of the sovereigns and the dispositions of the chancellors. He ought to know that politics today not only are most uncertain, but also most costly, and that calm and conservatism are essential." Advices from Casablanca show no change in the situation. The troops tendants. "We have started to raise a large fund-two of them in fact. One of these is for the benefit of the strikers and the other is to, be expended in propaganda work in favor of government control of the telegraph. Although the call for funds has only been out a few days, many remittances were received before I left Chicago, and, strange to say, as much was received for the campaign fund as for the benefit of the strikers.

"Much has been published about arbitration, but the cry from coast to oast is 'no arbitration.' "

In the face of the statements by the president of the striking unionists, both the Western Union and the Postal Tele graph companies emphasize their dec larations that the situation is improving daily, and that, barring a few small and isolated towns, conditions are gradually, but steadily, reassuming a normal basis. They announce that mer.' they are handling all the business offered with dispatch.

"Use your common sense. There are lots of ways. Take him to shop with you the next time you go. That's one pretty good way of making him realize that a woman can't dress on nothing.' The young woman shook her head. You don't know William as well as I do," she said. "I'd be worse off than ever, and, besides, he wouldn't go." "Oh, yes, he would," said the elderly woman confidently. "He will if you manage him properly. You tell some voman friend what exquisite taste he has when he's around and notice how he'll begin to swell up. I never knew the man who didn't believe that he knew more about what was becoming to a woman than she did herself. Then lieve you depend on his judgment." "But, mother"-"I suppose you think he'll pick out ome five dollar horror or something that doesn't suit you at all."

enough if you can make him really be-

"I'm afraid he would." "Well, he wouldn't. You begin by wanting him to go to some dollar and ninety-eight millinery store and watch him rebel. Look in at the window and comment favorably on one or two of the shapes if you can't do anything else, especially if some other people are standing by looking in. He'll insist on your going to some decent Back Bay 209 place. Don't take him to Elise, though. Go any place where there's a fairly good assortment, but not where they take $50 hats as a matter of course. All you've got to do is to pick out an intelligent saleswoman and insist on something inexpensive. If she brings you anything over $8, say: 'Oh, dear, no! I can't afford to pay that price.'

"I don't see"-"Well, you will. You'll see that he'll Insist on seeing something better, and you'll see that he'll be about as helpess as a babe between you and the saleswoman, and he'll see that the only way he can assert himself is to urge you not to consider expense. Don't tell me he won't. I know 'em. You can have any hat you want, and he'll go out of the store under the impresion that he selected it. And you don' want to disabuse his mind either. Tell him that you think the hat is perfectly charming and you are afreid he has been extravagant and the one at $11 would have done just as well. See if he doesn't tell you that it's economy in the long run to get a good thing and that you will get more than $5 worth of satisfaction out of the difference in the price. But don't ever let him convince you."

"Why not?" "Because it wouldn't do. But don't fail to tell him how your friends raved about the hat and how surprised they seemed when you told them it was his choice and how they said they would hate to have their husbands pick out a hat for them and how you thought so, too, but didn't say it, and mention casually as the thing goes on to any company you have that you always let William select your hats on account of his exquisite taste, the only drawback being his criminal disregard of price. Same thing applies to gowns or anything else." "But it would be awful to have to be everlastingly taking him around." "You won't have to," said the elderly woman. "Don't you worry about that. He'll get tired after the first few times and let you get what you want yourself. But you won't hear any more talk about your extravagance. He'l have got his horizon extended. But don't on any account let him lose his own good opinion of his taste." "It seems a little deceptive," said the young woman, "but I almost believe I'll try it."-Chicago News.

Mrs. Newsome before mariage having become an accomplished equestrienne, will after touring other countries enjoy with her husband riding "the chase" in old England.

Car Accident.

About 8 o'clock Sunday evening, at the corner of Washington and South streets, a crowded electric car and the bakery team of A. Schwartz collided. The wagon was badly wrecked and Schwartz was considerable cut and bruished, while the horse and the passengers were unhurt. There were exciting times for a few moments.

Means Much To Shipyard And Quincy Business Men

the Quincy Board of Trade last week over the need of moderate priced tenements in Quincy, renews attention to a pressing difficulty which the Fore River company has to face. There is greater need than ever for tenements of moderate price for mechanics and workmen employed by the company. It has happened, time and again, that men who have secured employment at the Fore River, have been compelled to throw up their jobs because they could not secure proper accommodations for their families. This is a distinct loss to Quincy. These men are desirable citizens who wish to make their home here and do their share in increasing the city's wealth and population. Every man who has to leave Quincy for such a reason is a loss to the community which the business men here are quick to appreciate Their dolars go elsewhere. A per manent tenant, who has permanent employment in an established company and who is a desirable citizen should not be compelled to look else where for a permanent home.

Derry Family Hold Reunion

Quincy friends of the Derry's, who ormerly lived in this city, will be interested in the following report of the Derry family reunion published in the Sharon Advocate:

In accordance with their custom for many years, Captain Charles T. Derry, his children and grand-children, his brothers, their children and grand-children, and other connections of the Derry family, to the number of fifty, or more, held their Prince Wilhelm annual mid-summer reunion Aug. 22.

Perhaps the oldest person present was Mrs. Abbie Willett, the only sister of the Derry brothers. Mrs. Willett, who was formerly well known as a resident of this town, now resides in Attleboro. She is 83 years old, but like her brothers scarcely shows her age, either in action or appearance.

Since the last mid-summer renion, there has been one break in the circle of brothers, through the death of George Derry of Everett. Otherwise the family circle is unproken and if the apparent health and vigor of the older members of the family is any criterion, it will still remain unbroken when another year brings around the time for still another delightful affair, like that of Thursday.

Great Battleship Fleet Will Cover Nearly 14,000 Knots

of Coal After Starting With Full Floating Machine Shop Are Going

Washington, Aug. 27.-Acting Secretary Newberry has returned to Washington, bringing official word of the conclusions reached at the Oyster Bay conference last week relative to the projected cruise of the great battleship fleet from the eastern to the western coasts of the United States by way of the Straits of Magellan.

Necessarily, these conclusions were on broad lines and it was found expedient to leave to Admiral Evans and his staff the arrangement of the details of the itinerary of the voyage, and to the heads of the various naval bu reaus the preparations which will make it possible for the great fleet to leave the Atlantic coast in perfect condition for this voyage of 13,772 knots.

Everything will be in readiness for the fleet to sail on Dec. 1 and the date of departure will be between Dec. 1 and 15. All of the orders to the heads of bureaus are of a verbal character. As arranged the itinerary provides for 10 knots an hour, which is regarded as the most economic speed for the fleet. This will permit the colliers to accompany the fleet for part of the voyage on the Atlantic side. Starting with full bunkers of coal, the ships will require in addition 100,504 tons, not counting the coal that will be burned by the torpedo boats, which will be provided by erchants en route.

This great supply of coal must be provided by colliers. Four small colliers, the Hannibal, Marcellus, Sterling and Hanshan, carrying 2200 tons each. will accompany the fleet to Trinidad, and five larger colliers, the Ajax, Abarenda, Brutus, Caesar and Nero, carrying 4000 tons each, will go as far as Rio Janeiro. It will be necessary to char ter 12 additional colliers, and four of these will meet the fleet at Sandy Point, Magellan straits, four at Callao, Peru, and four at Magdalena bay. LOCKING RAIL JOINT.

Device For Connecting Rails Without Bolts or Fish Plates.

A recent invention provides a rail joint in which the meeting ends are firmly yet detachably connected without the use of fish plates and bolts or other form of fastening independent of the rails themselves. The method of accomplishing this novel result is clearly illustrated in the accompanying engraving.

Fig. 1 shows two meeting ends of a rail, while Fig. 2 is a section through the rails at the joint. It will be noticed that the base of the rail at the Ships Will Require Over 100,000 Tons right hand side is cut away, leaving an overhanging head. The head is formed with a projecting portion (A). Bunkers .- Two Supply Ships and Part of the web is retained to form vertical post (B). A slot is cut in the base of the rail. The left hand rail is formed to interlock with the right hand rail. The head is cut away, and a slot is formed therein to receive the projection (A). Part of the web is cut away to receive the post (B), while the post (D), left standing, fits into the recess formed behind the post (B). A lug or projection (E) fits into the slot in the base of the right hand rail. It will now be seen that if the right hand rail be raised and its projecting portion brought over the projecting base portion of the other rail and then lowered vertically the rails will be engaged or interlocked.

The tenons (A and E) will prevent lateral movement of the rails, while the posts or abutments (B and D) will prevent endwise movement of the rails. In use the weight applied by the wheels of a passing train will be imposed directly upon the overhanging portion of the right hand rail and thereby upon the underlying portions of the left hand rail. The inventor proposes to construct these joints by means of stamping dies. A patent on this novel rail joint has been granted to John C. Abbott of Carnegie, Pa.

Birthplace Of Two Burial Place Of Two

Old historic Quincy settled in 1625 has much of interest to visitors. When Braintree was incorporated in 1640, the territory now known as became an independent town, and in 1888 was incorporated as a city.

Quincy was named in honor of Col. John Quincy, descendant in the third generation from Edmund, 2d, who settled in Quincy, in 1634; grandfather of Abigail (Smith) Adams, the wife and mother of a President of the United States.

The city includes Wollaston, Atlantic, Quincy Point, South Quincy, West Quincy, Montclair, Norfolk Downs, Wollaston Park, Squantum, Houghs Neck, Adams Shore, Germantown and Quincy Neck, comprising in all over 16 square miles, of which 2,530 acres

High Tributes To Deceased At Funeral of Dr. Willard

The funeral of Dr. Horace Mann Willard principal of the Quincy Mansion school, was held Tuesday afternoon from the Quincy homestead and was very largely attended by many of those associated with him in years past in educational work, as well as many of his former pupils. The services were of a simple nature in accordance with his wish.

The remains were encased in steel grey covered casket and were surrounded with a wealth of beautiful flowers that almost hid the casket, all meekly testifying to his worth.

The services were conducted by Rev. Edmund D. Webber of the Wollaston Baptist, church, assisted by Rev. W. J. Heath of the Methodist church. Rev. Mr. Webber read the scriptures, which were followed by prayer by Rev. Mr. Heath.

Bishop William F. Mallalieu of Auburndale spoke eulogistically of Dr. Willard, saying that we all share a feeling of personal loss. His is a beautiful life closed after many weeks of illness. He has found a resting place in that better country. He now lives with the angels of God. He knew him for years and prized his friendship and esteemed, him for his fine character. He could trace his ancestry back for generations and there was no stain attached to any of them. He possessed many of the characteristics of the Puritans. He admired the Puritan trait in his departed friend that stood for righteousness without fear. His influence has been a power for good. He ruled by the precious rule of under his influence loved him, and had affection for him that was abiding. Let us think of him not simply as he was, but as at the gate of a harp in his hand bowing at the business.

Dr. Thomas Barbour of Wollaston said, let us think of this as a victory Not what we would desire, or for which skill was sought, but a supreme victory in which loss and sorrow are swallowed up in goodness. He felt anew the littleness of human life, so constantly is the work going on, taking from us those we love. One after another they are taken

He was a true gentleman, straight forward, genial with a gifted mind richly stored with personal refinement. A great lover of nature and a power to bring out nature. There was rich affection in him that extended to all with whom he came in contact. He gave to all a helpful in terest. He drew much from fellowship and gave much to fellowship He left his legacy to the world. Dr. Barbour then spoke of his worth as a teacher and his rare qualifications as such. He inspired those under his care. He believed if a man did his duty he shall live

The services closed with benediction by Rev. Mr. Webber. During the services a quartette composed of E. E. Bullock, Herbert Y. Follett, Mrs. Follett and Miss Gertrude Edmonds sang, "Jesus Lover of My Soul," "Rock of Ages," and "Still,

The burial will be at Grace church emetery Providence where the remains will be taken today.

Among those present were: Prof. Brack of Vassar, Prof Roux of New ark, N. J., Dr. Bagdon of Lasselle, Rev. Dr. Ashmore, Rev. Ellery C. Butler, Rev. Edward Anderson Rev. E. W. Hunt, Rev. A. E. Clattenberg, and Rev. H. G. Megathlin.

Organizing For Hospital Week

The work of Hospital Week this year will be in charge of a general committee consisting of D. L. F. Chase, Alexander Falconer and W. M. Vermilyea. This committee held a preliminary meeting Monday evening for the purpose of organizing and apportioning their work. The campaign is started thus early so as to give time for thorough canvassing and advertising in view of the present unusual needs and opportunities of the Hospital.

The year Mr. William B. Rice has added to his previous benefactions another noble gift of $17,500 for the erection of a new ward or pavilion, an addition to the facilities of the Hospital which will be most welcome. But the new ward with its additional patients calls imperatively for a Nurses' Home and an enlarged central heating plant, and it is these necessary accessories of Mr. Rice's gift for which the people of Quincy will soon be asked to pay. The Nurses' Home is expected to cost about $7,000 and the heating plant about $3,000.

Taking these figures in connection with the usual current expenses to be raised, and the cash on hand available for such uses, it appears that the coming subscription should be made to foot up about $7,500. From time to time further and more complete details of the work wil appear in these columns.

Soldier's Burial.

The funeral of Capt. Isaiah Rich was held Tuesday from his late residence at Germantown. The services were conducted by Rev. A. A. Ellsworth, and were of an impressive nature. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery. Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R., met the funeral procession at the entrance to the cemetery and escorted the body to three volleys fired.

Why People Trade Here!

Quality is one reason -and the chiefest of them all.

Price is another, next to quality-for Foy's prices are as low as the biggest of big city stores.

Variety, abundance of stock, convenience of store, promptness and courteousness of clerks, and the many little things that go to make up a perfect store service are reasons why people trade here.

Quality Coffee, at 30c., Ivory White Flour, at 85c. bag, and other like offerings attract new customers daily. Begin today and trade here.

Tributes From Prince Wilhelm

The Swedish Americans of Lynn were more fortunate than those of Quincy, for they went to Nahant on Tuesday, and although the reception was not intended to be public, the Prince so requested, and about 200 of his former countrymen shook hands with him and were greeted in Swedish. The reception by Gov. and Mrs. Guild was a brilliant society

The attention shown by Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston earlier in the day was also very pleasing to the Prince, and prompted the following

"Your city is magnificent. I had no idea that it was such a beautiful place. The state and city have shown us marked hospitality, which I highly appreciate. It is not at all mprobable that I may come to America again, though it is impossible for me to say now that I shall

Just before the New York train eft the South Station in the evening, on which was Prince Wilhelm of Sweden, bound for Providence, Representative Edward J. Sandberg of Quincy asked him to send a fina nessage to his own countrymen and the American people.

Prince Wilhelm readily assented to the request. Taking an old envelope and a lead pencil he wrote the followng in Swedish, which he asked Representative Sandberg to give the press. The translation is as follows

"For the reception I have received in Massachusetts I wish hereby through the press, to express my hearty thanks. I feel so much more thankful, as I understand it i through my beloved native land that I have received this hospitality. "I shall forward to the King and the Crown Prince the many evidences the grave where services were held and of loyalty bestowed upon me in every city I have visited.

"WILHELM." "Prince of Sweden."

As the train moved out of the tation Representative Sandberg umped off and called for cheers for and they were given vigorously by he thousands present.

Today the Prince is a guest of President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay.

Osborne Rogers and the ice man declare that it was a deer, but everytion was held Tuesday evening, body else believe that it was some Messrs. Bushnell, Hunting, Owens, ones calf, that strayed from its home Smith and Wadsworth were present, on Woodward avenue. It was last Saturday morning. The hour was cock street humming that touching refrain, "The lot of an ice man is not a happy one," when near the corner of Hancock and Greenleaf streets something passed before his vision and disappeared back of Mr. Rogers house. So fleet of foot was it that he said to himself that it must > be a deer. Forgetting to weigh his cake of ice he hastened to inform Mr. Rogers of what he had seen. Rogers and the ice man took a sneak to the back of the house to see if they could locate the fleet footed animal.

They thought that they saw him in Warren W. Adams hen yard, and believing that he could not escape, it looked as though it was all up with the deer. Creeping along as quietly as though shod with gum shoes, the pair came to the spot where the deer ought to have been, but he was not partment to date was reported as there and no trace of him could be

Tawney Says Money Enough Was Appropriated For Canal

STATEMENT OF GOETHALS

It Surprises Congressman, as Does a Reported Opinion by Attorney General--Canal Appropriation Is Within the Excepted Class

Washington, Aug. 28 .- In a letter to Acting Secretary of War Oliver, Reptresentative Tawney of Minnesota, chairman of the house committee on appropriations, resents what he regards as the imputation of Chairman Goethals of the isthmian canal commission and Attorney General Bonaparte, that congress had failed to appropriate sufficient money to carry on the work of digging the Panama canal to the full capacity of the force on the isthmus. Mr. Tawney says he was greatly surprised by the statement of Goethals that, in consequence of the appropria tions being inadequate to meet expenditures, it had become necessary to lay off thousands of men, and even more surprised at a reported opinion by the attorney general that, under an amendment to he argent deficiency appropriation act 18 months ago, the canal appropriation must be apportioned to certain periods, which apportionment "could not be waived or modified except upon the happening of some extraordinary emergency or unusual circumstance which could not be anticipated at the time of making such appor tionment." Tawney says:

The package, which was collected from a box in the northern section of the city, was received by Clerk Roberts, who says it was about four inches long by two inches wide and three-fourths of an inch thick. When Roberts brought his steel cancellation die down upon the stamp the package exploded and was torn to pieces. Roberts was unhurt. THE OCEAN CURRENTS.

Vagaries of the Streams That Begin and End In the Sea.

There are as many vagaries in the water as in the wind. Why, for instance, should three great ocean currents send their warm waters across the wide Pacific, Atlantic and across the Cape of Good Hope? Many theoties have been advanced to solve the problem of their origin, but all have proved fallacious.

Other and equally mysterious currents exist in well nigh all parts of the world. The tides are so erratic in different parts of the world that one hesitates to accept the theory that the moon controls them in all cases, says Wissen fur Alle. It is on record that mon Sense and Common Justice the sea has run for weeks out of the Java sea through the strait of Sunda and thence back again for a like period without any perceptible rise or fall during those times.

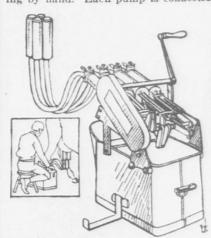

Then there is the equatorial current that flows into the Caribbean sea, the overflowing current to the eastward around Cape Horn, the cold stream flowing from the icy regions of the north past Newfoundland and Nova Scotia and along the American coast to Mediterranean sea, the swift current parently starts from nowhere and ends somewhere in the vicinity of the same place, and the current which, starting vention assembled, declares the fol- halfway up the China sea, runs from two to three knots an hour to the north and finally ends abruptly at the north end of Luzon.

Then we have those tidal vagaries known the world over as bores. Residents along the North sea are familiar with them and can see them run from side to side in a zigzag shape until they reach their limit, often tearing the ships from their anchorage. They originate nobody knows where or why The rush of waters in the bay of Fundy is nothing but a huge bore sweeping all before it up to the head of the bay until the western waters have risen to the height of fifty or sixty feet. Off Southampton, in England, there are the double tides, while at Singapore it has been observed for days at a time that there have been but one rise and fall in the twenty-four hours. The tides may be and very often appear as though they were "moonstruck," but they are certainly not controlled with hard and fast rules by that or any other body.

MACHINE THAT MILKS.

by a short rubber tube to a teat cup, of which there are four. The milk has only a short distance to travel and discharges directly into the pail to which the machine is fastened.

The operator sits on a stool and turns a crank at the rate of forty-five revolutions per minute. The suction of any one of the pumps can be increased or decreased by turning a thumbscrew which controls the air passage. As soon as one teat is milked the suction is cut off and the cup removed, while the other pumps continue working. Where several machines are used in one place power through flexible shafting (one-tenth horsepower to each machine) may be used. With power one operator can superintend several machines. The device has been patented in all coun-

The normal human body has in it the iron needed to make seven large nails, the fat for fourteen pounds of candles, the carbon of sixty-four gross of crayons and phosphorus enough for 820,000 matches. Out of it can be obtained besides twenty coffeespoonfuls of salt, fifty lumps of sugar and forty-two liters of water.

Navy Department to Move "Old Ironsides" From Boston

DCCUPIES VALUABLE SPACE

City May Undertake Care of the Ship, Raising Funds For the Purpose by Popular Subscription -- Navy Yaro Work Crowded Out

Washington, Aug. 28.-There is a strong probability that the famous old frigate Constitution will be brought from Boston to Annapolis or perhaps to Washington to remain permanently. With every disposition to avoid arousing the ire of the patriots of the Old Bay State and causing such a demonstration of feeling as followed the notable deliverance of Secretary Bonaparte in favor of taking the old ship out to sea and making a target of her, Acting Secretary Newberry has felt bound by the congested condition at the Boston navy yard, where the frigate lies, to call the attention of Governor Guild of Massachusetts to the necessity of moving ber from her present berth.

The Boston yard waterfront is too restricted for the proper accommodation of the commissioned ships of the navy in need of repairs, yet the Constitution occupied much of that valuable space. Newberry has pointed out that it would be possible to send more naval work to the Boston yard if the facilities were greater and such as would follow the removal of the Constitution. He has asked Guild whether the city authorities would be willing to undertake the care of the ship, raising the necessary funds perhaps by popular subscription, and mooring the vessel in the Back Bay, where she would be in sight of more people than at present.

The governor was not at the moment in a position to answer the question, and now Newberry is considering the advisability of settling the question for himself and bringing the ship either to Washington, where she would be placed permanently in the tidal basin, surrounded by the beautiful Potomac park and accessible to the many thousands of patriotic American citizens who daily make pilgrimages to the na- night of July 29, due to the negligent tion's capital, or to locate her in the roads at Annapolis, where she would be an inspiration to the young midshipmen and future naval heroes., Boston Loth to Part With Ship Boston, Aug. 28 .- As nearly as could be ascertained when the news came from Washington that the federal authorities were considering the removal of the frigate Constitution from Boston, the consensus of sentiment of patriotic societies and state and city officials was quite thoroughly against the proposed action. The suggestion that the vessel be moored in the Charles river basin, where it could be more generally seen and would relieve the congestion at the navy yard, was recelved favorably, and the proposed condition that funds be raised for this expense by popular subscription was also considered advisable. The famous frigate having been but recently put at a considerable expense into its original form, Boston has felt a

abor Federation President Gives Legislative Body His Theories Boston, Aug. 28.-President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor was before the legislative recess committee on labor at the state house addressing the members of the committee on the subject of the use of injurctions in labor disputes.

Mr. Gompers gave as his conception of a proper use of the injunction first, that it should be used to protect property rights only; second, that he who seeks its aid should come into court with clean hands; third, that it should not be used where there was any other remedy; fourth, that it should not be used to curtail personal rights, and fifth, that it should not be used as a means to set aside a trial by jury.

"The whole world," he continued, "is in a state of unrest. It shows itself in America in the constant attempts to improve the condition of the masses. We do not need a revolution here, but we can gain what we desire by improv ing our own minds and impressing upon the people the justice of our cause."

Mr. Gompers referred to the injune tion against himself: "It was a great surprise to me, but I never welcomed anything more gladly. I take second place for no man in my regard for the institutions of my country, and I revere her courts, but I shall stand up for the rights given me under the constitution.

Editor Stricken Suddenly

Worcester, Mass., Aug. 28.—Eugene Moriarity, editor and publisher of the Worcester Post, and one of the leading Democrats in western Massachusetts, died from heart failure while swimming in Lake Quinsigamond late yesterday. Mr. Moriarity, being an expert swimmer, had swum out to the middle of the lake twice. He started out again and when about 25 feet from the shore he turned over on his back and floated around. His friends, thinking he was simply enjoying the water, paid no attention to him until after he had been gone for about 20 minutes. Wiliam Maguire leaped into the water and with E. K. Kittredge brought Moriarity ashore. There were no signs of life about Moriarity.

The pail was presented to the secretary, who received it with rare good humor and ate with evident relish the splendid luncheon it contained.

Claims Came In a Rush

Washington, Aug. 28.-More than 100 complaints were filed with the interstate commerce commission yesterday, each asking for reparation from various railroads on account of the yellow pindecision of the supreme court of the United States. Under the law, it is nec essary that the claims shall be filed within a year of the time the rate law became effective. The year, it is gener ally held, will expire today. This accounts for the rush to secure the filing of the claims.

Alleged Receiver of Stolen Money New York, Aug. 28.—An entire day was consumed in Judge Whitman's court in securing a jury to try Laura M. Carter, who is charged with receiving stolen money. Mrs. Carter is accused of having received a substantial part of the $96,000 which Chester B. Runyan took from the Windsor Trust company, of which he was teller. Runyan was betrayed to the police by

The Sunken City.

[Original.] Was it a dream? I don't know. don't believe one can dream of incidents of which he has never heard. Was it a vision? I don't know that either. It occurred exactly 400 years after Columbus discovered the islands where I was at the time and where I saw such strange sights. It was 200 years exactly since those sights had been a real occurrence.

On the 6th of June, 1892, I sailed into Port Royal, Jamaica. There was a stiff breeze blowing and a troubled sea "You should come in here on a calm day," said the captain, beside whom I was standing. "Why?" I asked. But before he could reply some duty claimed his attention, and the question was not answered. We were to remain at Port Royal two days, and I went ashore to take up my abode at a wretched little inn of this most wretched hamlet. Afterward I learned that it had once been the finest town in the West Indies and the richest spot in the world. I supped and went to bed.

How long I slept I don't know, but I was awakened by a trembling of my bed, and it was day-midday, it seemed. A strange man stood beside my bed. I have never seen anything more villainous than his face. His dress I had seen only in old prints-the dress of a buc caneer.

"Come, mate," he said, "I'll show you the town. You've arrived just in time Git into your togs."

With his devilish eye he cast a spell over me. I dared not disobey. Putting on my clothes, I followed him down 3 and out into the street, where every-Batteries-Greenwell and Duggan; thing was swaying. The place seemed changed. It was no longer a little town, but a city. The streets were 1 far narrower than when I had passed houses looked old fashioned, but there were many of them. Within the lim its was a church with a goodly spire But what surprised me most was that the place now stood on a tongue of

He led the way toward a fort stand-Through a besotted look on the faces of the men their pallor appeared more ghastly. The women looked abandoned. The children only appeared innocent. They were hurrying somewhere or standing paralyzed or on their knees praying. Then I felt the earth heave under me like a wave of the sea; a fissure opened before me many people went down, and it closed over them. I uttered an exclamation of horror "That's nothing to what you'll see, said my man. "You've heard of Sodom, haven't you? Well, this is Sodom, the wickedest place on the earth. It's going to be wiped out. Come."

And there, while standing on the ramparts of the fort, I saw the tongue of land on which the city stood slide forward into the sea. Can I ever for- hour until and including 10.59 P. On every side except that on which I stood a great rolling horseshoe wave closed in and took the city under its embrace. This was the last scene in my strange vision. The next thing I knew I was lying in bed, and the captain of the ship stood over me.

"Get up," he said. "We sail in an hour.' "Have you shortened the time of your stay?" I asked absently, still seeing in my mind's eye that terrible wave. "No. Two days have passed. We aged 8 and 10 years, respectively, were tried to wake you yesterday, but it was drowned while swimming at Green no use. An effective submarine be fireworks and music, Sunday a sail on Lake Winnepesaukee, and on four of them in a harbor would cause Monday athletic sports.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Beckford of 300 Washington street passed away on Tuesday aged 90 years. For one of her years she was a remarkably smart lady. Since 1875 she has been a member of Bethany Congregational church and one of the most regular in attendance. She formerly lived at Durham, N. H., but for several years at Quincy. has made her home with her son, Edwin S. Beckford, the electrician.

Pipe Arrives For Connection With the City Sewer System

Fifteen men have just been added to the force of Foreman Lally of the painting department.

The interest in association foot ball is unabated, and among the Fore River team then, are some of the best players in this country, where this particular game is not played very

The work of putting the new propellers on the steamship Creole has been finished and the coffer dam will probably be taken off today.

As there is only one ship to be built at the Mare Island Navy yard the shipyard employes in the east are not rushing west in large numbers in response to the offer of work at that yard. In addition to the increased cost of living on the Pacific coast, and the expense of transportation, the likelihood of only temporary employment causes men with pernament places in eastern shipyard to hold on to them and not take any chances of being left out of work on the other side of the continent.

The pipe for the sewer connections at the shipyard has arrived from Ohio, and work will be commenced in a few days laying.

The Daily Ledger will be glad to receive items of news of interest to the employes of the Fore River Shipbuilding Company for publication in this column. The men in the yard are invited to leave items in the boxes which will soon be put up in different parts of the yard., but the name of the writer should always furnish cash bail for the $1,000 larceny accompany the items as a guarantee of good faith.

An interesting letter from a correspondent signing himself "Submatoday. The letter is interesting to Fore River men as the submarines were built at the yard. The letter is as follows:

After reading your Washington dispatch this morning telling of the nighly successful manner in which the submarines Octopus, Cuttlefish, Tarantula and Viper had stood the very severe tests imposed upon them by the board of United States navy officers, it occurred to me that Monday, Sept. 9, at 9 A. M. The you might be interested in an expression of opinion from a very high British source as to the great value of these little, but very effective, craft in harbor defence.

About a month ago Lord Brassey, in a debate in the House of Lords, called attention to the desire of Australia for a separate fleet to protect that colony in case of war, and suggested that the government might well hand over to Australia a few of the older cruisers as a loan or a gift, as these vessels were replaced by new ones in the British navy.

In answer to this, Lord Tweed mouth made this very noteworthy statement that, pending the establishment of something in the nature of an Australian fleet, the harbors of marine vessels. The London Times reported Lord Tweedmouth as say-

"They (the admiralty) pointed out that they thought, to start with, the best defence they could have was to establish a flotilla of destroyers and submarines. That would form a very substantial defence against any casual raid, and in the event of a war a flotilla of well-manned destroyers and submarines would be of the greatest possible assistance to a British fleet which had to operate in those waters.'

This shows the British view of the value of submarines for harbor defence. A battleship costs $7,000,000 or $8,000,000, and is needed elsewhere than in harbor defence in vessel costs $250,000, and three or the most powerfulu fleet to hesitate before attempting to force an entrance, or even to approach near enough for these little craft to at-

Harry Stone Again Arrested

Harry Stone, one of the alleged pickpockets arrested in City Square hended again in Boston on Tuesday tion. night through the instrumentality of Inspector McKay.

When Stone was arranged in cour Monday morning he was recognized by Mr. Gray of Malden as the man who stole his $1000 diamond pin a few days before while on an electric car at Nahant. Stone made tracks as soon as he was released on bail and before he could be again arrested. Since then Inspector McKay has been on the lookout for him. It was believed that he would be found in Boston among the crowds attracted by the Swedish Prince.

Tuesday night Inspector McKay spotted Stone in a crowd and prompty took him in charge, and turned him over to Boston officers. Many believed that neither of the two men would show up in court on Saturday, but Stone's arrest ensures his presence.

Young Men's Christian Association OF QUINCY, MASS.

(Legal Title - Incorporated 1892.)

The Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an Endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class or classes, the Boys Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor. The Treasurer, William F. Cummings, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, Ernest G. Gay, will be happy to answer inquiries.

OUR HOSPITAL

Probability That New Congress Will Order More Battleships

There is more new work ahead for the shipyards. While the Naval committee of Congress was in New York this week. Representative Foss of Illinois, chairman of the comnittee, made the announcement that the committeee would probably ask for four more battleships at the next session of congress. He said: "It is probable that the committee will ask for four battleships, to be of more least two great ships will be built." Weymouth fair.

FORE RIVER NOTES. The coffer dam was removed from the stern of the steamship Creole on are taken out of the dam it will be taken back to its moorings. The work of detaching the dam was done on the afternoon tide in about an hour and a half. The new propellers some work on the machinery remain to be finished, after which the ship propellers a test.

The retirement of Rear Admiral Davis, U. S. N., which is reported today from Washington, he having fact that there are two men now at Fore River who served under him and will be open Wednesday from during the Spanish war. Lieut Com- 12 M. to 6 P. M. and Thursday from mander Roger Welles was executive officer in one of the vessels in Ad-

Dixie, which vessel Admiral Davis then commanded. The work on the tug boat Robert

S. Bradley is being pushed along, with great rapidity, and she will be taken off the marine railway this The bridge and deck house of the shape. The life-boats and davits for ame are now in place, and the big entilators are being put in. This notice was sent out today by Manager H. G. Smith: The works will be closed on Monday, September

2d, Labor Day. Only such repair work as is necessary will go on. Work will be resumed as usual on Tuesday morning, September 3. Mr. S. F. Patrick, a popular clerk

n the T department has resigned to ake employment elsewhere. Storekeeper Readman is loking for a man o fill this vacancy.

The Daily Ledger will be glad to eceive items of news of interest to the employes of the Fore River Shipouilding Company for publication in this column. The men in the yard are invited to leave items in the boxes which will soon be put up in different parts of the yard., but the name of the writer should always accompany the items as a guarantee of good faith.

OUR SOCCER TEAM.

It is the aim of the shipbuilders o excel in sports as well as battleships, and the Herald comments on ur soccer team as follows:

The managers of the Fore River Association football team, desiring a arger field for their team during the coming season, have been admitted to membership in the New England league. For years past the wearers of the "F. R." have been the champions of the "soccer" world in this part of the country, and they successfully retained the title of the Merrimac Valley league for three years, and also won the Massachusetts Football Association's cham pionship.

The New England league will make an additional demand upon the strength of the team, and the managers have started the task of strengthening their already fine combination. Negotiations are now on with several of the local stars outside the team, and Manager Fraser says that already some good men have been secured. The management was on the lookout for a man to displace Lewis, the outside left, who will be tried in the trio in the halfback division. Fleming, late of the Bostonians, is the choice of the managers for this important wing position, and if he displays the excellence while wearing his new colors that he did in his old his perranks of the local champions, while the McGregors are likely to have a hard task on their hands to keep their star player, Billy Russell, from joining the Fore River team. The a vagrant at the Revere beach reser management is also making alterations at the grounds of the club, in at the present time Stone has $2,100 order to handle bigger crowds. The on deposit in the three places fo pitch is to be renovated, and all bail. staked off to keep the spectators from the touch lines, and before the season is far advanced the managers

Arrangements are now being made for a game between the Fore Rivers than 20,000 tons and 25,000 tons if and the Pan-Americans, one of the practicable. Of course what the finest aggregations playing the "dribemper of the 400 members is, is bling" code in New England, the yet conjecture, but we feel that at game to be a feature of the coming

Dahlia Show.

Two exhibitions are scheduled by Wednesday, and after the weights the Massachusetts Horticultural Society for the first week in September The first is the dahlia show which will be held at Horticultural hall, Wednesday and Thursday, September 4 and 5. From the widespread inter of the Creole being now attached est in this popular flower it is safe to say that this exhibition will sur pass anything ever seen before in will go out to sea to give the new this country as entries have been made by the principal commercial and amateur dahlia growers of New England. In addition to dahlia there will be also fine displays of reached the age limit, recalls the seasonable flowers, fruits, and vegetables. This exhibition is free to all

Alleged Pickpocket Again at Large

Harry Stone, the alleged pickday night by Inspector McKay, for Mr. Gray on a trolley car at Nahant, years. was arraigned in the Nahant court! on Wednesday for robbery, and was Horn the Lynnite and Twoey of held in $1,000 for his appearance the J. & P. Coats aggregation of next Friday. As in the Quincy case Mayors Hodges and Adams. While He began with the declaration that Pawtucket will be found in the a cash deposit was made and he is again at large.

In addition to the cases against Stone in Quincy and Nahant, he is also out under $500 bonds for being vation. It is therefore apparent that

Chief Burrell, who has been look ing the man up, has learned tha Stone has done time at Cleveland hope to enclose the grounds, thus Ohio, where he was sentenced for giving the team permanent head- five years under the name of Harry Lincoln, and that he also served previous term.

Chief Burrell says that the gold watch taken from Stone when he was arrested in Quincy was stolen in New York, but that it is probably impos sible to find the owner at the present

Wednesday Chief Burrell received a dispatch from Newport, Vt., saying that a man had been arrested at the state fair who was thought to be the third man in the Quincy case, and who escaped by running down Coddington street.

Considering the great hue and cry that was made by passengers on the electric car when the men were ar ested, and the great odds that were against him, great credit is due to Officer Larkin for bagging the two men. It might be also said that he bagged the three men, and if help had been near the third man would have been held.

Credit is also due to Inspector Mc Kay who apprehended Stone in Boston on Tuesday night and turned him over to the Boston officers for the Nahant police.

Visit from A Nonagenarian

Mrs. Nancy T. Gove of Cambridge port has just returned home from a ong visit with her daughter, Mrs. Alfred A. Bradshaw of Billings street. Mrs. Gove attained her nine tieth birthday on the 22d of April ast at which time a notable observance and celebration was had at the home of her grand-daughter, Mrs. H. P. Leighton of Cambridgeport. The 'grand old lady," as the Cambridge Chronicle makes mention of her, is one of those sterling types, having been born at Nelson, N. H. She is one of seven children, of whom she is the sole survivor. An original member of the Stearns Chapel Congregational church, and later the Pilgrim church. She is in fair health, mentally alert, with little indication in her cheery way of adanced age.

GOOD AFTERNOON.

The Gloucester Times makes timely editorial comment on the peril of homelessness when it says: A good boy is the natural product of a good home, and all the efforts of philanthropy to make boys better are consciously imperfect substitutes for the gradual influence of a healthyminded home. The great and overshadowing peril of a boy's life is not, as many suppose, his bad companions or his bad books, or his bad habits, it is the evil of homelessness.

We do not mean merely as home lessness having no bed or room which can be called one's own; but that homelessness which may exist even in luxurious houses-the isolation of the boy's soul, the lack of anyone to listen to him, the loss of roots to hold him to his place and make him grow. This is what drives the boy into the arms of evil and make the streets his home.

It is the modern story of the may whose house was "empty," there entered seven devils to keep him company. If there is one thing that a boy cannot bear, it is himself. He is by nature a gregarious animal and if the group which nature gives him is denied, then he gives himself to any group that may solicit him. A boy like all things else in nature abhors a vacuum, and if his home is a vacuum of lovelessness and home lessness, then he abhors the home.

Parents should do everything within their power to make their homes attractive and happy for their children. They should have liberty to invite their companions to their home and in a reasonable manner spend the hours in wholesome amusements. great centre of attraction and the boys and girls will delight to be there, but if you put up the bars and are afraid of a little hilarity and deny the sons and daughters of the household an opportunity for home enjoyments, they will go elswhere perhaps to their sorrow.

Milkman Probably the Victim of a Young Degenerate

SHOT DOWN IN HIS CART

Crime Evidently Carefully Planned by One Who Expected to Get Large Amount of Money--Horse Was Sent Home With Dead Man's Body

Springfield, Mass., Aug. 29.-Deliberate, cold-blooded murder, for the purpose of getting only a small sum of money, committed by a boy, still in his teens, with a petty 22-calibre revolver, is the story of the killing of Milkman Hugh J. Kane of Ludlow yesterday noon. The identity of the boy is still unknown, but the police have an excellent description of him, and even have one suspect in mind already, and, led by State Detective McKay of Holyoke, the police of Holyoke, Springfield, Chicopee and Ludlow are all working vigorously.

The circumstances of the murder are so extraordinary that it seems almost sure it must have been committed by a young fellow who was a degenerate. When Kane was returning to his Ludlow farm from Holyoke with his day's collections from the milk route, amounting at most to not more than $40, the young fellow evidently obtained the privilege of riding with him, and when Kane was off his guard shot the milkman, searched his pockets for money settled the dying man down in the cart, jumped out and closed the doors and then sent the horse along home. The young murderer was seen imma diately afterwards running towards Fairview, but the crime was not discovered until the horse pulled the wagon into the Kane farmyard, half an hour later. Before 3 o'clock Kane had died without regaining conscious-known the greatest excitement prevailed among the citizens for miles around, and talk of lynching was heard in many quarters in case the highway man and murderer was captured.

The robbery was evidently carefully planned. Kane had just finished a collecting tour among his customers in Holyoke and was on his way home when he was murdered. The highway man evidently supposed that Kane would have a considerable sum of money in his pockets.

Kane was unmarried, 32 years of age and highly respected both in Holyoke and Ludlow.

Something About Brownsville Matter Little Known Outside of Offic al tion. Circles--Prediction of Puncture of Secretary's Presidential Boom

Boston, Aug. 29.—Secretary Taft's in the middle west, if the views are correct of Andrew B. Humphrey, national of the United States, which is about to begin a fight against Taft. The league has several thousand members and there are organizations affiliated its building on Merrymount road. with it which have a membership numbering into the hundreds of thousands. The league's headquarters is in New York city and Humphrey is here on his way back to headquarters from Ohio and Kentucky, where he went to study ganization to begin active work in through Maine, fighting Taft, whom the league opposes for president or any other office.

Taft for the presidency or any other office, not because he is not an able man, but because he is more the tool of Roosevelt than the master of Taft. reception committee for the fourth He has much ability, but is a 'spineless statesman, if I may be permitted to Silver lake, Plympton on Labor day. ise that expression

"When Taft examined the so-called evidence in the Brownsville affair, about the middle of November, he was satisfied on his own account that there was not sufficient evidence to warrant the suspension of the soldiers of the Twenty-fifth and he held up the order discharging them. This is a matter of record in the war department in Wash-

"A few days after this, and without any additional evidence or anything but an apparent 'calling down' by the president or Secretary Loeb, who was p running the White House while the president was in Panama, Taft realled his own order and allowed the order of dismissal to go through and ake effect. If Taft had stood up for what he felt was right and done what must clearly have seen was his duty ne country would have known he was great lawyer and that he wore no nan's collar

"I believe Taft knows there was not sufficient evidence to convict those negro soldiers and that he so advised the president, and that it was as the result of this advice that Attorney Gener Purdy was sent to Texas to make out a case against them.

"I am more or less familiar with the 4000 or more pages of testimony taken by the senate military committee and the Penrose court martial proceedings, and I have yet to find an attorney of standing who has justified the act of the president and Taft. I believe the president realizes he has made the most serious mistake of his life in his treatment of the negro soldiers, and while he is a big, brainy, and brave man in many respects, he lacks the moral courage to right this wrong, because the record is made and he cannot justify himself in history.

"I have just returned from a trip through the west, particularly including Kentucky and Ohio, and I am satisfied that the process of eliminating Senator Foraker is a larger job for the administration than digging the Panama canal. Runyan Tells of Thefts From the Windsor Trust Company

Stole Nearly $15,000 in a Month and state department. Lost It -- Then Packed $100,000 In Suit Case and Fled at Suggestion of Woman Who Betrayed Him

yan, the former paying teller who stole nearly $100,000 in cash from the terday told the story of his downfall In the court of general sessions, at the trial of Laura A. Carter, charged with receiving several thousand dollars of the money she knew to be stolen. The stolen money, with the exception of about $25,000 which has never been found, has been restored to the com-

Runyan testified that last May he took $100 from the bank to speculate in stocks. He lost. Between that time and the June day when he packed near ly $100,000 in a suitcase and fled, he stole between $14,000 and $15.000.

Runyan told of meeting Mrs. Carter one evening on Columbus avenue. They went to a restaurant and later to her home. He told her that one of his friends had embezzled several thou sand dollars and wanted someone to keep him in hiding until the trouble blew over. The friend would be willing to pay $5000, he told her. She replied that it would be unnecessary for him to look further—that she would do it.

Two or three days later Runyan told Mrs. Carter that he was the man and she immediately began arranging a re treat for him in Harlem. "You're in bad luck," Runyan declared she said to him. "Why don't you take some more and have enough for yourself." A little later he filled the suitcase from the bank vaults and started for the apart ment which Mrs. Carter had rented in Harlem. Mrs. Carter met him at the door and her first words to him were "Have you got the money?" He replied that he had. They spent some time drinking and discussing the pos sibility of his being followed.

The next morning they emptied the suitcase and counted the bank notes There was $79,500. He gave her $5000 and she went out and deposited it in a safety deposit vault. Runyan said Mrs. Carter asked him for money constantly and that on several occasions he gave her sums amounting to several hundred dollars.

Runyan said Mrs. Carter continued to ask for money and finally said: "I'm not being half paid for the risk I am taking for you. I must have $10,000 or there will be something doing."

"I gave her the $10,000," said Run-Runyan stated that after he gave talions of troops. The Observations In the Daily Walk

The Republican City Committee will meet Saturday evening.

It is expected that Mayor Thompson will be home this week.

Mr. Crane, manager of the local telephone exchange, bas returned from his annual vacation trip.

Raymond Mason of Brookline is spending the week with Harold Mac-Grath of Billings road. Miss Elsie Greenough of Sherburne is the guest of Mrs. Kemper of Hamilton street. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rogers of Charles H. Hill of Newbury avenue and Fred C. Brooks of Appleton street are off on a week's cruise with a party of gentlemen and ladies from South Boston.

The yacht club houses on Quincy's shore are delightful places at the full of the tide, to observe from the headland and island scenery beautifully in the perspective.

The funeral of August Olson, who was drowned off Houghs Neck on Sunday, was held Wednesday afternoon from the Swedish Lutheran church and was largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. S. N. Elvin, and the burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Those seeking desirable homes in the Fore River district would do well to consult the advertisement of Herman F. McIntire, which appears elsewhere in today's Daily Ledger. He advertises some particularly good bargains in houses, and on such easy terms that it will not be burdensome to the purchasers. By buying a FINE JOB PRINTING house on his plan you save your rent

Accident to A Stevedore

A stevedore at work unloading ties from the schooner Mary Curtis at Quincy Point had his left leg broken this morning, by a pile of the ties falling upon him. A carriage was called and the man was taken to his home on Broadway, Chelsea. He did not even stop to have the bone set. His name could not be learned.

Blacksmith Vs Millionaire

blacksmith vs. a millionaire for alderman of Boston, the contest of Daniel J. Donnelly vs. J. Montgomery Grapite Street, Near Post Office, Sears is of local interest because Mr. Donnelly spends his summers at Montclair in this city. Mr. Sears is a graduate of Harvard, 29 years of age, and a lawyer. His father when living was the largest owner of real estate in Boston. He is a member of several clubs in Boston, New York and elsewhere, and is unmarried.

The Boston Advertiser says: Blacksmith Donnelly, candidate for alderman from the ward 7-11 district declares that a ward 11 emissary has tried to induce him to withdraw from the race for the democratic aldermanic nomination in favor of his rival, Millionaire Sears.

"What was the inducement-was any money offered?"

"He didn't get so far as that," returned Donnelly. "I didn't give him no encouragement. He said that 93 Sears wants to go to congress and that this place would give him a stepping-stone. I told him I hadn't no objections to Sears' going to congress if he wanted to, but I thought it was about time, ward 7 had a chance instead of ward 11 hogging it all the time.'

Millionaire Sears, at Newport, playing tennis, has nothing to say, at present, about Boston politics.

Donnelly the blacksmith is a good example of what the biographers phrase a "self-made man." I found him sitting on the runaway which formerly led to a stable, in his establishment on Way street smoking a cigar, and giving direction to one of his four or five workmen for he himself rarely dons an apron now.

Just above him on the runway roosted his eldest scion, Harold, aged 11, just up from Squantum, where the family, which also includes Dan Jr., aged six, and the mother and paternal grandmother, have been spending the summer. In the winter they dwell on Curve street.

Resting easily against the whitewashed wall of the basement where is located the shop were several admiring ward 7 politicians.

Fifteen years ago D. J. Donnelly, she'd have to make that go till I got started in business. I'd fitted up a shop on Dorchester avenue, near where the South station is now, by working nights.

"'Twas Warren, the coal man that gave me my first steady work, and then I got Batchelder and Ward and A special meeting of the City Council so I got a start, and it wasn't many bought it for $300.

Lincoln and Stanton. There was a marked contrast be veen Lincoln's manner which w ways pleasant and even genial, and that of Stanton. The latter's stern spectacled visage commanded instant respect and in many cases inspired fear. In receiving visitors, and they were legion, Stanton seldom or never sat down, but stood before a high desk as the crowd passed before him and one by one presented their requests or complaints, which were rapidly dis posed of. Why Not Quincy Granite For $100,000 Peace Monument

the peace ideal by the erection of Peace, is being cordially canvassed

by the delegates to the conference. The design for the monumen hows a group of three figures of heroic size, not less than 25 feet high expressing the idea of peace intervening among the warring elements of the world.

The cost would be about $100,000, and it is suggested that this sum could readily be obtained by international contributions.

Newsy Budget From Shipyard

It was a "stern dock" and not a 'coffer dam" that was used in the work of putting the new propellers in the steamship "Creole."

Among the visitors to the yard on Thursday were W. A. Fairbain, of of Marine contruction for the Southern Pacific Company's Atlantic steamship lines, Mr. Winthrop L. Marvin of Boston and Capt. Had-

George Wright, assistant to Chief l'imekeeper Hart is on his vacation Machinists are being added to the force at the rate of about 15 each day, and there is still a demand for many more of them. The tugboat "Robert S. Bradley" was taken off the marine railway Thursday and she will be delivered back to her owners in a few days with all repairs completed. Aug. 29' was the fourth anniversary of the launching of the six masted steel schooner William L. Douglas at the Fore river.

Horn, a strong association football player, late of the Lynn and Pawtucket teams, and Twohey, another good man, are expected to join the Fore River association football team The Fore River team will play an exhibition game with some strong team at the Weymouth fair. The right name of the game of football as played by this team is "association football," not "soccer" nor "soaker" nor "English" as it is often erroneously called.

The Daily Ledger will be glad to receive items of news of interest to the employes of the Fore River Shipbuilding Company for publication in this column. The men in the yard are invited to leave items in the boxes which will soon be put up in different parts of the yard., but the name of the writer should always accompany the items as a guarantee of good faith.

Rather Expensive Vegetables

Early Thursday morning Officer Malone ran across two young fellow in the Ward Four playground, having in their possession a large basket of potatoes and green corn for which they could not readily account.

He recognized the men as William Martell and Joseph H. Sheppard of Hall place. When the officer at tempted to place them under arrest they ran, leaving their vegetables behind them. Later, Thursday, Officer Malone learned that the vegetables had been stolen from the Robertson farm on Adams street.

A warrant was sworn out agains the two men and they were arraigned in court. They pleaded guilty to the hips for war or costly memorials complaint, and the court imposed a fine of $15 each.

GOOD AFTERNOON.

Every unprejudiced observer of the present administration must regard with admiration the marked change in administrative methods which President Roosevelt has introduced. The President is a firm believer in the advantages to be derived from personal observation and contact with the people. He has therefore urged the members of his cabinet whenever possible to leave their desks and go themselves to the scenes of their respective operations in order that they might acquire a more practical knowledge of the affairs with which they are called upon to deal than is possible where all information is gained from intremediaries. It is in accordance with this policy that the Secretary of the Interior has just completed an extensive trip which has taken him into practically every western state Secretary Garfield has visited the forest reserves, the land offices, the irrigation projects and has come into the closest contact with the people who will be most affected by his administrative acts, and it is certain that the information which he has thus acquired will be more accurate and trustworthy than that which ordinarily reaches cabinet officers through members of Congress, whose police on suspicion of knowing some views are more than often biassed by political consideration and expediency. Gifford Pinchot, Chief Forester, who has been often charged with Springfield. He denies all knowledge being a theorist, has also, upon the President's suggestion, spent his summer in the national forest country. Judge Ballinger, Commissioner of the General Land Office, has visited most of the local land offices.

TRAMP THEORY IS ADVANCED

Autopsy Discloses Fact That Bullet Which Killed Milkman Was of Large Calibre--Person Seen In Cart With Him Perhaps a Friend

Springfield, Mass., Aug. 30.—In spite of the activity of the police of this city and the county officers, the mystery of the murder of Hugh Kane, the Ludlow milkman, whose body with a bullet P. M. wound in the head was found lying in 30 his milkcart in his own dooryard, remains unsolved. No arrests have been made, and although several persons have been very closely questioned as possible suspects no direct clue to the identity of the murderer has been dis-

> The autopsy showed that the bullet which killed Kane was of 38 calibre and might have come from a revolver such as is commonly used by tramp burglars. This tended to upset the theory previously held by the police that the crime was probably committed by a youthful degenerate armed with a small calibre weapon, and it is now thought quite possible that the milkman was killed for his money by a profes sional tramp. Efforts were made to trace the fugitive to Holyoke or Chicopee, in the be lief that he would attempt to get to one of those places by trolley, but these efforts were fruitless and search in those directions was abandoned. The police renewed their inquirles at houses along the road traversed by the milk man's team, going over the same ground that was covered in the investi gation Wednesday, but without, it is said, bringing out any new clue.

A theory advanced by some of the officers is that the man who was seen riding in the doorway of the milkcart was an acquaintance of Kane's who was simply given a lift along the road and left the team before the crime was committed, knowing nothing about it until he heard of the finding of the body. According to this theory, the man is supposed to be afraid to reveal his identity to the police on account of the sus picion that might attach to him.

Boy Arrested on Suspicion

Albany, Aug. 30 .- David Dee, aged 16. who claims his home is in Worces ter. Mass., was arrested by the Albany thing of the murder of Hugh I. Kane, who was shot to death and robbed at Ludlow, Mass. Dee is being held pending the arrival of an officer from of the crime.

Taft Talks to Denver People Denver, Aug. 30 .- The most import ant event of a busy day in Denver for Secretary of War Taft was a speech which he delivered from the steps of the state capitol. His address in the main was a repetition of his Columbus speech. He said that the difference between Bryan and Roosevelt was that Roosevelt had faith in the people and faith that good men can be secured to enforce the laws, whereas Bryan does not trust the courts and offers the in-Itiative and referendum as a cure-all.

Indelicacy Shocked King

Marienbad, Aug. 30 .- King Edward entered a cafe chantant last night and after listening to one or two items on the program he walked out as a protest against the scandalous nature of the performance. He was followed by the members of his suite and all the Americans and Englishmen present. "This is horrible; appalling," said the king, and the accuracy of his description of the performance is admitted.

Protection For Casablanca

Paris, Aug. 30.-It is declared that, in view of the fact that Casablanca is the only port open to shipping during the season of heavy storms, which is now approaching, a scheme has been drawn up by which 3000 French troops are to be maintained at Casablanca and 1000 more distributed between Mazagan, Safi, Rabat and Mogador. At the same time the warships will continue to patrol the coast.

Bank to Have New Home

New York, Aug. 30 .- As the site for an imposing home structure, the Second National bank yesterday paid $1,100,-000 for the old Goodridge mansion and plot at Fifth avenue and Twentyeighth street. The Second National must give up its present quarters in the Fifth Avenue hotel, as that landmark is to be replaced with a great mercantile structure.

Guillotine For Child Murderer

Paris, Aug. 30 .- The high court yesterday denied the appeal made by Soloillant, who was condemned to death in this city for the atrocious murder of a little child. There is a strong sentiment for the restoration of the guilotine in the case of Soloillant on account of the atrocity of his crime.

Aeronaut Survives an Awful Plunge at a County Fair

Barnstable, Mass., Aug. 30.-Nearly 5000 people at the county fair here saw Professor Maloney, a balloonist, drop 2000 feet to earth, strike on the top of a cedar fence post and escape with his

Maloney made his ascent late yesterday afternoon and as the visitors at the fair grounds gazed heavenward they saw that his attempts to cut his parachute were fruitless. A sharp day afternoon and as the visitors at parachute were fruitless. A sharp easterly wind had twirled the rope, which connects with the knife, amongst the mass of cords higher up and out of reach of the balloonist.

For fully two miles Maloney floated along. The hot air was rapidly leaking from the big bag above him and he prepared for the long drop. Maloney and the balloon came earthward rapidly. He struck on the top of a big cedar post, used by farmers to mark off their fields, in a half standing position. His back was terribly torn and his left arm was badly injured.

A long line of automobiles rushed to the spot where Maloney had fallen. He was picked up in a semi-conscious condition and was hurrled to a hotel in Barnstable Center, two miles distant Physicians who attended him stated that as far as they have been able to learn he is not internally injured. His escape is regarded as miraculous.

Took Life In Sensational Manner Melrose, Mass., Aug. 30.-Samuel F. Nute, a patient recently released from an insane asylum on probation, took his life at his home here. Following signs of violence two police officers were called upon to investigate the trouble. They found Nute locked in his bedroom and when they demanded admittance they were answered by 11 re volver shots, the bullets penetrating the door. Smoke was later seen to be issuing from Nute's room and a fire alarm was turned in. The firemen forced an entrance to the room and found Nute's bed and a bundle of papers on fire and Nute lying dead in the closet, having inflicted two terrible bullet wounds upon himself. Nute was 26 years old and unmarried. He lived with his Three Deaths Due to Falls Boston, Aug. 30 .- Three deaths due to falls were reported at police head quarters last night. Cornelius J. Con nolly, 45 years old, fell from a wagon the wheels of which passed over his head and body. He died on the way to a hospital.

H., Aug. 30.—Thirteen cottages, three barns and a number of smaller buildings at the Hedding camp grounds were burned late yesterday afternoon, and five other cottages were badly damaged. The blaze was placed under control only after aid had been summoned from neighboring towns. A large number of trees which formed the beautiful camp ground grove were burned and many others were cut down to stop the progress of the flames The total loss is estimated at $15,000.

Balloons Sailed Over Fifty Miles North Adams, Mass., Aug. 30 .- After traveling more than 50 miles, measuring in a straight line, the two Stevens balloons which ascended here yesterday afternoon came to earth gently last evening, one landing in Somers, Conn., a few miles southeast of Springfield, Mass., and the other landing in Indian Orchard, just east of Springfield. The voyage of both balloons was comparatively uneventful. At different heights they met varying currents of air, which made their course a zigzag one.

Men Hired to Blow Up Bakery Worcester, Mass., Aug. 30.—Francis Paika, who recently started a bakery here, has discovered a plot to blow up his place by means of a bomb. Paika's bakery has been a success from the start, and a competitor for the trade of rye bread eaters hopes to get him out of the way by destroying the building. according to Paika, who says he has found two men who confessed that they had each been paid $15 by an enemy to blow his place up. They will now act as witnesses for him.

Alleged Mail Car Thief

Boston, Aug. 30.-Charged with breaking into a mail car and stealing a suit case containing a suit of clothes and a United States mail pouch, Herbert Lakeman, aged 26, was arrested here. His home is in South Boston, and, according to police records, he has served sentences in the house of correction and state prison for robbery.

BRIDGE COLLAPSED

Workmen on Great Structure Had No Time to Escape

OVER FOUR SCORE DEAD

Drowned Like Rats In a Trap When They Were Dragged Down Into St. Lawrence River Amid Tangle of Twisted Iron and Steel

Quebec, Aug. 30.—The great Quebec bridge collapsed late yesterday after noon and now the vast mass of stee work lies in a tangled wreck across the St. Lawrence channel. A careful estimate places the loss of life at 84.

The bridge fell at exactly 5:23 o'clock last evening, just as many of the workmen were preparing to leave. The accident was so terrible in its effective ness in wiping out the lives of the men employed that very little is known as to the cause of the disaster.

The bridge was about a mile and a half in length, and half of it, from the south shore to midstream, crumpled up and dropped into the water. Ninety men were at work on this section of the structure and the whistle had just blown for the men to leave off work for the day when there came a grinding sound from the bridge at midstream. The men turned to see what had happened and an instant later the cry went up "the bridge is falling."

The men made a rush shoreward, but the distance was too great for them to escape. The fallen section of the bridge dragged others after it, the snapping girders and cables booming like a crash of artillery. Terror lent fleetness to the feet of the frightened workmen as they sped shoreward, but only a few of them reached safety before the last plece of ironwork on the south shore was dragged into the river. Near the coat, Sr., formerly of this city, and shore the wreckage of the bridge did not go below the surface of the water and eight workmen who remained above water were rescued and taken to a hospital.

The steamer Glenmont had just cleared the bridge when the first section fell. The water thrown up by the de bris came clear over the bridge of the steamer. The captain at once lowered boats. The small boats plied backward and forward over the sunken wreckage for half an hour, but there was no sign of life.

The twisted iron and steel had its victims in a terrible death grip. A few floating timbers and the broken strands of the bridge toward the north shore were the only signs that anything unusual had happened. There was not a ripple on the surface of the river.

The southern extension of the bridge which collapsed was rapidly nearing the zenith of the immense ste which was to span the river. For 600 feet from the shore the massive steel structure reared an arch with no sup ports save the piers from the shore and one pier in the river about 150 feet from the shore, while the outward extremity was 180 feet above the water. The end of the half arch bent down a trifle and a moment later the whole enormous fabric began to give way slowly at first, then with a terrific crash which was plainly heard in Que bee and which shook the whole coun tryside so that the inhabitants rushed out of their houses thinking that an earthquake had occurred.

Of the 92 men working on the bridge, eight have so far been recovered alive Of the other 84, 16 have been taken from the water dead, and it is feared that all the others, or most of them have either been drowned or crushed by the falling girders.

The horror of the situation was increased by the fact that there were a number of wounded men pinned in the wreckage near the shore. Their groans and shrieks could be plainly heard by the anxious crowds who were waiting at the water's edge, but nothing could be done to rescue them or relieve their sufferings. There were no searchlights available and by the feeble light of lanterns it was impossible to even locate some of the sufferers.

Nothing is known of the cause of the disaster. There was nothing of an untoward nature reported that could give the slightest indication during the past few days that the huge structure was 9.00 A.M., Portland at 5.30 P.M., same days, in a dangerous condition. It was built on such immense lines that it did not seem possible that it could break down. Whether it was caused by a defect in the materials or by an error in the calculations of the engineers is a mere matter of conjecture. The Quebec bridge was begun about seven years ago and it was to be finished in 1909. Subsidies had been granted by the federal and provincial governments and the city of Quebec and the estimated cost of the work was $10,000,000.

The bridge was remarkable in that it was to be the longest single-span cantilever bridge in the world, the length of the span in the center being 1800 feet, or 200 feet longer than that of the Firth bridge, at present the world's longest single bridge span. There has been no bridge across the St. Lawrence below Montreal. The contract was let for the erection of the stone work to M. P. Davis & Co., and for the iron work to the Phoenix Iron company of Phoenixville. The plans call for two approach spans of 220 feet each, two anchor spans of 500 feet each, and a center span of 1800 feet from center to center of the piers,

Navy Department Favors Idea of Making Famous Frigate Station Sho at Annapolis, Where She "Can Be Properly Cared For"

Washington, Aug. 30 .- Protests against the removal of the frigate Constitution from the Boston navy yard have been received by Acting Secretary Newberry of the navy department from Governor Guild of Massachusetts and Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston. Newberry replied that there is no occasion willing to have the work for the Boston navy yard turned away on account of the anchorage space taken by the pleaded not guilty and was remanded to

Plans for restoring the Constitution to the active list and assigning her to Annapolis as station ship and flagship of the superintendent of the navai academy were discussed at a conference at the navy department yesterday between Newberry and the superintendent of the naval academy, Captain Badger. Assurance was given by Badger that there was an abundance of room in the barbor for Old Ironsides, and that she could be given an anchorage easily accessible to visitors.

It is proposed that the Constitution shall take the place of the Santee as the station ship at Annapolis, the lat- affords." This was undoubtedly a refter having been dropped from the active list. There will be a full set of of ficers and a crew which will man joint ly the three best known fighters of the navy-the Constitution, Hartford and Olympia. The effort will be made to restore to these ships as much of their original armament and equipment as can be found in the collection now preserved wounded his wife, seriously wounded at the various navy yards of the coun-

"Of curred in the hotel dining room during course, the Constitution is no more in the dinner hour. Gravatt was well-tothe way at the navy yard than is the do. navy yard in the way," said the acting secretary. "It is merely a question of whether the Boston yard is to become an important plant or not. There are several thousand working people in Boston who are interested in the future of that yard and whose livelihood depends upon its activity.

"Our desire is to build up the Boston yard until it shall be second only to the yard at New York. This is absolutely impossible if the whole of the waterfront, which is none too long, is not utilized. We need the waterfront now yard is to be developed in accordance with our plans. We are constantly re celving requests that more repair work be done at the Boston yard; there has been talk of constructing a battleship there, and it is probable that one of the new colliers will be built there, provided the whole waterfront can be used.

nation it has seemed eminently fitting that she should be stationed at Annapolis, the home of the navy, where she can be properly cared for. I believe when it is understood that the plan is to restore this historic fighter to the active list the whole country will appreclate the appropriateness of the plan." Captain Badger has this to say: "I think it most appropriate that we bring "Old Ironsides' back to the cradle of the navy, there to render her honor that as the guest of honor at the most brill is due her by restoring her to the active list. She will serve a very great purpose there in the midst of the future officers of the navy and I am inclined to believe that the people of Boston would be only too glad to assist us in instilling ing evil doers to justice.

A NEW METAL ALLOY.

Vanadium Steel Said to Possess Remarkable Qualities. Vanadium steel is the latest naval experiment, and at various navy yards and gun shops experiments are being made which are watched with keen interest from Washington to ascertain Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock the peculiar qualities of the new alloy. All sorts of claims are made for this metal. It is said to be the toughest of steels as well as the hardest, it can be wrought under the hammer, and it rolls and presses like the softest of Swedish iron, and the reduction to a minimum of the number of annealings required by large pieces of fabrication is an important element of economy.

These are the principal claims which the navy department is trying to sift out. So far it has succeeded rather unexpectedly in producing an alloy so hard that no ordinary tool will touch it, which should make it especially valuable for the teeth of cutters and machine tools generally. There is also a suggestion that such hard metal might make a good face for armor plate. But it is suspected of brittleness in this condition, a fatal defect, and an effort is to be made to unite it with a soft and tough steel backing, making the armor correspond with the present face hardened armor.

The outdoor air will enable him to assimilate large amounts.

Milk and eggs are the best foods to produce fats, which are most necessary to the patient. The author advocates three solid meals a day, with lunches between of milk and eggs, about three quarts of milk and six eggs a day being taken. Fresh meats are especially necessary for these patients, but a mixed diet is undoubtedly the best. Meat juice is valuable. Pastry, candy, fried foods and cabbage should be let alone. This expert made many discoveries of underground water supplies in Germany, and the home government accordingly determined to utilize his services in the colony, where the need of water is pressing. It was stated that he was successful in but one place, a valley where a chalk formation contained a great deal of water and wells would have been successful if driven anywhere.

OLDEST CITY'S FIRST FAIR. Everything From Prize Pigs to Persimmons Competing.

St. Augustine, Fla., the oldest city in the United States, is to hold her first county fair in November. An excellent committee is in direct charge and is devoting much time to the work. The people generally are taking an intense interest in the approaching fair, and a splendid exhibition of St. Johns county products will be displayed. Hastings, with its diversified farming, will alone make an exhibit that will be a revelation to every one. Blooded stock is raised in various parts of the county, and the owners are already grooming them for the dis play. The north end of the county will send sheep, the middle section cattle and all sections poultry and thorough bred hogs. Vegetables and grain of al most every variety will form an inter esting feature of the exhibits, says the Florida East Coast Homeseeker. Or anges, peaches, figs, grape fruit, pears, guavas, plums, persimmons and dozens of other varieties of fruits will swell the array of exhibits. It is impossible to enumerate the various fruits and vegetables that flourish on the farms of this fertile county, and it is safe to predict that the display will surprise even those familiar with the resources of the county.

Cigars manufactured in St. Augustine will contribute largely to the Industrial exhibit. While the ancient city is not widely known as a cigar center, it has a number of factories whose products are not excelled by the choicest imported goods.

The forests will also be called upon to add to the success of the fair. Furniture made from the hard woods will show the wealth that abounds in the wilderness

Prizes will be awarded, as is custom ry in other places on like occasions and there will be a keen rivalry for the same at this first county fair ever attempted in St. Johns county, and it will undoubtedly be rich in results, by stimulating the agriculture, live stock raising and manufacturing with in its borders.

MILLIONS IN A RAZOR.

Possession of Ancient Implement May Mean Right to Rich Estate.

W. J. Anderson, who arrived at New York recently from Colon, Panama and Kingston, Jamaica, told a story of an estate worth several millions which he may inherit through the possession of a razor, says the New York Herald. Mr. Anderson comes from Columbus, O., and is of Scottish descent. The story of a mysterious estate in Ireland has been handed down in the family for several generations, but trace of it was lost years ago. With the story has been identified the razor, which has been handed down in the Anderson family from father to son for about 200 years. The final purpose, according to the tradition, is to have the razor identify its owner as the heir to the estate. Several months ago Mr. Anderson saw an advertisement in a New York newspaper for heirs to an Anderson that is on the records of the English chancery court. He believes he is the sole heir to this property. Mr. Anderson said he had been at work on the Panama canal construction as an engineer since March and the estate.

Will Kansas Swedes Hearken to Oscar? We cannot refrain from smiling when we think of the Swedes up along the Republican river between Concordia, Kan., and Republic City reading King Oscar's invitation, request or command to Swedes in this country to come home to their native land to help build it up, comments the Concordia Kansan. We can see some of them reading Oscar's talk while sitting on the front porch of a three story modern dwelling, steam heat, hot and cold water arrangements, with private gas for lighting purposes, icehouse in the rear, peach and apple trees for lawn decorations and a herd of Poland-Chinas or Durocs for barnyard embelishments, with a sea of corn and alfalfa for landscape-oh, yes, we can imagine them selling their automobiles, ripping up their rural mail boxes, tearing the phone down off the wall, throwing the cat out of doors, shooting the dog and taking the next train for Sweden in response to the invitation of King Oscar. Why, if Oscar had one of those fine farms in Norway or Beaer township he wouldn't go back to Sweden either.

REMOVED AT LAST.

The Figures Did Not Appear In th Final Set of Drawings.

A candidate for the royal enginee some years ago was told by . his in structor to draw up the plans and spec ifications for a railway viaduct to con nect two high hills, between which Long term rates furnished on applicaran a small stream.

In due course an excellent set of drawings was presented, one showing the bridge in its completion, with sketch of the surroundings, and or which sat two men, with their leg hanging over the side, fishing. Th drawing was returned with the reques that the men be removed from the bridge.

Upon receiving the paper the second time the professor discovered that his instructions had been carried out, but that the two men were seated on the bank of the stream, still in quest of representatives of the finny tribe.

Again was the paper returned, and this time with positive orders to re move the men from the drawing alto gether. Imagine the consternation which overspread the features of the learned instructor upon receiving the papers for a third time to find two little graves and tombstones with ap propriate epitaphs situated near the bank of the stream. His orders ha been obeyed and the men removed al together.-London Answers.

Sandy and the Mare.

A Scottish paper tells a story of San dy Mc-, a Forfarshire farmer who had been spending an hour or two in the evening with a friend a couple of miles away. It was a moonlight night and Sandy, after partaking freely of his friend's hospitality, was ridin quietly home across the sheep pasture on his "guid auld mare," when they came to an open ditch, which his mar refused to cross.

"Hoot awa, Maggie," said the rider "this winna dae. Ye maun jist gans

He turned back about 100 yards wheeled round and gave the mare touch of his whip. On she went at brisk canter, but as they reached the edge of the ditch she stopped dead an shot Sandy clean over to the othe

Judge Cook Objects to Agreement With Pickpockets

The continued cases of Harry Stone and Edward Murphy, the two alleged pickpockets, came up in court this morning on continuance. There were two complaints against Stone, one for attempting larceny and one for assault on an officer. The complaint against Murphy was for vagrancy. A number of witnesses were present including several inspectors from

J. W. McAnarney represented the defendants and City Solicitor Thomas looked after the government cases. The cases were reached shortly after 9 o'clock. It was announced then that the counsel and government were trying to arrange matters so that possibly a trial would not be necessary. They kept the court on the bench for an hour and a half. Then they announced that an agreement had been reached. This was that the two defendants should enter a .plea of guilty and a fine imposed.

Judge Cook, who was on the bench, would not agree to this. In giving his ruling the court said "The counsel have come to an agreement among themselves whereby the defendants shall plead guilty and they have agreed to the amount of fine to be imposed. I can not approve of this. The public have some rights. This is an important matter in which the public of the Commonwealth in general have an interest. It is not a good precedent to settle cases in this way. You can go on with the hearing

After some further discussion was agreed that a continuance should be made until Sept. 14, and the court

After court it was said that the fines agreed upon were that Stone should pay a fine of $200 for attempt at larceny, and $50 for assault on an officer, and that Murphy should pay a fine of $50 for vagrancy.

The ruling of the court in upsetting the agreement of counsel was in the nature of a rebuke that will meet with the approval of the public who are opposed to having cases of this kind so easily disposed of.

Chief Burrell does not think that the Police department is entitled to the rebuke it received at the hands of Judge Cook. He says that the case was seriously thrashed out in the back room before the agreement was reached, and that it was only agreed to settling the case as proposed

He further said of the police had been unable to prove its case against the men they would have been turned loose with no record against them. But if they should enter a plea of guilty then there would be a record against the men which could be used with good effect in other places, consent to the agreement.

Just how strong a case the Quincy police have against the men is not known. City Solicitor Thomas, however, in asking for the continuance stated that new evidence had come to him this morning. The Nahant case against Stone, for larceny of a dimond pin from Elias Clark, was heard before the Nahant court yesterday and he was held in $2,000 for the superior court.

Probably Hultman And Sandberg Again

The present indications are that there will be an abundant supply of candidates seeking the nomination for Representative especially in the sixth district, comprising Wards Four, Five and Six.

Representative Sandberg who has served two terms would like too represent the city on Beacon Hill for another winter, although it is said that he agreed last year to withdraws in favor of ex-Councilman Gassett. if: he should run. That gentleman is not now a resident of Quincy so that he is out of the race, and Mr. Sandberg does not consider that he inbound by any promise. Promising: candidates are ex-Councilman Louiss-F. R. Langelier and Councilman Geo. F. Sawyer, Jr., while Ex-Councilman John Moir and Ex-Representatives

Frank E. Badger are mentioned. Ward Five also has two or threecandidates, including Councilman Walter S. Pinkham, ex-Councilman E. E. Jameson and Herbert T. Whitman has said that he would like too represent the city if it is the wishhood the citizens of the district.

So much for the Republicans A's for the Democrats there is no questin but what Councilman Combs: will be the party candidate for the district from Ward Six, while in Ward Four it is possible that ex-Conneilman Flaherty may again enter the

In the Fifth district, comprising Wards One, Two and Three, it is: generally conceded that Representative Hultman will again be a candidate, and as far as known, there is no opposition to him. Among the Democrats it is rumored that Cuncilman Donovan may be the party standard hearer in the contest. If he desires the nomination there iss but little doubt but he can get it. Ward Two where Mr. Donovan resides is getting to be quite a Democratic stronghold.

Bean of Roman Catholic Clergy In America Passes On

Archbishop Williams, a Native of Boston, Labored Long In That City and Became Head of Followers of His Faith In New England

Boston, Aug. 31.-Death came last night to Most Rev. John J. Williams, archbishop of the Boston diocese, dean of the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic church in America and for a generation or more the spirited head of that faith in New England.

Following a recent visit at Lake Hemlock, Rochester, at the summer home of Bishop McQuade of that diocese, the venerable Boston prelate was taken seriously ill with stomach trouble. This, with complications that would naturally result in so aged a patient, gradually became worse.

Although some announcement of the archbishop's illness had been made earlier in the week, it was not until yesterday afternoon that alarm was publicly expressed regarding his condi-

The last sacraments of the church were administered yesterday by Rev. Dr. Mullen, the rector of the cathedral. After this ceremony the archbishop was annointed.

In the early evening it was announced that the archbishop's condition was very low and that his demise was only a matter of hours. From then on he gradually passed away, dissolution being so gradual that the attending physicians were not positive of the very moment when the end came. It was between 8:50 and 9 o'clock.

At the prelate's bedside there were present when Archbishop Williams died many prominent clergymen, including Bishop Allen of Mobile, Rt. Rev. Mgr. O'Callahan of South Boston and Rev. Dr. Mullen.

Archbishop Williams was born in this city April 27, 1822. He began his studies at the Cathedral Parochial school here and completed them in Montreal. He took a course in theology at the seminary of St. Sulpice in Paris and was ordained priest in 1845 in that city. He returned to Boston almost immediately and began his work in the priesthood as assistant rector at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, which position he held until 1855, when he was made rector. Two years later he went to St. James' church, also of this city, but returned to the cathedral in 1866 as bishop of Boston. He was created archbishop when the see became metropolitan in 1875.

When Williams undertook the direction of the affairs of the church in this city the denomination was weak in numbers and the remarkable growth | trix, since that time was largely due to the work of organization he planned.

The infirmities of age made it necessary three years ago to have an assistant appointed and Rev. Dr. O'Connell, bishop of Portland, was elevated to the position of archbishop coadjutor. O'Connell succeeds the deceased prelate as the head of the archdiocese.

Since O'Connell's appointment Willfams has appeared seldom in public, except on important occasions, and during the past few months he had been feeble, although not suffering from any organic disease.

Following the announcement of Archbishop Williams' death the news was spread abroad by the tolling of the city's fire alarms, a mark of respectful honor seldom given. The electric bells in all the stations of the fire department and the newspaper offices tapped 85 times simultaneously with the bells and whistles on the engine houses in the outlying districts of the city. . .

Commercial Activity Maintained

New York, Aug. 31.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says that in most sections of the country commercial activity is fully maintained. and negotiations for fall and winter trade indicate no loss of confidence, but at a few points the weather has not favored the crops, which causes conservatism pending more definite information. Several New England mills lack adequate water power because of prolonged drought and the money market retards numerous undertakings.

It will be awarded the Hilton trophy. Ohio finished third. with a score of 3368, and its team will receive a bronze statue. The United States cavalry team was fourth, the Washington team fifth and the naval cadets sixth. The latter three teams will receive cash prizes and a medal.

Fell From Cab Into River Woonsocket, R. I., Aug. 31 .- J. Donovan, aged 23, fell from the cab of a locomotive of which he was fireman, while it was crossing a long bridge just above Blackstone Junction last night. He struck the bridge, being probably instantly killed, and fell 50 feet below to the Blackstone river. The engineer was unaware of the accident for some seconds after the locomotive left the

CRASH ON A CURVE

Fifteen Killed and Fifty Injured on an Electric Road

Mattoon, Ills., Aug. 31.-Fifteen persons were killed and about 50 injured in a head-on collision between an Interurban express train, consisting of a motor car and a trailer, and a traction car at a sharp curve near Charleston. A confusion of orders received over the telephone is said to have been the cause of the accident.

The cars approached each other at high speed and the impact was so terrible that the motor car and the trailer were telescoped by the traction car. Few passengers had time to escape by jumping. Most of the passengers were going to the Coles county fair at Charleston. Several of the injured may

Doctors and citizens who hurried from Charleston to the scene of the disaster dragged the dead and injured from the broken mass of timbers and seats, and gave first aid to the maimed. The dead were laid alongside the track. The victims could not be taken to Charleston because the track was blocked in that direction and the relief car from Mattoon was awaited.

The line on which the disaster happened is 12 miles long, running between Mattoon and Charleston, Ills. and has but a single track. Telephones are placed every two miles for orders to be transmitted to the electric cars passing over the road.

Following Bigger's Example.

Copyrighted, 1907, by Mary McKeon.

Temple slipped off his coat and threw it beside the camera case, with a "Watch it" to the white bulldog that sat gravely at the foot of the tree.

Bigger exhibited his teeth in a smile intended to be pleasant and stretched himself out beside the case on the soft mat of pine needles. The walk to the falls had not tired him, but he was well content to lie on the fragrant carpet and doze and dream of cats on fences that were always low enough to bring the feline prey within his reach and of a succession of canine battles in which he was always the vic tor. At heart Bigger was a child of peace. It was only in his dreams that

Here and there through the woods a locust shrilled and the air was vibrant with the song of birds and the soft hum of insect life. Dick Temple had picked out a clump of pines in which to make his camp, and through the leafy aisles Bigger could command a view of the deeper woods beyond and the little river that wound its way through the forest, marking with a tint of more vivid green the undergrowth

Down the wind came the faint roar of falling waters where the stream plunged forty feet over the black stones to dance in very joy at the foot of the falls before taking up its course to the river beyond.

Temple had long ago exhausted the photographic possibilities of the falls and departed in the direction of downstream, but the footfalls that roused Bigger from a dream of conquest came from the other way, and Bigger looked up just as the sunlight glinted upon the golden hair and the scarlet coat of a slender girl who under other circumstances would have excited Bigger's entire approval.

From the crown of the golden head to the tip of the dainty russet shoe she was a patrician, one of Bigger's very own sort. If there were bench shows for humans, surely she must be possessed of as many blue ribbons as there were in his own particular cabinet at home.

This being the case, it seemed strange to Bigger that she should share in common with the trampish characters a desire for his master's property, and he emitted a low growl of polite warn-

"I shall have to wait for Reggie," she said, "and he'll be really angry at Dana? you if you spoil his chance of getting that view. He's going back to town tomorrow, and he will not have another opportunity."

Bigger preserved a discreet silence. He was too gallant to argue a point with a woman. As long as she remained quiet he had nothing to say. For half an hour she sat there in silence broken only by the chatter of the squirrels and the hum of the summer noises; then there was a crashing sound in the underbrusk, and Bigger pricked up his ears, while the girl roused herself to

"Here I am, Reggie!" she called. "Under the pines by your camera! There's a horrid dog here, and he won't let me go." A loud, clear whistle sounded, but

Bigger only growled a protest against obedience and clung to his captive. A moment later Temple burst through the alders that fringed the stream. The girl's face turned crimson. "If this is your dog," she said, with girl stared at him in astonishment, an he, guessing her thoughts, looked up.

"Permit me to introduce myself," ha said, holding up the case. She read the name "Richard Temple" on the silver plate and blushed in confusion "My brother, Mr. Storms, has the same sort of case," she explained. "He sent me for more plates, and I thought that these were his and that the dog had strayed."

"Storms?" he said musingly. "You must be Miss Mildred Storms, who is staying over at the Beechman farm?

The girl nodded, and Temple smile "I think I can solve the mystery," h said. "You took the wrong road from the falls. Had you turned to the left instead of the right you would have come to a very similar clump of pines where, no doubt, your brother's case lies. You can't blame Bigger, can you?" "He is a dear old faithful." she declared, with foregiveness. "And a perfect gentleman," she added. "He would not bite. He just held me until you came to explain the mistake. I should like to know him better." "With your permission we will call" he suggested. "Your brother and I belong to the same camera club in town,

I did not know that you were his sister. I can take you a short cut to the other clump of pines, and we'll take the plates to him. Storm's was kneeling over his case as they came up. "I came and got the plates," he explained when their own explanation had been offered and proper introductions accomplished. "I knew you couldn't get very far away, and I did want that picture with the light on the wet rocks. Come over this evening, Temple, and I'll show you my negatives. I go back to town in the morn-

Temple took Bigger over to call that evening and many evenings thereafter. Mildred became his assistant in his photographic trips, but now Bigger only smiled amiably when she came after the plates. It was while they were eating lunch the last day of Temple's stay that she patted the dog's white head and looked up.

"Do you know," she said, "I think that dogs take after their masters." "As you early gave Bigger a certificate of good character, I feel flattered," he said, with a laugh. "But I do think so," she insisted.

"Sometimes their masters take after the dogs," he insisted. "Now, when I first saw you Bigger had fast hold of "I don't see what you mean," she

A vote of censure on O'Connell, which was moved by Lord Maidstone, was carried by a majority of nine.

A few days later a curious scene was witnessed in the house. Plans Drawn Up For Overcoming Distinctions Which Have Long Exfisted Between the Races--Foot-B nding Among Females to Stop

Pekin, Aug. 31.-With the arrival of Yuan Shi Kai, commander-in-chief of the Chinese forces, there began in the summer palace yesterday an unusual series of deliberations concerning the condition of the empire. The downger empress has assembled her most important and influential advisers, and the arrival of Viceroy Chang Shi Tung, who came on a pilgrimage from Hanhow, was surrounded with secrecy.

The imperial family believes, and the government fears, that the Chinese race is bent upon unseating the Manchus. The Chinese imperial family is of Manchu origin. All the previous devices adopted by the throne to remove the existing distinctions between Chinese and Manchu having failed, the throne now contemplates the amalgamation of the two races, and this purpose led the throne-recently to call for suggestions from the memorialists. These came in, and a course of action disbandment of the Manchu banner the regular army; second, the daughters of Chinamen of the upper class will be eligible to marry into the imperial family, and this promises a fu ture Chinese-Manchu emperor; third, Chinese females will no longer be per mitted to bind up their feet, and this will remove the difference in the appearance between Chinese and Manchu women; and fourth, Manchus will be required to take surnames like Chinamen. The government hopes that within 10 years the two races will be Indistinguishable.

The recent comet was a subject of anxious discussion at yesterday's meeting, and the court is disturbed on ac count of the universal belief that comets presage revolution.

The dowager empress is failing rapidly. She has suffered two apopletic shocks in the past two years and her vitality clearly is lessening. The fail ing of the empress' health has been accompanied during the last days of her reign by the unusual occurrence of a kaleidoscopic recast of the department of state, as well as a resolution to prepare China for a constitution and the first participation in the government of an electorate.

Furthermore, the downger empres contemplates wide-reaching and fundamental changes in the metropolitan government. She plans to change the grand secretarial, which has been distitute of power since the days of the Ming dynasty, into a modern cabinet and to rescue the throne from promiscuous advisors.

Daniel Webster and other easterners strongly opposed the acquisition of the Oregon country. Webster held that all the country beyond the Rockies was barren desert, worthless wilderness, and made some comments on the worthlessness of that region which look like hilarious humor today. But Webster was serious. He knew little or nothing of the great west beyond worthlessness of that region which look like hilarious humor today. But Stewart. Express Auto Takes Fire

-Joseph L. Whiton, Jr.

A leak in the gasoline tank on Clement's North Weymouth express auto, caused the car to take fire this morning when near the Quincy Point bridge. Quite a blaze was started and an alarm was sounded at $3.34 from Box 76. The fire was quickly extinguished.

When the alarm sounded Combinaznation No. 1, was at President's bridge where it had been called on a still atlarm to extinguish a fire.

Driver Faircloth telephoned to the Wollaston apparatus to come up and Book after the bridge fire. He then dirove to Box 76.

Milford and Hopedale Object To Yellow

Journalism

The people of Milford don't take kindly to the vitriolic and indecent attacks of the Hearst papers upon Hopedale and the Draper Company. The latter town was formerly a part of Milford and many of its citizens are employes at the Draper works, and they resent the malicious slanders that have been heaped upon them within the past year.

The Milford News, a Democratic newspaper, under date of August 19, 1907, referring to the recent annual festival of the employes of the Draper Co., at Hopedale, reflects the lowing interesting observations of the event:

"The slaves are free today." As a representative of this paper was wandering about Hopedale Saturday taking in the sights of that joyous holiyoung men, evidently strangers, one of whom voiced the foregoing remark. The newspaper man scanned the speaker's countenance sharply but could catch not a tremor to tell whether the utterance was in jest or earnest. It was based, of course, upon the Hearst diatribes on spotless town; and as the Hearst paper made no reference to the doings of the great holiday, it must be plain that the author of the remark was not a scribe in its employ-or else he could not find food for the mud

As slaves, owned body and soul by the Drapers, it must appear that the Hopedale residents possess a rare faculty of casting off the yoke on their great holiday. The immense crowd in attendance on this festal occasion presented a truly cosmopolitan aspect, as to nationality. All nations and orders of society were represented in the vast throng that plunged into the pleasures of the hour with hearty zest. It was also apparent that many of them were attracted from other places more or less remote from Hopedale, and it between the victims of the Draper who are clear of serfdom.

The affair was in reality a festival of labor. Those in charge of the exercises were employes of this great juggernaut of oppression for the working man. It is doubtful if any industrial concern in New England, if, indeed, in the United States, can parallel the annual festival of the great Draper works. If any one totally unacquainted with the character of the occasion or with the environment surrounding it had happened to drop into the little town on that day and witnessed the exuberance of joy that shone on the multitude of faces, he would have been put to his stumps to guess what was behind and underneath it. But if he had chanced to read some of flaring cuts, which statedly appears in the Hearst papers, he would-well, he might call, to mind the story of

*卡*拳拳拳拳拳拳拳拳拳拳拳拳拳拳拳拳拳拳拳拳

Most small towns are short of young men. As a rule there are plenty of agreeable girls who would not object to matrimony; there are plenty of old people and enough babies to go around. But the boy-oh, where is

The boy, the young man, has gone to the city, where he imagines there are opportunities. To him the old home town is dull and stupid. He sees no future for himself there. Both for social and financial considerations he rushes off to the great city. Very frequently he finds that he is lonesomer there than at home—nearly always so; and even more frequently he finds that riches do not grow on ten story walls.

BUT STILL HE GOES TO THE CITY.

In going there the boy simply follows his daddy's dollars. For years his daddy and his mother and his big sister and his Aunt Mary Ann have been mailing their money to the big city for Mail Order bargains.

> Result: Home merchants don't thrive, grass grows in the streets, no jobs are to be had, no opening for a new business, and the young man goes to the city because it is a place where people have traded at home and built up their own community and provided opportunities for outsiders as well as for themselves.

IF YOU WANT TO KEEP YOUR BOY AT HOME BUILD UP YOUR TOWN SO THAT HE CAN BUILD UP HIS CAREER AMONG HIS HOME FOLKS.

A Soft Answer.

Two sisters while visiting in Ireland got into conversation one day with a head, and Jack began to pray: tenant of their hostess. One of the girls, who is quite stout, asked the old them for sisters.

"Well," was the answer, "ye look alike, but yer sister's slender, while you, miss-well, you favor the quane."

FREEDOM.

Is true freedom but to break Fetters for our own dear sake And, with leathern hearts, forget That we owe mankind a debt? No; true freedom is to share All the chains our brothers wear And, with heart and hand, to be Earnest to make others free.

They are slaves who fear to speak For the fallen and the weak. They are slaves who will not choose Hatred, scoffing and abuse Rather than in silence shrink From the truth they needs must think. They are slaves who dare not be In the right with two or three.

Forbidden Fruit Is Sweet.

Rev. Madison C. Peters, the New York clergyman, told this story to a group of young men: "I was strolling one one spring morning in a beautiful park when I said to one of the guards, 'Look here, why do you have "Keep off the grass" signs all over the park? You don't seem to enforce the rule. 'No, sir,' said the guard. 'The object of the sign is to cause the people to more thoroughly enjoy being on the

"Be jabers, no." "Well, I must say that's the very best part of your life lost."

A few minutes later a sudden squall arose, and the boat capsized. Pat began to swim. The Britons, however, could not swim, and both called loudly to Pat to help them.

"Do you know anything about swim ology?" asked Pat. "No," answered both,

"Well, be jabers, then both of your lives is lost!"

No Doubt of It.

The lesson was from the "Prodigal Son," and the Sunday school teacher was dwelling on the character of the elder brother. "But amid all the rejoicing," he said, "there was one to whom the preparation of the feast brought no joy, to whom the prodigal's return gave no pleasure, but only bitterness; one who did not approve of the feast being held and had no wish to attend it. Now, can any of you tell who this was?"

"Please, sir, it was the fatted calf!" cried several in chorus.

Entertainment For Englishmen. Two American girls invited two Eng lishmen to visit them at their country home in America. One day a me's sage came saying the two men would arrive that afternoon. The family was thrown into a fever of excitement, and many plans of entertainment were sug gested. It was finally decided that, as Englishmen are notoriously fond of a "tub" and their guests were coming di rectly from the train, they should first be invited to take a bath. The young men arrived promptly and, after some demurring, were hurried off to the bathroom. In about an hour they emerged and went immediately to the hostess, saying, "We are sorry to leave so soon, but we only came to make a call and our train leaves in fifteen min- law I took a case for a client involvutes."-Lippincott's.

More Than Enough.

An eight-year-old boy went to a church picnic and, being a favorite with the ladies, had been liberally supplied with good things to eat. Later in the day one of the ladies noticed the boy sitting near a stream with a woebegone expression on his face and his hands clasped over his stomach. "Why, what's the matter, Willie?"

she kindly asked. "Haven't you had enough to eat?" "Oh, yes'm," said the boy. "I've had enough. I feel as though I don't want all I've got."

You have delivered a speech for the prosecution which was an exhibition of the man's conceit. When he was through, Lincoln rose slowly to his feet and addressed the court as follows:

"Your honor, my colleague, who has just delivered this brilliant exhibition of oratory, reminds me of a little flat bottom steamboat that way back in the fifties used to pull up and down the Mississippi. It had a five foot boiler and an eleven foot whistle, and every time it whistled it stopped."

Waiting For a Jury to Grow.

"I have a case still pending in a south Georgia justice court that has been there since 1879," remarked Judge Spencer R. Atkinson, former justice of the supreme court, to a group of friends at the capitol.

"Soon after I began the practice of ing a verbal contract for building a log cabin. The amount involved was less than $100, so suit was brought in the justice court of the little country district where the defendant, the owner of the log cabin, lived. General Bartlett has now placed himself squarely against the merger of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad with the Boston and Maine system, and declares that if a bill embodying this proposition were enacted by the legislature, he would, if sitting in the office of governor, veto it. This places him squarely in opposition to the position of Henry M. Whitney. Quincy Young Man En Route to Alaska

Thorpe Babcock, son of Walter T. Babcock of Quincy, who has just left Seattle on his way to Alaska, writes enthusiastically of the place, saying, "This is certainly a wonderful city. We walked over a portion of the hili upon which it is built and saw some of the most beautiful residences you can imagine. Only a short distance from the centre of operations, but out of the noise, and high enough to overlook the whole city and beyond into the Sound, and perhaps on a clear day still further to the Pacific. Hose Co. "Seattle seems to be a city of young men. There are no real old firms like most of the Boston houses. Of lips street is at the Broadview, Milcourse most of the people here have come from somewhere in the east some time within the last decade, but the other night we had the pleasure of meeting one of the pioneer families. The mother of some of the present generation was one of the first white families to arrive here and settle. She told about being brought to this place by the Indians in a canoe. Where now are located large business blocks and office buildings, there was then a dense forest. What could have then been had for the asking now sells for

THE ORPHEUM.

Boston's home of advanced vaude ville, the Orpheum, will open for the season on Monday matinee Labor Day Sept. 2d, with an unprecedented bill Mary A. (Higgins) Dickie, aged 82 years and of sensational features. During the summer months the Orpheum undergone a complete renovation and patrons of this popular playhouse will see a practically new theatre, spick and span from the efforts of an army of artisans.

The Orpheum's policy of presenting high-class vaudeville will be continued. Vaudeville in its most advanced form as given in the Orpheum last season proved a highly successful venture, and this year amusement seekers will be supplied with the very latest American and European novel ty acts.
